NEW YORK HOSPITAL—Broadway, opposite Pearl Street

Opened for Patients January 3, 1791

TO THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

The Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital respectfully present their Annual Report of the state of the institutions under their charge for the year 1916.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

GOVERNORS OF THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR 1916.

In conformity with the provisions of its Charter, granted by Royal authority, June 13, 1771, in the reign of King George III., the Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital present their Annual Report and a statement showing the receipts and expenditures for the year 1916 of the several institutions under their control and management, as follows:

The Hospital at Fifteenth Street, the House of Relief at Hudson Street, the Department for the treatment of mental diseases, known as Bloomingdale Hospital, and the Convalescent Cottages at White Plains, Westchester County.

The report of the activities of the Society during the one hundred and forty-fifth year of its corporate existence is of more than usual interest. What we accomplished in the year 1915 was, as set forth in the report for that year, the subject for just pride—never before had we been able to give so great an amount of medical and surgical aid, nor in any previous year had our receipts been so large, yet the reports herewith presented show that our activities are still increasing. In each of the four institutions of our Society the number of days of care given is larger than ever before.

The New York Hospital has accomplished this in the face of serious difficulties. It has outgrown its plant so completely that in spite of its use of houses in the neighborhood for nurses and maids, each department suffers from lack of needed space. Yet the block of land purchased some years ago on West Fifty-fourth Street is forbidden territory, since we are unable to guess the outcome of the discussion of the proposed plan for the rearrangement of the New York Central Railroad's tracks or to assure ourselves of the effect on our property of the future changes in the neighborhood of the proposed site, due to this and to other causes. Other plans as to the future of the Hospital have been suggested but as yet have not been seriously discussed, so we are compelled to mark time, doubly grateful that we have been able to be of so large a degree of usefulness under such adverse conditions.

The report of the Superintendent of the Hospital, for which we bespeak a careful examination, gives to you an interesting statement of the details of the increase of cost in hospital management during the past ten years. In every direction has this tendency extended. There is more nursing, more medical and surgical attention, more highly skilled anæsthetization, much more use of the pathological department, more records, more interest in the subsequent history and care of patients who have recovered, all involving a larger expenditure. There are many who remember the amazement which possessed us when years ago we learned that the number of names on the pay-roll of a hospital had come to equal the number of patients in the wards, yet to-day there are 425 names on the pay-roll of our Hospital at Fifteenth Street, while we can only show 270 beds.

In addition to these new expenses, the very great increase in the cost of provisions must not be forgotten. The following comparison is of interest:

	Average Prices Paid in 1906	Average Prices Paid in 1916	Per Cent. Increase
Meats	$.1084 lb.	$.1967 lb.	81
Poultry	.1683 lb.	.2327 lb.	38
Butter	.2383 lb.	.3473 lb.	45
Eggs	.2435 doz.	.3080 doz.	26
Milk	.0394 qt.	.0625 qt.	58
Cream	.30 qt.	.46 qt.	53
Coal	3.50 ton	4.10 ton	17

The Workmen's Compensation Law of 1915 is probably responsible for the new custom of paying salaries to the physicians and surgeons occupying minor positions in the hospital. Of these salaried positions there are 49 in our Hospital. It is not in human nature to see this new sum poured annually into the laps of the hospitals without the rise of a feeling in the medical bosom that a share of it is fairly owing to the young doctor or surgeon who is giving his time to the hospital; so it is not likely that hospital expenses in this direction will decrease in the future.

During the last eight years the total income of the Society increased from $632,287 a year to $838,179 a year, yet in spite of the strictest care and most experienced and able management, the expenses have kept pace with the increase of income.

The report of the Medical Board of the Hospital is a satisfactory assurance of the activity of the hospital service. It is of interest to note that the teaching facilities of the Hospital have been developed and utilized actively. No hospital can feel that it has done its whole duty towards society unless it has offered to medical students and to physicians the greatest opportunity possible consistent with the proper interests of its patients.

The follow-up system, at once preventive and remedial, is one of the developments of the present day most deserving of commendation.

NEW YORK HOSPITAL AS IT APPEARED IN 1869—BROADWAY, OPPOSITE PEARL STREET

NEW YORK SOCIETY LIBRARY

During the summer of 1916, the attending surgeons, Drs. Gibson and Pool, spent some time in France, Dr. Pool being in charge of the branch of the French Hospital in New York City at the Chateau de Passy, Sens. The Medical Board comments on the value of the experience gained by them and calls particular attention to the Carrel method of treating wounds, which is now in operation at the New York Hospital.

During the past year the Medical Board of the Hospital, at the request of the American Red Cross, with the permission of its Governors, organized a base hospital unit now known as Base Hospital No. 9. On a declaration of war, this unit passes under the control of the War Department. Proper arrangements have been made by the Hospital so that its work will not suffer as the result of this evidence of patriotism.

During the year the following changes have taken place in the Board of Governors: Mr. J. Woodward Haven resigned from the Board, and Messrs. R. Horace Gallatin and Walter Jennings were elected to vacancies on the Board.

On January 4th, Miss Minnie H. Jordan was appointed Directress of Nurses in the place of Miss Henderson, whose death was referred to in the last report of the Society.

During the year, Dr. Nellis B. Foster has been appointed Professor of Medicine at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and Dr. J. C. Greenway was appointed Director of the Department of Health of Yale University. This opportunity is taken to express our regret at the loss to the Hospital of their faithful and distinguished services.

In the last twelve months we have received and gratefully acknowledge a gift of $5,000 from Benjamin Robert Winthrop for endowing a bed in memory of his father, Benjamin Robert Winthrop; $5,500 from Payne Whitney to meet the expense incurred by the Society in maintaining the Fifty-ninth Street Branch Hospital; $1,000 from the Silk Association of New York to aid convalescence from cases of infantile paralysis; $555 from Edward W. Sheldon for the expenses of printing an article prepared by him on the Campbell Convalescent Cottages; $500 from an unknown friend, to be used for the pleasure and comfort of children at the Campbell Convalescent Cottages; and $1,000 from Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr.

The epidemic of infantile paralysis in this city last summer caused a degree of alarm which recalls the earlier days of the hospital's existence, when cholera and yellow fever made their all too frequent appearance. There was a real need of hospital beds and of hospital care. The hospital therefore offered to the Department of Health to rent a building and to equip and maintain it as a hospital for patients suffering from this disease. The old buildings of the Orthopædic

Hospital, recently vacated by that organization, had been placed by it at the disposal of the Department of Health. We at once offered to equip and maintain them as a hospital for the treatment of the disease. Within eight days the buildings were fully equipped, and on August 11th the first patients were received. Rarely has any similar work been more rapidly performed. It is proper that formal recognition should be here made of the ability and energy displayed on this occasion by the Superintendent of the Hospital, Dr. Thomas Howell.

Miss Irene Sutliffe, the former Directress of Nurses of the Hospital, abandoned her vacation, volunteered her services and superintended with great ability the operations of the new hospital during its maintenance. Her generous act is another proof of her loyalty shown for so many years.

The medical charge of this emergency work was in the hands of Dr. Roper, Associate Physician, of whose untiring efforts this formal recognition is made by the Governors of the Society.

One of the most important phases of the activities of this hospital was the investigation conducted there by Dr. E. C. Rosenow, of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minnesota. Much interesting information was gained, which it is hoped will aid materially in discovering some cure for the disease.

The ambulance service of the hospital is larger than ever before. The average number of calls on the Fifteenth Street Hospital is twenty-two each day. It is probable that in the near future the City will have to take charge of its ambulance service.

The report of Dr. Russell, the Medical Superintendent of the Department of Mental Diseases at White Plains, known as Bloomingdale, is one which we present with satisfaction. No department of our Society's activities is making more satisfactory progress or doing more valuable work.

It is interesting to observe that patients and their families are appreciating, to a degree never before seen, the advantages of prompt treatment of mental ailments. Bloomingdale is yearly becoming a hospital for earlier cases, and consequently the percentage of recoveries is larger. We are of the opinion that the reputation of Bloomingdale throughout Europe, as well as in this Western hemisphere, is of a nature to be profoundly satisfactory to the people of the State of New York.

The needs of Bloomingdale are very great. We can only mention two of the more important: a recreation building, at a cost of $75,000, would be not merely a source of pleasure to the patients but a positive aid to the recovery of a certain number of them. A building for the women nurses is particularly necessary in a hospital of this kind. The nurses of mental patients need, more than any other, a change of surroundings when off duty. They should not live in the hospital. The very element which makes their training so valuable to them requires at the same time change of scene, for in their cases their vigilance must be unceasing. Such a building would cost $200,000. It is impossible to speak too strongly of the value of such a gift.

The Social Service Department has done valuable work. Its committee has shown such interest and such energy as to be of distinct benefit to the hospital. In the future they should receive more substantial assistance and closer co-operation.

The Campbell Convalescent Cottages, like every other Department of the Society, have done more work this year than ever before. Reference to its Superintendent's report will show the value of its services. It has been said more than once by visitors that while in other institutions of this kind the children may appear perfectly happy, it is rare to find one where their placid air of proprietorship is so manifest.

Such, then, is the condition of the Society during the year 1916. Never before have we given relief to so many sufferers. Never before have so many concomitants of professional knowledge and research been used in connection with their care. Our receipts have never been larger. Our expenses have never been greater. The hospital has outgrown its plant, and we must soon build a new hospital. This will cost at least four millions, and we could make use with advantage of the yearly income of a like amount, to support increased medical and surgical activities, which means better care for the sick of the present day and of future years. These amounts are large, and the times are unpropitious, but the New York Hospital has been an integral part of the life of this metropolis for nearly a century and a half. In wars and in peace, the hospital has done its share to relieve suffering and to educate men to relieve it elsewhere. It was known for the humanity of its treatment to those mentally afflicted at a time when in other places the wretchedness of their condition was beyond belief. Five generations of New Yorkers have served on its Board of Governors, and they have always been men of a type to command the confidence of the public.

For these reasons we feel assured that when we appeal in the near future for large sums, we shall not appeal in vain.

HOWARD TOWNSEND,
President.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL AND THE HOUSE OF RELIEF.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN: The cost of maintaining the New York Hospital in 1916 was $311,535.60 against $293,140.57 in 1915, an increase of $18,395.03. As the receipts were $14,212.01 greater than in 1915 the net increased cost of maintaining the Hospital was $4,183.02.

The cost of maintaining the House of Relief in 1916 was $64,595.69 against $58,033.80 in 1915, an increase of $6,561.89. As the receipts were but $874.54 greater than in 1915 the net increased cost was $5,687.35. As noted elsewhere several fairly expensive improvements were made in this institution during the year, and 1917 may show smaller disbursements.

Our experiences in respect to increased operating costs in recent years are not different from those of other active hospitals. The increase in expenditures is due largely to the fact that hospitals are putting forth their best efforts to improve and extend their service. Their patients are receiving more personal attention than ever before. This wave of enthusiasm for better service coupled, as it has been for several years past with the rising cost of practically all commodities, must of necessity influence hospital costs.

The following statements contrasting certain of our expenditures for the year 1906 with those for the year 1916 will serve to show in part for what hospital money was spent ten years ago and now.

In 1906 there were 278 names on the Hospital payroll. To-day there are 425, an increase of 52 per cent. The expenditure made on behalf of the payroll was 58 per cent. greater in 1916 than it was in 1906. An analysis of the payroll shows that the increase has been entirely in the professional payroll, the administrative payroll being actually less than it was ten years ago.

The nursing payroll (which does not include special nurses paid for by private patients, or Social Service nurses) was 75 per cent. greater than in 1906.

The payroll of the Pathological Department, in spite of material assistance received from Cornell Medical School, increased over 60 per cent. in the same period, and a further substantial increase is planned for next year.

In 1906 we had no Social Service Department, and were doing no follow-up work. When the patients were discharged from the Hospital they were dismissed from our minds. Now we maintain oversight over them for years if their condition requires it. The annual payrolls for these two important branches of the service, together with the cost of maintenance of the workers, amount to a considerable sum.

There are now on the Out-Patient Department payroll the names of forty-nine physicians and eight masseuse. In 1906 we had no paid Out-Patient Staff.

We now have two paid Admitting Physicians who not only receive and assign applicants for admission, but are responsible for the treatment of minor accident cases. No such service was rendered in 1906, this work being left to the internes who were often inexperienced men.

The record systems recently introduced in the Hospital and House of Relief and in the Out-Patient Departments are expensive to maintain, but are considered of great value.

In 1916 the expenditure for the X-Ray Department was $10,339.00, while in 1906 it was only a few hundred dollars.

The Hydriatic and Dental Departments add materially to the professional payroll.

Ten years ago anæsthetics were administered by the interne staff; to-day we have two salaried anæsthetists.

Ten years ago medication for patients was simple and not particularly expensive. To-day there are numerous preparations in common use which are very costly. For instance, we frequently spend in a single month for one drug preparation, salvarsan, $300.00 or $400.00, an amount equivalent to our former entire expenditure for all drugs. The expenditure for drugs in 1916 was 450 per cent. greater than in 1906.

Owing both to deterioration of equipment and to greatly increased demands upon the heat, light and power plant, the consumption of coal has increased about 400 tons a year, and the price of coal has advanced 85 cents a ton.

In order to provide accommodations for the rapidly increasing number of nurses we are now paying an annual rental of $5,800.00 for two residences.

The expenditure for food supplies and other maintenance for the increased number of employes amounts to a considerable sum annually.

The subjoined statistical table shows the average prices paid for various commodities in 1906 and in 1916, together with the percentage increases.

NEW YORK HOSPITAL—WEST FIFTEENTH STREET

Completed 1877

On one item a notable saving was made. In 1906 the number of yards of gauze purchased was 366,000, and the number of operations performed was about 1,600. Last year we purchased 127,000 yards of gauze, and the number of operations performed was about 3,300. Based on present prices for gauze, and disregarding entirely the fact that the number of operations has more than doubled during the past ten years, this would indicate an annual saving of $6,572.00.

OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT.

A new history system was started in this Department. The histories of the patients are now filed numerically in suitable filing cases. In a cross-index file all cases are filed according to the classification given in the Bellevue Nomenclature Book. By means of the system introduced it is hoped to bring the Hospital Wards, Emergency Room, and the Out-Patient Department into closer relationship. The installation of this system necessitated the employment of additional clerks.

NURSING DEPARTMENT.

Miss M. H. Jordan, a graduate of the Class of 1902, who had been Superintendent of the Training School of the French Hospital in Thirty-fourth Street for a number of years, was appointed Directress of Nurses, succeeding Miss Adeline Henderson, deceased. Miss Jordan assumed the duties of the office in March and is giving excellent satisfaction.

It was decided to include in the curriculum training in mental and contagious diseases. In order to give three months' training in each of these branches the length of the course of training was extended from twenty-six months to three years. Through the extension of the course we will be in position to give our pupils training in executive work in charge of Wards.

As our old interior fire alarm system was of an antiquated type and its wiring defective, a new system was installed on an annual rental basis.

A power-driven machine for manufacturing ice cream was purchased.

The new machinery installed in the laundry in 1914 has produced satisfactory results. About 50,000 pieces are now laundered each week.

During the year great difficulty was experienced in obtaining suitable help, both men and women. For this reason it was decided to increase wages paid. The women employes were increased $2.00 per month and men employes $6.00 a month. The wages of porters, orderlies, doormen, elevator men, etc., are now increased five per cent. at the end of each six months' service until a maximum of $50.00 per month is reached.

Owing to the increase in the volume of our telephone work it was decided early in the year to install a two-position switchboard. It had been difficult for some time for one operator to satisfactorily handle the work during the rush hours.

In June, 1916, the New York Hospital entered into an agreement with the State to care for sick and wounded soldiers from the Encampment at Beekman. Forty-two patients were received and cared for. The number would have been much larger had it not been for the fact that the militia was ordered to the Mexican border during the period set apart for the Encampment.

The increase in the consumption of coal from 4,059 tons in 1915 to 4,304 tons in 1916 was due largely to the inferior grade of coal delivered to the Hospital throughout the Spring months when the wage question was being discussed by the operators and the miners. In June the price of buckwheat coal was advanced $0.15 a ton.

Much of the equipment in the engine and boiler rooms is nearly worn out, and steps should be taken at an early date to thoroughly modernize this important Department. With modern equipment it should be possible to materially reduce operating costs.

At the request of the Attending Physicians and Surgeons stenographers were employed for writing histories and assisting with follow-up work. The result has been an improvement in the Ward work, as the internes being relieved of writing histories are able to devote all their time and energies to their professional duties.

BRANCH HOSPITAL FOR POLIOMYELITIS CASES.

Owing to the prevalence of infantile paralysis in the city during the Summer months the Governors in July made an offer to the Department of Health to rent a building, and to equip and maintain it as a hospital for patients ill with this disease. Learning of this offer the authorities of the Corporation of Trinity Church offered to the Hospital, rent free, the school building connected with St. John's Chapel in Varick Street.

About this time the Department of Health called the attention of the Hospital authorities to the old hospital buildings of the New York Orthopædic Hospital at 126 East Fifty-ninth Street, which the trustees of that institution had already placed at the disposal of the Department of Health.

As these buildings were much more commodious, and appeared to offer certain other advantages over the St. John's Chapel School

HOUSE OF RELIEF—67 AND 69 HUDSON STREET

Building, the Governors voted to enter into an agreement with the Department of Health to take them over, and to equip and maintain them as a temporary hospital for patients ill with poliomyelitis. A few days after this decision was reached the buildings fully equipped were opened for the reception of patients. The first group of patients was admitted August 11th. The Medical Board of the New York Hospital entered into the spirit of the work, and supplied a Staff from their own numbers.

All told, 122 patients were treated. There were sixteen deaths.

The cost of equipping and operating the plant was $12,296.81.

On October 14th the number of patients having been reduced by discharge, transfer, and death to eighteen the buildings and equipment were turned over to Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. E. C. Rosenow, of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minnesota, came to New York and associated himself with the Pathological Department of the Hospital for the purpose of studying the bacteriology of acute anterior poliomyelitis. Dr. Rosenow, before coming to New York, had been devoting much of his time and energy to the study of this disease, and when the epidemic broke out in this city he decided to come here, as he recognized that this would give him an unusual opportunity to study a large number of cases in all stages of the disease.

HYDRIATIC DEPARTMENT.

In this Department treatment is furnished to ward, private room and out-patients.

Men and women are treated on alternate afternoons. Expert operators are in constant attendance.

The average daily number of treatments in 1916 was 6 plus.

The number of new patients treated during the year 1916 was 433, and the total number of treatments 2,524.

DENTAL DEPARTMENT.

The work in this Department continues to increase. A dentist is on duty four mornings of each week from 9:30 until 12 o'clock. Adults as well as children are treated, and there are no charges.

The number of patients treated in 1916 was 3,183 against 3,121 in 1915. There were 131 cement fillings, 11 oral surgery cases, 110 root canals, 138 oral prophylactic treatments, 740 amalgam fillings, 3 enamel fillings, 1,001 extractions, 1,172 treatments.

HOUSE OF RELIEF.

A system for filing medical records was introduced early in the year. It is practically identical with that employed at the New York Hospital. In indexing and filing records the system of Nomenclature established by Bellevue Hospital was followed. One of the rooms formerly occupied by the Out-Patient Department was converted into a record room, and fills the purpose admirably. It was necessary to employ additional clerks to take charge of the medical records, and of the system for following up discharged patients.

In order to improve the medical work a Resident Pathologist was provided, and the space allotted to the Pathological Department increased. It is thought that this addition to the Staff will be of advantage to the internes as well as to the patients.

Arrangements were made to keep the Roof Ward open throughout the year. In the past this ward has been closed during the Summer months.

Miss Eleanor Dinehart has done the Social Service work at the House of Relief for the past year. Miss Dinehart's salary is paid by the wife of one of her former patients. We desire to acknowledge our appreciation of Miss Dinehart's work as well as the generosity of the lady who has made it possible for her to take up this work.

Tile floors were laid in the halls and wards on the third floor at an expense of about $1,000.00, and also in the X-Ray operating room.

AMBULANCE SERVICE, 1916.

The amount of work done at the New York Hospital was larger than ever before. The total number of calls answered was 8,099 as compared with 7,442 in 1915.

At the House of Relief 4,093 calls were answered as compared with 4,007 the previous year.

There are four electric ambulances in service at the New York Hospital and two at the House of Relief. A horse ambulance is also maintained at the House of Relief.

BASE HOSPITAL UNIT.

Early in the year the New York Hospital was invited by the American Red Cross to organize from its administrative and professional Staffs a Base Hospital Unit, which in case of need could be sent forward with the Army. The invitation was accepted by the Governors, enrollment was begun at once, and arrangements were made for equipment and supplies.

These Hospital Units are organized under the auspices of the American Red Cross for the reason that in times of peace the War Department has no authority to form such an organization, but in case of war these organizations pass automatically into the control of the Government.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We are indebted to the Babies' Hospital and its Superintendent, Miss Smith, for opportune and valuable assistance rendered us while we were operating the old Orthopædic Hospital in East Fifty-ninth Street as a hospital for poliomyelitis patients.

Miss Smith furnished us with eight or ten trained nursery maids at a time when it was seemingly impossible to obtain competent nurses. Without this assistance our work would have been seriously hampered, and possibly curtailed.

The success of the Branch Hospital in East Fifty-ninth Street was due in no small degree to the efficient work of Miss Irene Sutliffe, who had charge of the Nursing and Housekeeping. Miss Sutliffe was formerly Directress of Nurses at the New York Hospital.

The Haven Relief Fund Society again contributed $400.00. This money was distributed by the Social Service Department in conformity with the aim of the donor, which is, "especially the affording of temporary relief to unobtrusive suffering endured by industrious or worthy persons." A detailed report of the expenditures was rendered to Mr. Charles M. Bleecker, Secretary of the Society.

Contributions for the care of poliomyelitis patients are herewith gratefully acknowledged:

Mr. Payne Whitney	$5,500.00
Silk Association Committee	500.00
Committee to Aid Convalescents from Infantile Paralysis	500.00

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL BOARD OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1916

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The past year has been one of great activity and industry in all departments of the Hospital. The greater efficiency and more satisfactory work under the continued-service plan have become quite obvious. With hardly any exception, every member of the staff is following some particular line of investigation or study. There is an increasing tendency to hold formal conferences for a review of the work and results, and outline plans for future research and improvements. The conferences noted in last year's report and the weekly surgical Field Rounds have been continued and developed.

A comparison of the activities of the Hospital as compared to 1915, both here and at Hudson Street, is as follows:

NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

Number of Patients in Wards	5,236	5,413
Number of Days of Care	78,346	79,639
Number of Patients in O. P. D.	16,500	15,218
Number of Visits	79,544	80,527
Ambulance Calls	7,442	8,099

HOUSE OF RELIEF.

Number of Patients in Wards	2,466	2,093
Number of Days of Care	16,410	16,791
Number of Patients in O. P. D.	18,707	16,626
Number of Visits	45,820	45,593
Ambulance Calls	4,007	4,093

The ever-increasing activity of the surgical service is evidenced by 2,878 operations, 73 more than were done in the preceding year. It seems improbable that these figures can hereafter be materially increased, as the limited capacity of the Hospital seems to have been exhausted.

The teaching facilities of the Hospital have been developed and utilized actively. On the First Division the students have been taught in surgery by section work, amphitheatre clinics, both theoretical and practical, and clinical clerkships for five months of the year, small groups of students each serving five weeks. Dr. Conner has a similar number of clinical clerkships. Bedside instruction in pediatrics is given by Dr. Roper. Dr. Williams has continued his valuable medical ward clinics, which have attracted many physicians affiliated with the Hospital or living in the vicinity. On the Second Surgical Division Dr. Pool has had small sections also of students for clinical clerkships. At the House of Relief, Dr. Turnure and staff have given section work and demonstrations to the Cornell students, utilizing particularly the exceptional opportunities for the study of traumatic surgery.

The Follow-up system alluded to in last year's report has given satisfaction and it is hoped eventually that it can be made universal and complete for all departments of the Hospital and that its entire operation may become part of the Hospital administration. Those who are familiar with the system believe that we are discharging a duty to the community in tabulating results and that many misleading ideas can be and should be corrected by this checking up of the final results. It might be compared to the auditing system in a well-conducted business.

The efficiency of the Follow-up system owes a great deal to the energy and devoted assistance of the Social Service Department, which has traced a great many cases that would otherwise have been lost, and it has also been most useful in remedying conditions of faulty hygiene, destitution, etc.

During the summer of 1916 the Attending Surgeons, Doctors Gibson and Pool, spent some time abroad, Dr. Pool being in charge of the branch of the French Hospital of New York City at the Chateau de Passy, Sens. The experience gained by them is very valuable and several useful features have been introduced into the New York Hospital, particularly the Carrel method of treating wounds, which was studied thoroughly under the best auspices. The method is now in operation at the New York Hospital, and its introduction has been facilitated by the employment of Miss Ryan, a nurse who worked with Dr. Carrel, and by the experience of Dr. E. A. Lane, of the interne staff, who has recently returned from La Panne, Belgium.

In response to an invitation of the American Red Cross Society, the Medical Board of the Hospital has organized a Base Hospital Unit, which is now known as Base Hospital No. 9. In time of war this unit will pass under the control of the War Department. It comprises a personnel of 166. The physicians and surgeons are as follows:

Dr. C. L. Gibson, Director and Head of Surgical Section.
Dr. L. A. Conner, Assistant Director (Medicine).
Dr. W. J. Elser, Assistant Director (Laboratory).
Dr. E. H. Pool, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. P. R. Turnure, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. F. W. Shine, Oculist.
Dr. A. H. Dugdale, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. P. Dineen, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. J. P. Erskine, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Dr. R. Stephens, Orthopedist.
Dr. R. W. Bolling, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. F. J. Echeverria, Staff Surgeon.
Dr. J. P. Ruyl, Dentist.
Dr. A. M. Nodine, Dentist.
Dr. W. R. Williams, Staff Physician.
Dr. E. Cussler, Staff Physician.
Dr. J. M. Kent, Staff Physician.
Dr. H. E. B. Pardee, Staff Physician.
Dr. H. A. Cossitt, Staff Physician.
Dr. Thomas K. Davis, Neurologist.
Dr. R. C. Stillman, Clinical Pathologist.
Dr. G. W. Wheeler, Bacteriologist.
Dr. Archibald Busby, Roentgenologist.
Dr. G. W. Zulauf, Adjutant.
Dr. G. W. Vannatta, Registrar.

The administrative officer is Dr. G. W. Zulauf and the Chief Nurse is Miss A. W. Goodrich.

The selection of the medical staff has been planned properly to protect the interests of the Hospital should mobilization actually occur.

We are indebted to the local chapter of the American Red Cross and the Social Service Auxiliary for raising the money needed for the equipment of this Hospital Unit. The responsibility for providing the large amount of medical dressings and supplies required was assumed by Mrs. Payne Whitney to whom we feel ourselves especially indebted. As a result of her active interest and successful work, eighty boxes of such supplies are now in storage in complete readiness for any emergency.

The following changes and readjustments have been made in the personnel of the Medical Board:

We have suffered a serious loss in the resignation of two of the Associate Attending Physicians. Dr. Nellis B. Foster has been appointed Professor of Medicine at the University of Michigan,

Ann Arbor, and Dr. J. C. Greenway has been appointed Director of the Department of University Health of Yale University.

Dr. T. B. Barringer, Jr., and Dr. Edward Cussler, Associate Physicians hitherto assigned to the House of Relief have been assigned to duty on the Second Medical Division of the Hospital.

Dr. F. W. Bancroft has been promoted to Associate Attending Surgeon on the Second Division, and the following new appointments have been made:

Dr. Seward Erdman, Associate Attending Surgeon to the Second Surgical Division.

Dr. John A. Vietor, Assistant Attending Surgeon to the Second Surgical Division.

Dr. R. G. Stillman, Assistant Attending Physician to the First Medical Division.

Surgical Service in charge of Dr. P. R. Turnure,* Attending, Dr. J. H. Kenyon, Associate, and Doctors R. W. Bolling and F. Beekman, Assistant Surgeons.

Medical Service in charge of Dr. Hughes Dayton,* Attending, and Dr. Peter Irving, Associate.

Reference should be made to the creditable part taken by the Hospital in meeting the emergency caused by the appearance of poliomyelitis in epidemic form in the city during the summer. In response to the appeal of the Health Commissioner for aid in caring for the thousands of afflicted children a branch hospital was opened in the old building of the Orthopædic Hospital in East 59th Street. The onerous work of renovating the building and equipping and organizing the hospital was performed by Doctor Howell in the astonishingly short space of eight days, and on August 11, the doors were opened for the reception of patients.

During the two months of its existence there were received here 121 patients, of whom 115 proved to be cases of poliomyelitis. Of these 115 cases all but 15 recovered.

The medical charge of the Hospital was placed in the hands of Doctor J. C. Roper, to whose untiring efforts and skillful management much of the success of the undertaking is due. The resident staff was recruited from the internes of the Hospital and House of Relief, Doctors Heddens, Witt, Stevens and Haynes all rendering willing and faithful service. In the surgical and orthopædic management of the patients Dr. Roper received much valuable help from Doctors Erskine, Bancroft, Hitzrot and Farr of the surgical staff of the Hospital.

*Doctors Turnure and Dayton were assigned from the New York Hospital Service.

A well equipped research laboratory was established in the hospital in which extensive bacteriological investigations were carried on by Doctors Rosenow and Towne of the Mayo Foundation and by Doctor Wheeler of the pathological staff of the Hospital. Much interesting information was gained which it is hoped will aid materially in explaining the nature and causes of this mysterious disease.

To Miss Irene H. Sutliffe and her assistants on the nursing and housekeeping staff the Medical Board makes grateful acknowledgment of the loyal and enthusiastic co-operation which contributed so largely to the successful operation of the Hospital.

The Medical Board ventures also to express to the Board of Governors its appreciation of the prompt and generous way in which this unusual opportunity to render valuable public service to the community was seen and utilized.

The necessity for a suitable library, particularly for the House Staff, makes itself more and more felt and it is to be hoped that even with our limited quarters an improvement over the present conditions can be obtained.

The Pathological Department has continued to be of the utmost aid and value to the Medical and Surgical Services. Some of its many activities have increased considerably during the year, notably that of the Wasserman Blood Tests of which some 3,000 were made. In order to increase the usefulness of these important diagnostic tests it has been arranged that they shall be made on three days a week instead of two as hitherto.

Dr. William H. Baughman has been appointed Assistant Clinical Pathologist to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. William R. May.

The number of patients examined in the Roentgenological Department of the New York Hospital, for the year 1916, is 4,932 as compared to 4,485 in the year 1915, the increase being chiefly in the number of thoracic and gastro-intestinal cases. A department for Roentgentherapy has been established under the charge of Dr. S. Brown.

The Department is in great need of suitable apparatus for fluroscopic examinations, the importance of which are becoming increasingly apparent. This question is being investigated at present and it is hoped the deficiency will soon be overcome.

REPORT OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES FOR THE YEAR 1916.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The Staff of the Training School on duty at the close of its fortieth year is as follows:

Officers of Instruction:

Directress	1
Assistant Directress	1
Clerical Assistant	1
Night Supervisor	1
Supervisor of Private Patients' Building	1
Supervisor of Out-Patient Department	1
Supervisor of House of Relief (Day)	1
Supervisor of House of Relief (Night)	1
Operating Room Nurses	4
Graduate Nurses in Charge of Wards	9
Graduate Nurses in Charge of Private Patients' Building Floors	2
Dietitian	1

Pupils:

Seniors	38
Intermediates	32
Probationers	22

At this date the pupils are distributed as follows:

Hospital Wards and Private Patients' Building	95
House of Relief	13
Lying-In Hospital	6
Sloane Hospital for Women	4

Twelve of the Probationers are on ward duty and ten still in the Class Room.

During the year 840 applications were received; of these, 122 were considered as follows:

Accepted and entered as Probationers	64
Accepted as Pupils	53
Resigned	2

Five Pupils resigned for various reasons during 1916.

The general health of the Nurses has been excellent. The total number of days of illness amounted to 746, which was 150 days less than last year, notwithstanding the increased number of pupils. The rooms in the Private Patients' Building assigned to the nurses' use were occupied 781 days; of these, 381 by pupils, 400 by graduate nurses. The contraction of contagious diseases by the pupils called the Isolation Ward into service for 42 days; Diphtheria, 21 days; Measles, 5 days; Mumps, 16 days.

The Graduation Exercises of 1916 were held in the Governors' Room of the Administration Building, on Wednesday, March 1st. The President of the Board of Governors, Mr. Howard Townsend, presided, and diplomas and medals were presented to thirty-eight pupils. The address was delivered to the Graduating Class by the late Mr. Frederick W. Whitridge and was very much enjoyed by an appreciative audience. The exercises were followed by a reception in the nurses' home, largely attended by the graduates and their friends.

We feel greatly indebted to the Board of Governors for the additional service offered to our pupils. Affiliations for the practical and theoretical instruction in psychopathic and contagious nursing will give them an unusually well-balanced experience. In order to include this training it has been found necessary to extend our course to three years.

Our Alumnæ activities are at the present time being devoted, mainly, to the furnishing of a new Club House for our ever-increasing group of graduates. For some time we have been unable to offer to our graduating classes the accommodation and protection we would desire, but trust that, through the untiring efforts of our nurses, we shall soon have a comfortable home, complete in all its appointments.

Seventy of our graduates have responded to the call of the nations now at war, and we are proud to note that among those who have received decorations are: Miss Amy E. Holmes, Miss Anna Reutinger, Miss R. Lee Cromwell and Miss Ruth Frasius. Those who have joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps are enlisted to remain until the end of the war.

As a result of the plea for preparedness by the American National Red Cross, a New York Hospital Unit is being formed. There was a splendid response from the graduates of our School to the appeal for nurses, and fifty have signed the muster roll. Two members of the Unit have been called and are now serving on the Mexican Border.

To the Board of Governors, the Superintendent of the Hospital, the Attending Staff and to my co-workers I offer my sincere thanks and appreciation for their loyal support and interest in making the work of the School successful.

Respectfully submitted,

SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT, SUMMER 1916

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

Dear Sirs:—I have the honor to present to you the report of the Social Service Department for the year 1916. You will see that the work shows considerable development over previous years and we hope very much that you will be satisfied with results as shown by the report.

The nurse who, since January, 1916, has been attending to the doctors' follow-up work, has made it possible to accomplish a great deal which heretofore had not been attempted. The new worker engaged to attend Dr. Kent's clinic and to do follow-up work in this connection, began in October and, as far as can be judged, her work has proved very valuable.

The expense of her salary is shared by the Society of Social Hygiene and we are deeply grateful to you for appropriating the necessary amount to pay the balance. We feel that this is a very necessary and important development of the Social Service work.

Last winter a sub-committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary was formed to take charge of the Social Service work at the House of Relief. Mrs. Blandy was made chairman, and a report of what they have accomplished follows.

In connection with the Hospital having been made a Red Cross Unit a committee on supplies was formed. Mrs. Whitney, as chairman, collected the greater part of the necessary equipment. A workroom was established where poor women were employed making garments, bandages, etc., and where donations of material and other supplies were sent. The National Red Cross contributed $1,000.00 towards the equipment and Mrs. Whitney raised besides this, $2,307.47 in private subscriptions. A more detailed account of what was done in this connection will be found in Dr. Gibson's report.

We have also co-operated in the after-care of the poliomyelitis cases attending our clinics, but thus far our work in this direction has not been extensive.

As a whole, we feel that the past year, while increasing our responsibilities, has broadened our field of work and we hope for your approval in our undertakings and in what we have accomplished.

Very respectfully yours,

ELEANOR ISELIN,
Chairman of the Executive Committee
Auxiliary to the Social Service Department of the New York Hospital.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to submit the following report of the Social Service Department for the year 1916.

NUMBER OF STAFF.

We now number eight graduate nurses. The work is divided as follows: House of Relief, one nurse. Children's clinics and wards, one nurse. Tuberculosis clinics, one nurse. Follow-up nurse for follow-up clinics, one nurse. General work (including convalescense of adults and cardiac work), two nurses. Clinics of syphilology, one nurse. Head worker, supervising all departments.

SOCIAL SERVICE NURSE IN CLINIC OF SYPHILOLOGY.

In October the Auxiliary to the Social Service Department combined with the Social Hygiene Society in assuming responsibility for the salary for a year of a Social Service nurse to work in the clinic of syphilology. Although responsibility for the part salary has now been taken by you from the Auxiliary, their interest continues and is shown by the provision of special medication, etc., to numerous patients attending the clinic. This work is still too new for a statistical report, but already it is obvious that the Social Service nurse is of great help to both doctors and patients in obtaining better results from their clinic attendance.

FOLLOW-UP OF CHILDREN CONVALESCING FROM POLIOMYELITIS.

Beginning in September, through Miss Irene Sutliffe, The National Special Aid Society employed two nurses to carry on this line of work with the children discharged from the Branch Hospital at Fifty-ninth Street. These nurses had headquarters and a desk in our department. Following is their report: Number of patients under supervision, 96. Visits to homes, 319. Visits to institutions, 25. Children admitted to hospitals, 12. Children admitted to convalescent homes, 15. To special schools, 1. Provided transportation for, 23. Attending clinics, 66. The work with the other children receiving after-care for poliomyelitis at clinics is done in co-operation with the Association for Aid of Crippled Children, whose nurses visit these homes. The After-care Committee provides braces when necessary.

SURGICAL FOLLOW-UP WORK.

The nurse taken on last January for this work has proved her value by the accompanying report. Number of calls given to Social Service, 1,367. Reports of nurse and returns of patients, 1,017 = 74⅓ per cent. Not found by nurse, 350.

ARTICLES OF SEWING GIVEN OUT.

One of the most important divisions of our work was made possible by the co-operation of the Auxiliary and the Hospital, the former paying for the work and the latter providing material for articles to be used in the Hospital. Sewing has also been done for others aside from the Hospital according to the following report:

Articles made for Hospital	4,498
Articles made for Red Cross Unit	276
Articles made for members of the Auxiliary	143
Articles made for Sherry	450
Total number of articles made	5,367

CONVALESCENT AND FRESH AIR WORK.

Our convalescent work has been larger than usual. Fortunately our Convalescent Cottages were able to keep open during the epidemic in the summer. The Fresh Air work would have suffered more than it did from this epidemic had it not been for the continued use of the Van Buren property opposite the Hospital, which was converted into a playground for the clinic children. The Board of Health allowed this playground to be kept open, as the children frequenting it, as well as their homes, were carefully supervised. Through the kindness of the Parks and Playgrounds Association, a worker was provided for the children during the summer months and up to the 9th of December. The average daily attendance during the summer was 85; during the autumn, 25. It is gratifying to report that all of the children who attended the playground with fair regularity have improved in their general health.

MILK FUND.

On account of the epidemic, which necessitated more care for the children in their homes, we were fortunate this summer to have a Milk Fund upon which to draw. A sum amounting to $987.50 was raised by Mrs. Whitney for this purpose. Eight thousand five hundred and forty-four quarts of milk were dispensed, therefore, through the milk station this past year by the Auxiliary to the Social Service Department.

THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets were given out by the Auxiliary. In addition to these, Mr. Vincent Astor gave 40 generous baskets, and the Salvation Army provided a considerable number of our people with Christmas dinners. Gifts of warm clothing were given with the Christmas baskets. A tree and entertainment were provided in the dispensary for about 500 children.

I wish to express my deep appreciation of the interest and co-operation of the Auxiliary to our Department and to all our friends and co-workers who have done so much to help us during the past year.

The following statement of work includes that of all divisions.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF RELIEF.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—A Social Service Committee was formed in connection with the House of Relief on March 1, 1916. Through the generosity of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, it was made possible for Miss Eleanor Dinehart, a graduate of the New York Hospital Training School for Nurses, to offer her services for the work. With no assistance, except for the co-operation of a very small committee, she has done very remarkably good work in the past eleven months, as is shown by the statistical report.

Formerly some Social Service work was done at the House of Relief by Miss Austin, who was housekeeper, and by Miss Irene Sutliffe, who volunteered her services.

Being a sub-committee of the Auxiliary to the Social Service Department of the New York Hospital, we have received a certain allowance per month for running expenses and have raised the additional amount necessary, which is used for food, clothing, rent, assistance, etc., and especially for milk, which we consider important.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGETTE H. BLANDY,

Chairman of Social Service Committee of House of Relief.

ADMISSIONS.

The total number of admissions was 254, of which 123 were men and 131 were women. Owing to re-admissions during the year, 11 persons were counted twice. Six of the cases were admitted by transfer from other institutions. Ninety-one others, constituting 35 per cent. of the total admissions, had at some time previously received hospital treatment for mental disorder, 14 of them at this Hospital. One hundred and eighty-seven of those admitted were in their first attack. Eighty-one, constituting about 32 per cent.,

had been recognized as mentally disordered for more than a year before admission. One hundred and five, constituting 41 per cent., had been regarded as ill for three months or less. This proportion is 10 per cent. higher than last year, which may, perhaps, indicate a hopeful inclination on the part of the public to apply for hospital care at an earlier period of mental disorder than has heretofore been the custom.

The number of cases admitted was 61 greater than in 1915, and the number of inquiries and of applications which were declined because the patients appeared to be unsuitable, was greatly increased. As a result of the increasing admissions, the number of patients in the Hospital who require active remedial measures has been greater than in previous years, and a continued extension of the organization and equipment for the treatment of this class of patients is found to be necessary.

The forms of mental disorders found in the persons admitted, grouped in accordance with the classification employed by the State Hospital Commission, were as follows:

	Men	Women	Total
Senile Dementia	1	2	3
Senile Psychosis	6	2	8
Psychosis with Organic Brain Disorder	1	2	3
General Paresis	17	1	18
Psychosis with Cerebral Syphilis	2	0	2
Psychosis with Huntington's Chorea	1	0	1
Alcoholic Psychosis	5	1	6
Dementia Præcox	11	19	30
Allied to Dementia Præcox	5	1	6
Paranoic Condition	6	5	11
Psychosis with Epilepsy	2	0	2
Psychoneurosis	5	15	20

Unclassified	3	3	6
Not Insane: Alcoholism	6	2	8
Drug Addiction	2	0	2
Cardio-renal Disease	1	0	1

It is noteworthy that more than half of the cases were of the types requiring the maximum of medical and nursing attention.

The ages of the patients admitted ranged from 10 to 81. It is noteworthy that 10 were not over 18; 6 were not over 16; and 3 were not over 14. Twenty-five were not over 20. Eighty-two, or 32 per cent., were between the ages of 20 and 49. Thirty, or 12 per cent. only, of the 254 cases admitted were 60 or more. There has recently been a notable increase in the number of applications for the admission of boys and girls of 16 or under. Whether or not this is merely temporary or is an indication of an awakening interest in securing hospital treatment for this class of cases, it is too soon to say, though other evidences of a growing recognition of their needs are not lacking.

One hundred and sixty-two, of whom 70 were men and 92 were women, were admitted on their own application. These constituted 63 per cent. of the admissions; 56 per cent. of the men, and 70 per cent. of the women. In 1915 the corresponding proportions were 51 per cent. of all admissions; 45 per cent. of the men, and 60 per cent. of the women. This increase in voluntary admissions may be fairly interpreted as indicating an advancing general intelligence concerning mental disorders and an increasing confidence in the hospitals in which they are treated.

Two hundred and three of the patients admitted were residents of New York State, 48 of whom were from Westchester County.

DISCHARGES.

The total number of discharges from the Hospital during the year was 247. Of these, 50 were classed as recovered, 48 as much improved, 38 as improved, 37 as unimproved; 9 were inebriates or drug habitues; 33 died, and 32 were transferred to other institutions. Those classed as recovered and much improved, constituting about 40 per cent. of the cases discharged, were in most instances restored to their previous efficiency. Of the 98 patients thus classed, 52 were men and 46 were women. All except 9 of these men and 22 of the women supported themselves, when well, by productive occupations. Of the men, 2 were architects, 1 was an accountant, 1 an actor, 1 a bank officer, 9 clerks, 3 builders, 1 dentist, 1 engineer, 1 gardener, 1 interior decorator, 1 electrical inspector, 2 lawyers, 2 managers, 2 merchants, 1 clergyman, 1 musician, 1 police officer, 1 pharmacist, 2 manufacturers, 1 physician, 2 army officers, 1 broker, 2 salesmen, 1 sea captain, 1 teacher, 1 writer. Of the women, 1 was a physician, 2 housekeepers, 5 teachers, 6 stenographers, 1 seamstress, 1 actress, 1 designer, 1 governess, 1 musician, 1 dressmaker, 2 nurses.

The restoration of these patients, and also some who were discharged as improved, to their occupations was, therefore, of advantage, not only to themselves and their families, but to the general welfare of society. The good accomplished in all the cases discharged in reducing the sum of human misery and in restoring members of families to their homes can only be intimated.

Of the 33 patients who died 23, or about 70 per cent., were over 50 years of age. All except one of the 12 women were over 50, 8 were over 60, 5 over 70, and 2 over 80, one being 93. Of the 21 men, 12 were over 50. Three were over 70, and there was none between 60 and 70. Ten of the men died of general paresis, 6 of whom were under 50. The deaths constituted 13.3 per cent. of the total discharges, and 5.4 per cent. of the total cases treated.

The practice of extending advice, and sometimes aid in finding suitable employment, to patients after they have left the Hospital, has been continued. A few patients began to give attention to business while still at the Hospital, some even going to New York daily for the purpose.

MEDICAL SERVICE.

The increasing number of admissions has added much to the activity of the medical service and to the work of the physicians. The work of the laboratory has been considerably increased and the need of more space is beginning to be felt. The following items of work were attended to:

Remarks on Delusion Formation, with special reference to Paranoic States, Dr. Lambert

April 19.
Clinical and Anatomical Reports of two cases (Central Neuritis and Carcinomatosis) . . . . . Dr. Frazee
Four Post-operative Cases in Climacteric Period . . . . . Dr. Pringle

Remarks on the Examination of Mental Cases . . . . . Dr. Lambert
Remarks on Classification . . . . . Dr. Brown

December 13.
Presentation of Cases:
A Case of Juvenile General Paralysis—A Case of Cretinism . . Dr. Lambert
Recent Theories Regarding Epilepsy . Dr. C. O. Cheney, Ward's Island, N. Y.
Functions of a Psychiatric Clinic . . Dr. John T. MacCurdy, New York City

On May 16, the Westchester County Medical Society met at the Hospital. The following contributions were made by members of the medical staff:

Senile and Arteriosclerotic Brain Disorders . . . . . Dr. Lambert
(Lantern Slides.)
Premonitory Signs of Mental Disorders . . . . . Dr. Amsden

The following articles written by members of the Staff were, during the year, presented at other medical meetings than those already referred to, or were published:

"What the State Hospital Can Do in Mental Hygiene" . . . Dr. Russell American Journal of Insanity, October, 1916.
"Esquirol—Friend of the Insane" . . . . . Dr. Russell
The Psychogram, December, 1916.
"The Clinical and Anatomical Features in Alzheimer's Disease" . Dr. Lambert Psychiatric Bulletin, October, 1916.
"Cerebral Arteriosclerotic Disorders" . . . . . Dr. Lambert
Cosmopolitan Medical Society, December, 1916.
"On the Interpretation of Infective Exhaustive Psychosis" . . Dr. Brown
Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases, June, 1916.
"Sex Worship and Symbolism of Primitive Races; an Interpretation" Dr. Brown Richard G. Badger, Publisher.

Ten major surgical operations and 14 minor operations of noteworthy importance, besides many less important surgical procedures, were performed on the patients during the year. Four of the operations were attended to at the White Plains Hospital, and one at the New York Hospital. Two hundred and seventeen intraspinous and 214 intravenous treatments were given.

Dr. Lambert and Dr. Bowman, of the Hospital Staff, furnished the medical service for the White Plains Mental Clinic during the year. Thirty children and young adults were examined, nine of whom were brought for examination by the County Child Welfare Agents. The others were children from the public schools. An increasing appreciation of the need and value of the work is shown by the school authorities. The special classes which have been the outgrowth of the clinic have been continued, and a broader policy in dealing with the cases is being laid out.

The amount of dental work done was greater than in 1915. Four hundred and twenty-six patients were treated. The number of treatments and operations was 1,399. Dr. D. Austin Sniffen, of White Plains, has, as heretofore, been the Hospital dentist.

Dr. J. Fielding Black, of White Plains, has continued to do most of the important surgical work, and has also been very helpful in consultations. Dr. Frank N. Irwin, as Ophthalmologist, and Dr. Louis B. Chapman, as consultant in internal medicine, have also been of great assistance in the treatment of the patients. All of these physicians, as well as the dentist, have given their services as needed, without regard to the financial ability of the patients to whom they were rendered, some of whom were quite unable to pay. The hearty co-operation and expert assistance which we have continued to receive from Dr. Elser and his assistants at the New York Hospital Laboratory is of great advantage to the service here. The physicians and surgeons of the New York Hospital have also, by the examination and treatment of patients and of sick and injured employees who have been transferred to their care, made it possible to obtain for them the special diagnostic and therapeutic skill and equipment which their condition required.

THE NURSING SERVICE.

A report from the Directress of Nurses relating to the School of Nursing is appended. The equipment and the work of the School are being steadily improved, and the good effects on the quality of the nursing are evident. The demands for active high-grade nursing attention growing out of the increasing activity of the service are not, however, easy to keep pace with, and plans for increasing the number and quality of candidates for training and for maintaining the standard of the service require careful consideration. Few things would contribute more to this end than a Nurses' Home. The present quarters are indeed comfortable and attractive. They are, however, not sufficiently separated from the patients. They are inadequate for the number of nurses now required, and do not furnish the means of rest, recreation and social life which the nurses need to keep them healthy in body and mind for the difficult and delicate work they are engaged in.

The graduation exercises were held on May 31st. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Townsend, President of the Board, to 13 graduates. The address to the graduates was delivered by Dr. C. Macfie Campbell, Associate Professor of Psychiatry of Johns Hopkins Medical School, and formerly First Assistant Physician at Bloomingdale Hospital.

The opening of the New Occupation Pavilion for men, which occurred in May, added much to the resources of the Hospital in supplying constructive activities for the patients under treatment. The building has proved to be very satisfactory for the purpose in view. It is well separated from the quarters where the patients live and is attractively located. The rooms are light, well ventilated, pleasing in appearance, well equipped and convenient. The organization for carrying on the work consists of a director and five assistants, one of which is in charge of the outdoor work. Before the building was opened, and for some time afterward, the patients found much satisfaction in constructing the benches, tables and cabinets which were required. The number of individual patients who received attention from the department during the year was 110. The average daily attendance at the shops and in the outdoor group was 35, and the average daily number enrolled for occupational treatment was 49. The output of the department consists of 1,800 articles made and 530 mended, besides 378,876 pieces of work printed, and 369 books, magazines and pads bound in the printing and bookbinding shops.

The Dexter Memorial Cottage has continued to provide quite satisfactorily for the Women's Occupation Department, although the need for more space is beginning to be felt. The number of individual patients who received attention from the department during the year was 225. The average daily attendance was 131. The largest number at the Dexter Cottage on any day was 58, which is 10 more than in 1915. The patients who were unable to come to the Cottage received attention in classes in the hall sitting rooms or individually in their own rooms. The number of articles made was 13,137, which is nearly 2,000 more than in 1915, and 5,993 were mended.

The amount of instruction in occupations for the sick, which was given to the nurses by the directors of the Occupation Departments and their assistants, was greatly increased during the year. Twenty-six women and 12 men from the Hospital School of Nursing, and five nurses from an affiliated school, and one post-graduate nurse, received instruction. Five instructors from other institutions were also given short courses.

In the Department of Physical Education more attention has also, during the past year, been given to instructing the nurses than heretofore. Four lectures were given to the members of the senior class and, with a view to improving the ability of the nurses to engage in outdoor games with the patients, instruction in golf, tennis, and croquet, was given to 26 members of the nursing service. This instruction was given at the nurses' rest hour, and formed a healthful and pleasant diversion. Courses in physical exercise and games were also given to affiliated and post-graduate pupils.

The number of individual patients who received attention from the Physical Education Department was 369, of whom 201 were men and 168 were women. The average daily attendance for the men was 72, and for the women 49. The Director of the Women's Department has also been active in promoting the social life of the patients by picnics, card parties, theatricals, and other social gatherings and entertainments.

The golf course has proved to be a very valuable addition to the resources of the Hospital. The game is especially attractive to the patients because it takes them away from the immediate vicinity of the buildings into open ground amid a beautiful landscape. The course is comparatively short, 1,500 yards, and the exertion and tension of the game have not been so great as to be detrimental in any case. An average of about 20 patients play on favorable days, and on some days the number has reached 27. In all over 2,000 games were, during the season, played on the course by patients. The course is also used by some of the physicians and other persons employed at the Hospital.

In the departments of hydrotherapy and massage, the number of prolonged baths given was 2,124; the number of treatments in the hydriatic rooms, 5,495; the number of packs, 634, and the number of treatments by massage, 4,161.

ROCKLEY COTTAGE.

The name of the Cottage at Oakland Beach was, during the year, changed to "Rockley Cottage." It was open from June 2d to October 12th. Seventy-two day parties, consisting in all of 492 patients, visited the Cottage. The number of patients who remained for more than one day was 26. The number of days' board given was 749, and the average number in residence daily was 6. A motor boat was rented for trips on the Sound on several occasions, and 74 patients enjoyed these outings. The new twelve-passenger automobile which has been provided for beach and picnic parties was delivered too late to be of service during the year, but will add much to the pleasure and benefit of the patients next season. The amount received from the patients for board at Rockley Cottage and for transportation was $1,698.54, which was much less than the expenditures.

IMPROVEMENTS IN EQUIPMENT AND PLANT.

The Store and the Occupation Pavilion for the men patients, which were under construction when the Annual Report was presented a year ago, were completed and occupied during the year. The expectations concerning both buildings have been fully realized. The store brings the delivery and the distribution, and, except in the case of the more bulky articles for the farm, and the articles required for daily use by the mechanics, also the care of the supplies of the Hospital, into one convenient and accessible place under the supervision of a responsible storekeeper. The Occupation Pavilion was opened on May 1st, and the Store on April 1st.

Of the important needs of the Hospital mentioned in the last report two were provided for by appropriations made by your Board during the year; the steam tables and tiling for the dining-rooms, and the automobile for beach parties. The automobile was purchased at a cost of $3,600.00. It is a four-seated car, and will carry twelve persons. It is built on the lines of a touring car of attractive appearance so as to be inconspicuous, and seems to be entirely satisfactory. The work of re-equipping the pantries has not yet been completed.

Among other noteworthy improvements made during the year was the renovation and alteration of the employees' quarters over Hall 8, Women, so as to bring them up to the standard of the rest of the quarters. The amount expended was $4,250.00. New toilet rooms were provided for the large group of men and women employees in the service buildings and the mechanical force, and a more sanitary and convenient shop was provided for the mattress maker at a total cost of $3,850.00. The screening of the windows was extended so as to complete the equipment of nearly all throughout the Hospital, the cost being $4,850.00. Fireproof doors were installed at the exits to the stairways and in the doorways through firewalls at an expense of $2,500.00. The steam pumps for the water supply were replaced with electric pumps. The cost was $3,757.75, and it is estimated that the saving in operation will amount to $1,500.00 a year. The terra cotta trim on the towers, which had become so broken as to be dangerous, was extensively replaced, and the brick work pointed at an expense of $2,500.00.

A master clock, to form the nucleus of a clock system for the whole Hospital, and a new tower clock, were purchased for $850.00. Some additional gas ranges and a power ice cream freezer were installed in the kitchen at an expense of $1,000.00. The refrigerating apparatus and pipe lines were extensively renewed, the amount expended being $1,827.00. A thousand dollars was spent in altering and equipping with bookcases a room to be used as a general library. The same amount was spent for a new hot-water heater. A diet kitchen for the use of the School of Nursing was equipped at an expense of $700.00. By dividing the large room formerly used for the housekeeper's stores, additional space was provided for the business offices; a more satisfactory room was placed at the disposal of the dentist, and fireproof provision was made for the valuable records of the Hospital. The expenditure was $2,500.00. In connection with the program adopted two years ago for draining the wet areas of the property and improving the brooks, an appropriation for deepening the lake and placing a wall around it was made by your Board. The work thus provided for is being done, but will not be completed before the spring. The alteration of the Assembly Hall and its re-decoration, which were referred to in the last Annual Report, were completed during the year. The value of the Hall as a treatment resource has been much increased. It has a pleasing and beneficial effect on all who use it, the effect being described by many as being restful and yet enlivening. The above-mentioned improvements were made by means of special appropriations. Various other improvements were made, at considerable expense, from the budget appropriations for general maintenance.

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL.

A statement of needs, such as appears in the Annual Report from year to year, is not to be interpreted as indicating any serious defects in the plant and equipment of a character which is likely to impair the quality of the service. Judged by prevailing standards the Hospital is recognized as in every respect among the best in this country. It will be readily understood, however, that in order to maintain standards and to keep pace with advancing knowledge and methods, various renewals, alterations and additions must sometimes be made. This is especially the case at the present time when improved standards of living, and a growing enlightenment of the public concerning the nature and treatment of mental disorders, are producing demands for the maximum of comfort, convenience, and attractiveness, as well as for the most advanced equipment and methods in hospital provision and administration.

The more important renewals needed have, from time to time, been brought to the attention of your Board, and are being provided for as funds become available. It seems unnecessary, therefore, to review them at this time. The ordinary sources of revenue of the Hospital seem to be sufficient for these and for many of the less expensive improvements as the need for them becomes apparent. Additional funds are, however, required for improvements and extensions of a more expensive character, which are needed for the fuller development of the work which has been undertaken.

A Recreation Building is needed to take the place of the present gymnasium for men. When the gymnasium building was erected, more than twenty years ago, it was entirely adequate for the needs as then recognized. Since then, the employment of physical exercise, games, and other invigorating measures in the treatment of nervous and mental disorders has been given a more definite place, and more elaborate provision must be made for it. The present building, which is of much less durable construction than the rest of the Hospital buildings, has also become dilapidated beyond the possibility of economical repair, and two years ago was damaged by a fire which destroyed the bowling alley. At present, the only part of it which can be used to advantage by the patients, is the large exercising room. A new building so constructed and equipped as to provide more fully for the more elaborate methods of applying physical exercises and recreations which are now employed, is greatly needed. The building should contain, in addition to a gymnasium, a billiard room, a reading room and lounge, squash and handball courts, bowling alleys, a swimming pool and shower baths, and a covered court and corridor with open sides in which the patients could exercise in inclement weather. A building of this character would be a complement to the Occupation Pavilion which was provided during the past year and, together, the two buildings would furnish a splendid equipment for obtaining, in the treatment of the patients, the beneficial effects of work and play. The cost of a suitable building with its connections and equipment would be $75,000.00.

A Nurses' Home is also greatly needed. The advantage to a hospital of a comfortable, convenient, and attractive Home for the nurses is generally recognized. And, surely, in no class of nursing, is there greater need for provision for rest, recreation, and hygienic living for the nurse than in that which deals with mental disorders. The present quarters of the nurses are comfortable and not unattractive. They are, however, inadequate for the number of nurses now required to provide for the increasing activity and more exacting character of the service. They could also be used with advantage for other purposes. Some of the rooms now occupied by nurses could be used for patients, the number of which could be thereby increased. If additional and better provision could be made for nurses the advantage to the Hospital for post-graduate training and experience in the nursing of mental disorders could be more freely extended to the graduates of general hospital schools, many of whom desire them. The contemplated adoption of a three months' service at the Hospital for the members of the Training School of the New York Hospital renders it desirable that the accommodation for nurses be improved and extended at as early a date as possible. The advantages that would follow in the nursing attention given the patients can be scarcely overestimated. A Nurses' Home of sufficient capacity, with the necessary recreation rooms, class rooms, addition to the present dining room, and the needed connections, furnishings, and equipment would cost $200,000.00.

FINANCIAL.

The average weekly per capita cost for maintenance during the year was $20.77. This includes the cost of maintaining the properties at White Plains and Oakland Beach, salaries and wages, supplies, ordinary repairs, and renewals, and all ordinary running expenses. It does not include capital charges and amounts spent for extraordinary improvements and renewals, for which special appropriations were made.

The total number of patients treated during the year was 608. Of these, 60 were cared for free, and 225 paid less than the average weekly per capita cost. The cost to the Society for the treatment of these patients was $74,527.22, which is equivalent to the support of 69 free beds. The income of the John C. Green Memorial Fund, amounting to $7,210.70, was, in accordance with the terms of the Memorial, applied to the partial support of 44 selected women patients.

GENERAL.

In reviewing the work of the year, one is impressed by the increasing activity of the Hospital. The number of patients treated was 52 greater than in the previous year, and the greatest of any year since the Hospital was established. The present indications are that this activity will continue to increase, and that further elaboration of the plant and the organization to enable them to meet the growing demands requires careful consideration. On May 7, 1918, it will be a hundred years since the cornerstone of the original Bloomingdale Asylum was laid, and the 1st of June, 1921, will be the hundredth anniversary of the opening. The erection of the Asylum was the expression in this country of a wave of pity for the neglects and tortures of the insane which was sweeping over the civilized world. It was the earliest provision in New York State, and almost the earliest in the country, for humane care of the insane. Now, a hundred years later, there is a widespread movement in this country, for not only humane care, but for more intelligent dealing with mental disorders as a problem to be solved. There is a demand for research, for the better instruction and training in mental diseases of physicians and nurses, for earlier recognition and treatment of the cases, and for the application of psychiatric knowledge to the study and management of behavior disorders as they are met with in the schools, in the courts, in the correctional institutions, and in the home. It seems fitting that the Society of the New York Hospital should again have a leading place in making provision for the more advanced methods which the new movement demands, and that the centennials of Bloomingdale Hospital should be celebrated by the completion of such improvements and extensions as may be necessary to permit of carrying on the work in accordance with the advancing requirements.

The following changes took place in the medical staff: Dr. John H. Moss, medical interne, resigned March 20th. Dr. Howard Wieland Potter was appointed medical interne May 1st. Dr. Karl Bowman was advanced from the position of medical interne to that of assistant physician on January 1st.

The position of chaplain was filled on May 1st by the appointment of the Reverend R. M. Sherman of White Plains.

Three hundred and seventeen volumes were added to the libraries during the year; 264 to the general library, 10 to the nurses' library, and 43 to the medical library. One hundred and ten of these volumes were donated. The distribution from the patients' library amounted to 3,787 volumes.

By the will of Mrs. Catharine Jane Pryor, the Hospital received a bequest of $500.00. It was decided by the Bloomingdale Committee that the bequest should be devoted to the purchase of books for the patients' library, and that each volume should be appropriately marked. A gift of 74 books for the patients' library was received from Mr. Joseph Yeska; two handsome jardiniers were presented by Mrs. Fannie B. Nesbit; a cash donation for the patients' library was received from Mrs. Morris J. Lewi, and a subscription for a magazine from Mrs. George Dana Mumford. The Nurses' Club received from friends of the Hospital cash donations amounting to $75.00.

Bloomingdale Road and the sewer which runs through it, the construction of which a few years ago cost the Hospital $8,000.00, was during the year, dedicated to the City of White Plains for the use of the public.

The annual inspection of the Hospital by the Governors was made on May 31st.

I am glad to have again an opportunity to testify to the loyal and efficient service which has been rendered by the members of the medical staff, the executive officers, and the employees generally during a year of unusual activity in nearly every department of the Hospital.

For the wise counsel and encouragement of the Bloomingdale Committee, which are a constant source of strength and hope, and for the continued evidence of the confidence and support of your Honorable Board, I cannot too often express my deep appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. RUSSELL,
Medical Superintendent.

Six probationers were not accepted, and eight pupils were dropped from the school during the year.

Five pupils have completed with credit the nine months at the New York Hospital required in the three-year course.

An affiliation with a general hospital by which supplementary training may be obtained for male pupils is being planned.

Some distinct improvements in the curriculum have been made during the year. The courses in hydrotherapy and massage, and in occupational and special therapeutics have been elaborated.

Some equipment has been added to the class room and an additional room, large enough to contain three beds, is being fitted up as a demonstration room.

A well equipped diet kitchen, especially arranged for instruction, is also nearly completed.

The Nurses' Club has been enlarged and has been quite successful. Gifts to the amount of $75.00 from friends of the Hospital were made to the Club during the year.

The graduation exercises were held on May 31st. Thirteen graduates were presented with certificates by the President of the Board of Governors, and an appropriate and stimulating address was made by Dr. Charles Macfie Campbell of Johns Hopkins Medical School.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT CAMPBELL CONVALESCENT COTTAGES WHITE PLAINS, NEW YORK.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to submit the following report of the Campbell Convalescent Cottages for the year 1916:

The year 1916 was undoubtedly the busiest year in the history of the Cottages, surpassing in activity even our high record of 1915. The number of admissions and hospital days showed a marked increase over previous years, which was partly due to the fact that the Cottages were unusually free from contagious sickness.

The opening of the remodelled cottage for older girls in 1915, permitted the admission of a larger number of young children to the other cottages, and we have received a great many children between two and six years of age, representing a proportionate increase in nurses' services.

Not only has there been an increase in the number of young children, but we have cared for more sick cases than usual, at one time there having been no fewer than twenty-four bed cases.

Many cardiac cases were cared for in both cottages, and in the older girls' department, the number was at one time fifty per cent. of the total.

There have been many notable recoveries and improvements of various kinds—sometimes in almost hopeless cases—particularly two or three surgical, and one or two bronchitis and preventive cases.

The older girls' cottage has always been fully occupied. The majority of the girls enjoy the various forms of instruction that are offered to them, and take pride in their achievements.

Having had many years' experience with women patients, we realize how appallingly helpless many of these girls will probably be, if left to themselves. The girls prepare a simple little entertainment once a week.

The average gain in weight in the younger children's cottage was somewhat less than that of last year, but is accounted for in the increased number of very young children.

We are very thankful that the infantile paralysis that wrought such disaster last summer, and was present here in White Plains, passed us by. The children were not permitted to pass beyond our gates, nor to receive visitors, but our admissions were allowed to continue, ours being the only institution in this vicinity accorded that privilege. This was due to the satisfactory reports on our methods, and those of the visiting staff of nurses connected with our Hospital.

An interesting step in the direction of instructing and entertaining our children was made by the purchase of a motion-picture machine. This valuable acquisition was made possible by a generous donation from an unknown friend, whose contribution also provided swings, tennis and games.

A gift from another friend permitted the renting of a certain number of films for motion-pictures. We have been informed by the Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences that they will lend us, regularly, a limited number of educational films, which, added to those which we rent, will provide the children with one performance a week for some time.

A certain amount of necessary indoor and outdoor painting was done.

The new cement walks connecting the pavilions with the Cottages are greatly appreciated by those who laboriously carried all the young children to and fro when the grass was wet.

The increase in the cost of living has made itself felt here, as elsewhere, and our monthly expenses have increased very noticeably.

We are deeply grateful to the ever-widening circle of friends who, in spite of their many private interests, remember our little children at Christmas time. So complete was the children's happiness this year, that one delightful little girl of six years, whose charms were in wonderful contrast to her poverty, exclaimed breathlessly to one of the nurses:

"Now what do you suppose you will do here next Easter?"

I am very grateful to the Board of Governors for their advice and encouragement.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE C. ELLISON,
Assistant Superintendent.

LEGACIES TO THE HOSPITAL.

The Hospital has been greatly aided by this form of generosity. No precise words are necessary to a valid legacy to the corporation. The following clause, however, may be suggested:

"I give to THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL the sum of.....dollars."

If land or any specific personal property such as bonds, stocks, &c. is given, a brief description of the property should be inserted instead of the words "the sum of.....dollars."

TO THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

The Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital respectfully present their Annual Report of the state of the institutions under their charge for the year 1917.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

GOVERNORS OF THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR 1917.

In conformity with the provisions of its Charter, granted by Royal authority, June 13, 1771, in the reign of King George III., the Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital present their Annual Report and a statement showing the receipts and expenditures for the year 1917 of the several institutions under their control and management, as follows:

The Hospital at Fifteenth Street, the House of Relief at Hudson Street, the Department for the treatment of mental diseases, known as Bloomingdale Hospital, and the Convalescent Cottages at White Plains, Westchester County.

For the eighth time since the creation of our Society, our country finds itself at war. The Society's connection with it is naturally the subject of paramount interest, and to this we first call your attention.

During the year 1916, the Medical Board of the Hospital, at the request of the American Red Cross, with the permission of the Governors, organized a Base Hospital Unit, now known as Base Hospital Unit No. 9. At the declaration of war, this Unit passed under the control of the War Department. One of our Governors, Mr. George F. Baker, gave to the American Red Cross the sum of $1,000,000, and kindly requested that organization to set aside $25,000 of this sum to aid in the equipment of the New York Hospital Unit. The family of our former President, Mr. Cornelius N. Bliss, gave to the Society for the same object $10,000. This and other gifts made it possible for the Society to establish the Ambulance without encroachment on its all too insufficient income. The following is a list of the donors to whom we are able, through this report, to renew our thanks:

George F. Baker	$25,000.00
Cornelius N. Bliss Memorial Fund	10,000.00
Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Scoville	1,000.00
E. C. Converse	2,500.00
Thomas F. Ryan	500.00
George C. Clark	100.00
F. Augustus Schermerhorn	500.00
Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine	1,000.00
William Bruce Brown	500.00

Thomas F. Clark	$250.00
Dr. Charles L. Gibson	50.00
Dr. William L. Culbert	26.25
Mrs. Chas. E. Farr	2.50
Miss Elizabeth Whitman	500.00
Dr. Allen M. Thomas	15.00

Finally, very early on an August morning a committee of the Governors, with the Superintendent from the bulkhead on Ellis Island, waved a good-bye to the Unit which crowded every foot of the tugboat destined to convey it to the transport.

The headquarters of the Unit are somewhere in France. For some time there was little to do either for surgeons or nurses in the new hospital, but it is now fairly full of patients and its activities are steadily increasing.

Next to our war activities, a most important event was the gift to the Hospital by one of its Governors, Mr. Payne Whitney, of $87,000 to meet a deficit of like amount in the budget of the Society for the year 1916. The Society's grateful acknowledgment is made to Mr. Whitney for this generous gift.

The cause of this deficit is not difficult to guess. An increase in the cost of labor and of every article of consumption used in a hospital, from coal to gauze, easily explains the rise in expenditures.

Mr. Whitney's kind act was doubly opportune, for, as explained in the report of the Society for last year, its financial condition is anything but encouraging. We are carrying at a very heavy expense the block of land on the North River, bought by the Society some years ago as a site for its new hospital. The condition of affairs remains the same as when we made our last report. Meanwhile, we have entirely outgrown our present hospital plant on 15th and 16th Streets. The situation is indeed one of anxiety to the Society and its friends.

There are several subjects discussed by the Superintendent in his interesting report, to which we invite your special attention. Among others, are the surprising increase in the number of the personnel of the city hospital as compared with five years ago; the increase in the number of private patients in the 15th and 16th Streets Hospital cared for during the year, amounting to an increase of 50% in four years, and the valuable statistical table showing the receipts and expenditures of the Hospital for the past ten years. The increase in receipts of 141% is of course due in some measure to the Workmen's Compensation Law of the State.

When our Ambulance Unit departed for France, it carried off half the strength of our medical and surgical staff. Dr. Lewis A. Stimson, Dr. Francis W. Murray and Dr. Percy R. Bolton, formerly

OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN
New York Hospital Unit
U. S. Army Base Hospital No. 9

Attending Surgeons, now of our Consulting Staff, at once volunteered to return to active service for as long a period as might seem necessary to the Hospital. Scarcely had Dr. Stimson made this loyal offer when he passed away very suddenly at his country place in the Shinnecock Hills, Long Island, the fullness of his power undiminished, and his interest in the war as keen as it was in the one nearly sixty years ago, in which he took part. At a memorial meeting held at the Cornell Medical School, the New York Hospital paid its tribute to his memory.

We make record here of our gratitude to Doctors Murray and Bolton for their generous offer.

During the year the Society became, by the death of James B. Brady, the residuary legatee under his will. It was his plan to establish a department for the treatment of genito-urinary diseases. Until the amount of this legacy is more definitely known, it will not be possible to make any final plans for carrying out the wishes of the testator. It is feared that the Society will receive a much smaller sum than was anticipated.

The report of the Medical Superintendent of Bloomingdale Hospital is of unusual interest, since it shows a steady increase in the number of voluntary patients, and also shows that the Society expended $113,000 in maintaining at the Hospital patients who otherwise would have been unable to avail themselves of its help. The Hospital each year finds among its patients a larger number of incipient and more curable cases.

We call your attention to Dr. Russell's desire to interest the public in the further development of the resources of the Hospital for the treatment and prevention of the less severe forms and stages of nervous and mental disorders.

Owing to the decision of the Secretary of War, to defer classification of medical students for only one year after their graduation, the term of service of the House Staff of the Hospital has been reduced from two years to one year, and of the House of Relief from eighteen months to one year.

In an effort to be of use in preparing young surgeons for their medical career in the service, the Hospital, through Dr. Herendeen, has given instruction to officers of the Medical Reserve Corps, in X-ray work in connection with the treatment of disease. Nearly four hundred young officers have received from him valuable instruction.

There is recorded elsewhere in this report an expression by the Governors of their appreciation of the loss sustained by the Society in the death, during the last twelve months, of two of its governors, loyal servants of the Society and leaders among their fellow men. Joseph H. Choate for forty years aided us with his wise advice, and his interest never abated. George L. Rives for seven years directed with judgment and discretion the affairs of the Society as its President,—how wisely and how well, the Board of Governors can bear witness.

We are now in need not merely of great sums for construction, but of funds with which to maintain us in our daily work. Contributions large and small are most acceptable. The Society is too closely allied with the history of the City for nearly a century and a half to make us fear its inability to continue its career, but aid at this time would be most acceptable, and we earnestly invite the public to take an interest in the Society's work.

HOWARD TOWNSEND,
President.

In Memoriam

JOSEPH HODGES CHOATE

Died May 14, 1917

In May, 1877, Mr. Choate was elected a Governor of the New York Hospital. In the same month, forty years later, the tidings of his death shocked the world. During that long period he maintained a constant interest in the Society, and was always ready with his aid and counsel in the management of its affairs. Except in the six years of his absence from the United States, when Ambassador to Great Britain, he was regular in attendance at the meetings of the Governors, served on many committees, and was fertile in suggestion and wise in advice. His presence never failed to shed distinction on our deliberations, and his wide humanitarian sympathies accorded happily with the ancient traditions of the institution. In the long catalogue of our Governors there are a few whose term of office exceeded even his protracted service, but no member of the Board, since its foundation, has equalled his many-sided achievement in international fame, in national service, in civic virtues, in supreme professional leadership, and in surpassing social charm. While he was with us he had our affectionate admiration, and now that we have lost him the memory of his gracious personality will be a priceless treasure.

In Memoriam

GEORGE LOCKHART RIVES

Died August 18, 1917

George Lockhart Rives, a former President of the Society of the New York Hospital, died at his home in Newport, Rhode Island, on the morning of Saturday, August 18th, 1917.

Therefore, it is fitting that we, his surviving associates on the Board of Governors of the Hospital, should spread upon our Minutes at this time our loyal tribute to his memory.

Mr. Rives was born on May 1st, 1849, and after the usual preliminary studies, entered Columbia College, as it was then styled, graduating with a high reputation after a most brilliant career. He then resided as a student at Trinity College, Cambridge University, England, receiving from that Institution a degree of third Wrangler on the conclusion of his studies there. While at the University, his literary abilities were highly trained and developed; he also gained great proficiency as an oarsman and an athlete. Returning to his native city, he studied law and early secured prominence at the Bar, his ability being readily appreciated.

In 1888–1889 he went to Washington and served as Assistant Secretary of State of the United States under the Secretaryship of the Honorable Thomas Bayard, during the administration of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Rives likewise held the official positions of Corporation Counsel under the mayorality of the late Seth Low, and Counsel of the Subway R. R. Commission.

But it was not so much in the practice of his profession or in official labors that Mr. Rives made his abilities felt, as in the broad usefulness of his unselfish efforts for the uplifting and improving of mankind and the development of those institutions devoted to education, literature and philanthropy with which he became allied. To this great labor he gave unstintingly of his time and by the use of his unusually clear judgment, wise discernment and great tact, he created conditions, formed regulations and established customs that will prove of lasting benefit to future generations in the years to come.

Perhaps the most distinct attribute of Mr. Rives' fine character was a deeply implanted and fully developed sense of justice. Gifted with unusual capacity and endowed with great mental gifts, he was tolerant of the shortcomings of others and willingly assigned to them such consideration as they deserved. Absolutely clear in his own convictions, he yet readily understood that others were entitled to their views and opinions and he conceded to them a fair and unbiased hearing. With a firm and unwavering opposition to all semblance of duplicity or wrong, he set an example that could not fail to have the most far-reaching influence for good.

We may truly say of Mr. Rives that his absolute devotion to duty and his freedom from all personal ambition created a public servant of rare value, while his upright nature and personal charm formed ties of affectionate friendship and respect that will long endure in the memories of all who were fortunate enough to share his labors and feel his influence.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL AND HOUSE OF RELIEF.

To the Board of Governors;

GENTLEMEN:—The cost of maintaining the New York Hospital in 1917 was $366,032.01 against $311,535.60 in 1916, an increase of $54,496.41. As the receipts were $19,527.69 greater than in 1916, the net increased cost of maintaining the Hospital was $34,968.72.

The cost of maintaining the House of Relief in 1917 was $75,025.41 against $64,595.69 in 1916, an increase of $10,429.72. As the receipts were $1,672.12 less than in 1916, the net increased cost was $12,101.84.

The factors contributing to the increased expenses of both institutions were the increased cost of practically all supplies, increased cost of labor and larger expenditures for improvements, repairs and appliances.

The average price paid for meats in 1917 was 28% above the 1916 average, while poultry showed an increase of 10%, butter of 30% and eggs of 38%.

Expenditures for drugs and chemicals were unusually large, partly on account of the increased prices and partly on account of our carrying a larger reserve stock than has been our custom in the past. Our reason for carrying a larger stock is that owing to the present disturbed conditions, certain drugs and chemicals are at times unobtainable.

In 1917 we spent for fuel, oil and waste $27,424.92 as compared with $17,920.02 in 1916. This increase was due to increased cost per ton and larger consumption. The increased consumption of coal was due to the inferior grade of coal delivered to the Hospital, it being impossible for our dealer to obtain the grade of coal we have used in former years. The price paid for coal has been increased from $4.15 a long ton in 1916 to between $6.00 and $9.00 for a short ton.

There are probably few persons not engaged in Hospital work, who realize how large hospital payrolls have become. The modern Hospital in order to fulfil its obligations to the public must not only have adequate staffs of physicians and nurses but must also employ large numbers of other persons.

The New York Hospital has 230 ward beds and 55 private rooms for patients, treats 300 patients daily in its Dispensary and Emergency Room, and answers an average of 21 ambulance calls every twenty-four hours. To perform these functions requires a personnel of about 468 distributed as follows:

Attending Staff: 40 physicians.

Pathological Staff: 7 physicians, 3 clerks, 2 porters.

Out-Patient Staff: 45 physicians, 4 clerks, 1 porter, 2 maids, 1 head nurse.

House Staff: 18 physicians.

Corporation Office: 1 secretary, 1 assistant secretary, 1 clerk.

Executive Staff: 1 superintendent, 3 admitting physicians, 1 accountant, 1 cashier, 1 compensation clerk, 1 record clerk, 4 medical history clerks, 2 clerks, 4 telephone operators, 2 messengers.

Apothecary Department: 2 druggists, 2 porters.

Engineering Department: 3 engineers, 2 firemen, 3 coal passers, 1 plumber, 1 electrician, 2 oilers, 1 carpenter, 4 painters.

Housekeeping Department: 1 housekeeper, 1 assistant housekeeper, 2 cooks, 7 kitchen helpers, 3 laundrymen, 19 laundresses, 14 house maids, 6 waitresses, 2 seamstresses.

Nursing Department: 1 directress, 1 assistant directress, 1 clerical assistant, 1 night supervisor—18 other graduates; 110 pupil nurses, 1 dietitian, 1 housekeeper, 23 orderlies, 15 ward and floor maids, 3 nursery maids, 17 housemaids and waitresses, 10 special nurses.

Social Service Department: 1 head worker, 6 other workers.

Steward's Department: 1 storekeeper, 1 assistant storekeeper, 1 butcher.

X-Ray Department: 1 physician, 3 assistants (technicians).

Porter's Department: 1 head porter, 8 elevator runners, 2 doormen, 2 window cleaners, 14 housemen and yard men.

Ambulance Department: 1 mechanic, 3 chauffeurs.

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS.

Owing to the failure of the Street Cleaning Department to render adequate services, it became necessary for the hospital to enter into a contract with a private contractor for the removal of its ashes. This means an additional expense to the Hospital of about $1,500 a year.

Recognizing that a shut down of our heat, light and power plant on account of accident or for repairs would result in seriously crippling the work of the Hospital, it was decided to establish an auxiliary or break-down connection with the main of the New York Edison Company. The gross cost of this service will be about $900 annually, but we hope the net cost will be much less.

The expenditures for roof repairs and plumbing renewals were unusually large. A considerable amount of new plumbing was installed on the third, fourth and ninth floors of the Private Patients Building.

Part of the waiting room, used by friends of private patients, was converted into an additional office for the Directress of Nurses.

A room on the third floor of the Help's Dormitory Building was allotted to Laboratory purposes and fully equipped for Bacteriological Work at a cost of about $3,000. This department has been largely increased in recent years and now occupies about 4,700 square feet of floor surface.

The large room on the fourth floor of the Help's Dormitory Building was converted into a Conference and Lecture Room. A projectoscope was installed in this room. This projectoscope is used in illustrating lectures.

A Meyer Universal Fluoroscope, A Klineoscope, a Meyer Fluoroscopic table and an interrupterless coil with a Coolidge transformer and controller were added to the X-Ray equipment.

The brick work under all of the seven boilers was repaired and new archers were built at an expense of about $800. Subsequent to the completion of this work, our insurance company notified us that it would not renew the policy covering these boilers owing to their extreme age, they having been in service 27 years. Accordingly it became necessary to contract for three new boilers, which will be installed within the next few months. We hope to effect a material reduction in our coal bill when the new boilers are installed as we shall then be in a position to successfully use the cheaper grades of coal.

NURSING DEPARTMENT.

The Nursing Department has been unusually active during the year.

A large portion of the work of furnishing nurses for the Base Hospital fell upon the shoulders of Miss Jordan and her assistants.

The housing of the nurses has become a problem. We need more and better sleeping accommodations. We are now compelled to limit the size of our classes because of the lack of these accommodations. The use of rented family residences for housing nurses has proved unsatisfactory.

HEART CLINIC.

The establishment of this clinic was made possible through the generosity of a patient of Dr. Theodore B. Barringer who has borne all the expenses connected therewith.

Of the 133 patients treated, 108 were adults and 25 children, they making a total of 365 visits to the clinic. We found that 20 applicants had had incorrect diagnoses of "Heart disease" made outside, for their hearts were normal.

The circulatory reactions to graduated exercises were determined in 92 patients in order to advise them as to the suitability of their occupations and also as to the amount of exercise they might safely take.

Visits to the clinic were made by a number of physicians and nurses interested in cardiac work. During the year Dr. Hubert Mann and Dr. C. W. Lieb volunteered as assistants.

AFTER-CARE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS CASES.

In 1916, the Governors of the Hospital opened, furnished and maintained the old Orthopaedic Hospital plant in East 59th Street for the care of acute cases of Poliomyelitis. All told 122 patients were treated. In 1917, 3,557 treatments were given to 117 patients suffering from the after effects of this disease. This year we worked in co-operation with the New York Committee on After-Care of Infantile Paralysis. This committee reimbursed the Hospital for expenditures incurred in treating these patients.

INCREASED ACCOMMODATIONS FOR PRIVATE PATIENTS.

For several years past the Hospital has been unable to meet the demand for accommodations on the part of its private patients. In order to accomplish this, in part, it was decided to move the interns from the 3rd and 4th floors of the private pavilion to the house No. 12 West 16th Street occupied by the Superintendent, and to add the rooms thus vacated on the 3rd and 4th floors to the private patients' service.

The rooms on the 9th floor of the Private Patient Building, formerly used for isolation purposes, were made into quarters for the Superintendent and his family.

The receipts from private patients in 1917 were $69,651.56, compared with $56,751.40 in 1916, $49,634.25 in 1915 and $44,844.00 in 1914.

HYDRIATIC DEPARTMENT.

In this Department treatment is furnished to ward, private room, and out-patients. Men and women are treated on alternate afternoons. Expert operators are in constant attendance. The average daily number of treatments in 1917 was 7 plus. The number of new patients treated during the year was 413, and the total number of treatments in 1917 was 2,123.

THE TEN YEAR RECORD.

The statistical table presented herewith shows receipts and expenditures of the Fifteenth-Sixteenth Streets Hospital for the past ten years, during which time expenditures have increased from $261,906.87 to $366,032.01, or 39 per cent, and receipts from $72,581.83 to $174,921.11, or about 141 per cent. In 1908 the receipts were 28 per cent of the expenditures. In 1917 the receipts were 48 per cent of the expenditures. During this ten year period hospital days have increased from 77,003 to 100,132, or about 30 per cent.

AMBULANCE SERVICE—1917.

The amount of work done at the New York Hospital was not quite as large as during the previous year. The total number of calls answered was 7,872 as compared with 8,099 in 1916.

At the House of Relief 3,963 calls were answered as compared with 4,093 the previous year.

There are four electric ambulances in service at the New York Hospital and two at the House of Relief. A horse ambulance is also maintained at the House of Relief. During the year two new electric ambulances were purchased for the House of Relief and one for the New York Hospital.

BASE HOSPITAL.

In 1916, The New York Hospital was asked by the American Red Cross Society to organize from its administrative and professional staffs a Base Hospital, which in case of need could be sent forward with our Army. In June this organization was ordered to prepare to report for duty abroad. It departed from New York the early part of August, arriving in France about two weeks later. It is known as United States Army Base Hospital No. 9, and is in charge of Major Arthur N. Tasker, Commanding Officer, with Major Charles L. Gibson, attending Surgeon of the New York Hospital as Director. The government appointed Captain J. Gould as Quartermaster and Dr. G. W. Zulauf, Assistant Superintendent of the New York Hospital, was made Admitting Officer. Captain Raymond S. Brown, Assistant Pastor of the Calvary Episcopal Church, accompanied the Unit as Chaplain.

The equipment furnished the Unit was quite complete, costing about $80,000.

Part of the equipment was donated, and the gifts of money received were ample to cover the balance of the expenditures. A list of donors appears in the Annual Report of the President of the Society.

The Unit is particularly indebted to Mrs. Payne Whitney, Chairman of the Women's War Auxiliary of the New York Hospital. Mrs. Whitney, assisted by an able staff of volunteer workers, has supplied the Unit with the following articles:

Number of garments	1,619
Muslin work	1,862
Gauze work	74,036
Bandages	3,369
Knitted articles	553
Miscellaneous articles	2,392

The personnel of the Unit consists of 26 doctors, 153 enlisted men, 65 nurses and 6 civilian employees, as follows:

CARE OF SOLDIERS.

On the outbreak of the war the Board of Governors made preparations to have the Hospital and House of Relief in readiness, in event of any great calamity in the city, to receive and care for a large number of patients. Fortunately, so far, there has been no need for setting up additional beds. During the year the hospital cared for 25 enlisted men and 4 officers. Twenty-four of the enlisted men were admitted December 13th. They were transferred from U. S. Army Hospital No. 1, Gun Hill Road.

DENTAL DEPARTMENT.

A dentist is on duty four mornings of each week from 9:30 until 12 o'clock. Adults as well as children are treated, and there are no charges.

The number of patients treated in 1917 was 2,333 against 3,183 in 1916. There were 93 cement fillings, 12 oral surgery cases including fractures, opening abscesses, removing necrotic bone, etc., 59 root canal treatments, 129 cleanings, 659 amalgam fillings, 36 enamel fillings, 93 cement fillings, 1,057 extractions, 359 treatments.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Haven Relief Fund Society made its customary annual contribution of $400. This money was disbursed by the Social Service Department in conformity with the aim of the donor, which is "especially the affording of temporary relief to unobtrusive suffering endured by industrious or worthy persons." A detailed report of the disbursements was rendered to Mr. Charles M. Bleecker, Secretary of the Society.

The Hospital received through Dr. Theodore B. Barringer, Jr., $350, the donor requesting that it be used for the purchase of instruments of precision for the Medical Wards.

The contributions for equipping Base Hospital Number 9 and other large contributions are referred to in the Annual Report of the President.

Mrs. Waldron Post Brown gave $20 and Mr. Augustine J. Smith $25 for Christmas festivities.

Numerous donations of flowers, toys, books and magazines were received and duly acknowledged.

For Financial and other Statistics see Statistical Report between pages 26 to 27.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS HOWELL,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL BOARD OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1917.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The year 1917 has shown no remission in the active work of the Hospital.

The following table presents a summary of the number of patients for the year:

New York Hospital.

Patients in Wards	5,470
Days of Hospital Residence	77,155
Patients in Dispensary	14,780
Patients' Visits to Dispensary	76,752
Ambulance Calls	7,872

House of Relief.

Patients in Wards	1,843
Days of Hospital Residence	16,144
Patients in Dispensary	13,778
Patients' Visits to Dispensary	33,033
Ambulance Calls	3,963

The number of operations was 3,202, an increase of 324 over 1916. To make this amount of work possible, both operating rooms were in use the greater part of every day and many emergency operations were performed at night.

For the purpose of teaching, the wards, operating rooms and the conference room have been in almost daily use. On the First Division Cornell students have received systematic instruction in medicine, surgery and pediatrics. On the Second Division students from Columbia have been similarly taught in surgery. The medical clinics of the Second Medical Division to practicing physicians have been transferred to the conference room, because the number of physicians in attendance made the use of the wards impracticable.

A special class in the Dispensary for patients suffering from diseases of the heart has been established on Thursday afternoons by Dr. Barringer. The expenses of this clinic have been borne by one of Dr. Barringer's patients. One hundred and thirty-three patients have been treated in this class and 365 visits were made by them. A number of physicians and nurses interested in cardiac work have visited the clinic with a great deal of interest.

The Social Service Department has continued in increasing measure to give invaluable help in the care of patients during their convalescence, and by rendering much needed assistance to the families of patients has made it possible to keep the patients themselves in wards long enough to favor the permanence of their improvement. The direct influence of this Department upon the therapeutic results of hospital care cannot be overestimated, and we wish to express our appreciation of the help so eagerly and efficiently given.

The war has profoundly affected all departments of the Hospital. The Base Hospital Unit, which had been organized by the invitation of the American Red Cross, was called to active service last summer and is now Base Hospital No. 9 of the U. S. Army, and at present is established in France where it is actively engaged in the treatment of soldiers. The list of its personnel is given elsewhere in this volume.

The removal of so many physicians and surgeons from the Hospital has necessitated many changes in our staff.

On the First Division, in the absence of Dr. Gibson, the surgical service has been in charge of Dr. Hitzrot. Dr. Conner, who, on the eve of the mobilization of the Unit, found himself unable to leave this country did, however, devote several months to the examination of recruits as Consultant on Tuberculosis and the Heart. During his absence the First Medical service was in charge of Dr. Roper, assisted by Dr. Holland as Acting Associate Attending Physician.

On the Second Division, in the absence of Dr. Pool, the surgical service was put in charge of Dr. Erdman and Dr. Bancroft.

The Second Medical Division lost Dr. Cussler, but no temporary appointment in his place has as yet been made.

The Pathological Department, in the absence of Dr. Elser, is in charge of Dr. Wheeler with the assistance of Dr. Muller, Dr. Spencer and Dr. Winslow.

At the House of Relief, Dr. Hoguet has assumed charge of the surgical division in the absence of Dr. Turnure, who is organizing Mobile Operating Units for service at the front. Dr. Kenyon is a Captain in the artillery service.

The interne staff also has been greatly disorganized by the appeal of the war. So many of the internes volunteered for the medical work of the army and navy that it has been necessary to shorten the duration of interneship from two years to one year. This lessens the value of the service to the internes, and in the absence of Resident Physicians and Surgeons, throws much additional work on the Attending Staff. There seemed, however, to be no other course possible because both the army and navy had announced that they would respect residence in a hospital for a period of one year only as grounds for exemption from the draft. Under the present plan, the service of the internes in each of the four grades from Junior Assistant to House has a duration of three months instead of six months as it was previously. A somewhat similar reorganization of the interne staff of the House of Relief has been effected, with a period of four months in each of the three grades from Junior Assistant to House.

The work of the Pathological Department continues to broaden in its scope and to increase in the amount of work done. The Schick test, which is a measure of the individual susceptibility to Diphtheria, is performed as a routine upon all patients admitted to the children's wards. The Wassermann test is done on all adult patients. Whenever possible, a determination of the type of the infecting pneumococcus is made in all cases of pneumonia. These determinations add to the amount of pathological work done, but they are of distinct benefit to the patients in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of disease.

The Department of Roentgenology has added to its equipment a fluoroscopic apparatus which is in frequent use and has been of much assistance in increasing the usefulness of this valuable department. Dr. Herendeen is acting as Roentgenologist during the absence of Dr. Busby with the Base Hospital.

A list of the publications by the members of the Medical Board is appended to this report.

In conclusion, the Medical Board wishes to express to the Board of Governors its appreciation of their generous help in meeting the unusual difficulties of the year due to the exigencies of the war.

REPORT OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES FOR THE YEAR 1917.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—It is my privilege to present to you the forty-first annual report of the School of Nursing.

The closing year registers the following Staff on duty in the Hospital:

Directress	1
Clerical Assistant	0
Night Supervisor	1
Supervisor, Private Patient's Pavilion	1
Supervisor, Out-Patient Department	1
Supervisor, House of Relief	1
Night Supervisor, House of Relief	0 (1 Senior Pupil)
Operating-room Nurses	4 and 1 Senior Pupil
Graduate Nurses on Wards	7 and 2 Senior Pupils
Graduate Nurses on Private Floors	3
Dietitian	1
Total Number ... Graduates	21 and 4 Senior Pupils

The number of Students in the School is as follows:

SENIOR CLASS, 1918.

Number reported last year, 32; resigned, 5; died, 1; advanced from Intermediate Class, 25; remaining	51

INTERMEDIATE CLASS, 1919.

Number reported last year, 47; resigned, 1; disqualified, 4; advanced to Senior Class, 25; remaining	17

JUNIOR CLASS, 1920.

Entered, 42; disqualified, 8; resigned, 1; remaining	33
Preparatory Class, entered	12
Affiliated Pupils (Bloomingdale Hospital)	5

The irregular division of the Student Classes is due to the adjustment of the course from twenty-six months to thirty-six months. Owing to the withdrawal of Graduate Nurses for foreign duty, four Senior Pupils are at present occupying charge positions.

The first class of the three year course is dated from March 1917 and during the coming year these students will derive the benefit of our affiliations and have the opportunity of gaining experience in the care of mental and nervous and contagious diseases. The broadening of our field of work will be of great value to the School, as our nurses will go forth much better prepared to meet the emergencies that war has occasioned both at home and abroad.

Eight hundred and fifty-two applications for admission to the Training School have been received and of these fifty-one have been admitted as students of the School.

The nurses have, on the whole, enjoyed very good health, and we feel that this is largely due to the care taken in the provision of good food. With an average daily attendance of one hundred and eight pupils, the total number of days of illness for 1917 is 708; the average number of students off duty per month 7.4; the average number of days off per student for illness per month .5. Although we have had seven resignations for various reasons, none have been on account of illness.

We are again called upon to report the loss of five of our graduates: Mrs. Mary E. Dilts, Class 1879; Mrs. Basil Dutcher, nee M. H. Walker, Class 1896; Mary V. Post, Class 1899; Mrs. H. S. Thompson, nee Isabelle Bertha Swan, Class 1904; Mrs. Thomas Martin, nee Mary M. Weatherhead, Class 1906.

A shadow was cast over our School when one of our pupils was suddenly called from her life of usefulness, our sympathy is extended to her family.

Owing to the increased accommodation for private patients in the Pavilion, the Isolation Rooms have been put to other usage, consequently the two nurses who contracted contagious diseases were transferred to the Minturn Hospital, where they received excellent care and made good recoveries.

It was with regret that we learned of the resignation of Dr. J. Morley Hitzrot as the attending physician to the Training School. We owe him a debt of gratitude for his good care and untiring attention to the nurses. His skill and good judgment have been much appreciated and we feel we are losing a good friend with our medical advisor. We thank the Medical Board for their appointment of Dr. Spencer as Dr. Hitzrot's successor.

The Graduating Exercises of Class 1917 were held in the Governor's Room of the Administration Building on Wednesday evening, March the seventh. Miss Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College, delivered a most appropriate and interesting address. Her inspiring words were an incentive to the Class to buckle on their armor and march forth with courage into the many fields of opportunity opening out before them. The diplomas and medals were presented by Mr. Howard Townsend, President of the Board of Governors. After the Exercises the Graduating Class received their friends in the Reception Room of the Nurses' Residence, where an enjoyable evening was spent.

The order, last August, for our Base Hospital Unit to mobilize depleted our Staff of Graduates considerably, but we were fortunate in being able to replace most of the nurses by the younger graduates, and thus tide over what would have been at that time a serious emergency, this, however, we feel is only a temporary arrangement, as the majority of our nurses holding responsible positions are on call for various detachments and mobile units, we realize this is war time, and are making every plan possible to meet the coming emergencies without serious curtailment of the Hospital work.

To date one hundred and thirty-five of our graduates have answered the call to service at home and abroad, and many of these have gone overseas a second time. It is in the field of private nursing that their loss is felt most keenly; two hundred and fifteen are enrolled with the Red Cross and seven have joined the Army Nurse Corps, of these thirty-one are waiting for their call to service.

Notwithstanding the increased pressure of work with all its corresponding difficulties, caused by these abnormal and everchanging conditions, the work has progressed harmoniously, and at the close of this busy, difficult, but most interesting year, we express our deepest appreciation of the hearty co-operation of all departments.

Respectfully submitted,

ZAIDIE BLISS,
Treasurer.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

Dear Sirs:—It is again my privilege to hand you the report of the Social Service Department for the year 1917.

I hope you will feel as we do, that the work of the department as a whole shows satisfactory results.

We were unfortunate in the summer in losing three members of our staff, who left for France with the hospital unit, and one member in the fall, who left for home service. But in spite of this the work was continued, if not on a larger scale, at least to the extent of former years. Although the staff was depleted for a time, through the energy and efficiency of those who remained, it was so managed that the work did not suffer. Through the interest and generosity of the members of the Social Service Auxiliary Committee we were able to raise a small fund amounting to two thousand dollars which was given in charge of Miss Vroom to be used for emergency expenses for the nurses of Base Hospital Number 9. We have heard from her that it has been very useful and much appreciated on many occasions.

It is a source of satisfaction to us to see the spirit of gratitude which is shown by many of the poor families whom the department has helped in the past. They often return to tell of the improvement in their conditions and sometimes to repay the loans. One woman brought a jar of pickles and asked us to put it in one of the Christmas baskets and another gave a dollar to help with the Christmas dinners.

Many who have never received charity before and who dread the publicity of the big relief organizations, seem to have a feeling of friendliness and confidence towards our department which makes it possible to solve many of their problems and give them temporary help which their pride would otherwise prevent them from receiving.

The report which follows speaks for itself, and I trust you will share with us the belief that we are doing all that we can at the present time, and the hope that as the work grows, as it does, month by month and year by year, we shall have the organization, interest, energy and funds to meet the ever increasing demands and to carry on the work in the most efficient way possible.

Very sincerely yours,

ELEANOR ISELIN,

Chairman of the Auxiliary Committee to the Social Service Dept. of the New York Hospital.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—I beg leave to submit the following report of the Social Service Department for the year 1917.

NUMBERS OF STAFF AND DIVISIONS OF WORK.

The work is divided as follows: The Social Service Nurse at House of Relief, Nurse of Children's Wards and Clinics, Nurse of the Tuberculosis Clinics, Nurse of Surgical Follow-Up Work, Nurse of Syphilology Clinics, two Nurses for General Work (including Convalescence of Adults and Cardiac Clinics), Head Nurse or Supervisor—including eight in all.

EFFECTS OF THE WAR.

This Department, as well as all others of the Hospital, has felt the uncertainty and unrest due to the war, as well as the absence of doctors and nurses. Three nurses left our Department in July for actual service with our Unit abroad. One left in the fall for Home Service. One daily has been expecting orders to go.

It has been difficult to fill these places promptly and properly. Consequently, our Staff has been crippled from time to time. On account of doctors being called to military service, the Tuberculosis, Syphilology and Cardiac night clinics had to be given up for some months, until other doctors could be found to take charge of them.

Plans of development had to be postponed on account of new conditions.

Although wage earners, in many cases, have received increase of pay, our experience has shown that it has not been in proportion to the increased cost of living, and when to this is added the handicap of illness (as is the case with our families), and the unusually cold winter, the need of Hospital Social Service work has been found to be greater than ever. The children, especially, have been badly nourished and poorly clad. In some cases, children have been found with absolutely no underclothing, while attending school and trying to go on with their usual duties. Thanks to the Auxiliary to the Social Service Dept. we have been able to give underclothing where needed, also sweaters and blankets.

CARDIAC WORK.

At the beginning of the year a special weekly clinic for cardiac children was started in order that they might not be obliged to visit the general pediatric clinic, but might have special attention. A little later night and day clinics for cardiac adults were formed to be held weekly. These clinics were attended by Social Service

Nurses. We feel this work has great possibilities but realize we are now at the beginning.

PREVENTIVE WORK.

The playground on the Van Buren property, West 15th Street, has again proved of valuable assistance to our children. Through the interest of the Parks and Playground Association, who provided a worker during the summer, the children were able to meet daily. The average attendance was seventy.

Through our Auxiliary a worker was provided for the playground in the fall. Many children with tendency to tuberculosis were sent to our Convalescent Cottages with most favorable results. Mrs. Payne Whitney raised $1,849.75 for a Milk Fund which proved a great boon during the past year and did a large part toward Child Welfare.

ARTICLES OF SEWING.

The Auxiliary and Hospital continued their co-operation so that more than 8,000 articles of sewing were given out during the year. The Auxiliary paid for the work and the Hospital supplied the material. Many of our families have needed no more than this help to tide them over their times of difficulty.

CONVALESCENT AND FRESH AIR WORK.

We continued to do a large convalescent work during the past year. From the results of a study of conditions of patients after convalescent care, we are convinced that a great majority of patients has been permanently benefited. We are very grateful for the fine work of Burke Foundation and the splendid care given at Campbell Cottages, also for the hospitality of other Convalescent and Fresh Air Homes. The Fresh Air work was almost double that of the previous year—the year of the epidemic.

THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

A larger number than ever before of Thanksgiving and Christmas Baskets were given and $200 was spent in warm clothing at the latter time.

A Tree and Entertainment were provided for the children, known to us through former illness or illness of their parents. Although this was held on New Year's Eve, one of the coldest nights of the year, we had an attendance of 400.

THE AUXILIARY TO THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPT.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation and thankfulness to the Auxiliary. In this distracting time these busy women have shown their loyalty to the hospital and to the work by generous giving of their time and resources. I thank them for their advice, help, interest and the encouragement given by well attended meetings.

We are also grateful to the other friends who have helped us so much during the past year. The gifts for our tree from Miss Sarah Switzer and the Margaret Louisa Branch of the Y. W. C. A., were very much needed and appreciated as was also the money for dinners and clothing sent by three friends in Spuyten Duyvil. The National Fruit and Flower Guild helped our large families all through the summer with fresh vegetables, as well as the sick with flowers, fresh from country gardens.

I wish to thank The Board of Governors, the Superintendent of the Hospital and all my co-workers in the hospital and friends from outside, who have helped make the year, in spite of its sadness and perplexities, a successful one.

The following statement of work includes that of all divisions.

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF RELIEF.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—The Social Service Committee of the House of Relief has had to give assistance to fewer new cases in the past year. The work, however, has been increased by calls, necessitated by the "follow-up system" of the Medical and Surgical Staff and by the summer work among the babies and children of the dispensary.

One hundred children have been sent to Fresh Air Homes. Milk, rice and ice have been given to needy cases during the year.

A Christmas entertainment was given the patients, and toys and candy were distributed to one hundred children.

The Committee has received each month from the Treasurer of the Social Service Department an allowance which has been used for relief work and supplemented by donations of clothing and money from members of the House of Relief Committee.

The Committee feels that the report by Miss Dinehart, the Social Service Nurse at the House of Relief, which appears in the General Statistical Record, shows a splendid work accomplished and the Committee appreciate her untiring services.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE M. HITZROT,
Acting Chairman.

ADMISSIONS.

The total number admitted was 222, of which 109 were men and 113 were women. Ten persons were admitted more than once during the year. Six were admitted by transfer from other institutions. Eighty-five others, constituting about 38 per cent of the total admissions, had at some time previously received hospital treatment for mental disorder, 11 of them at this Hospital. One hundred and thirty-one cases were in their first attack, and 56, or about 25 per cent, had been recognized to be mentally disordered for more than a year before admission.

The ages of the patients admitted ranged from 13 to 78. Eleven were under 20, and 5 were under 18. Fifty-three were between 20 and 30. Seventy-four, or about one-third of the cases, were between 30 and 40, and forty-four, or about 20 per cent, were between 40 and 50. Twenty-eight were between 50 and 60. Twelve were over 60, three of whom were over 70. Eighty-two per cent of the patients admitted were under 50 years of age. This indicates that the work of the Hospital is directed to the treatment of patients who are somewhat younger than those admitted to the State Hospitals, of whom about 68 per cent only are under 50.

One hundred and eighty of the admissions were from New York State, 34 from Westchester County.

The forms of mental disorder of the patients admitted, grouped in accordance with the classification employed by the State Hospital Commission, were as follows:

DISCHARGES.

The total number discharged was 243. There were also at the close of the year, 37 patients on visit, who were still carried on the books of the Hospital and receiving some attention. Of the patients discharged forty-seven were classed as recovered, forty-seven as much improved, and forty-nine as improved. Four were inebriates or drug habitues. Twenty-three died, and twenty-eight were transferred to other institutions.

It is difficult to present by means of statistics the actual service rendered by the Hospital to the patients who have come under its care. The group of patients who were classed on discharge as much improved were in many instances restored in full to their former health and social efficiency. They were not classed as recovered because, in some instances, they were still in the convalescent period when discharged. Others were persons of neurotic or psychopathic constitution, who, even though restored to their former condition and not appreciably different from many capable persons who never develop incapacitating nervous or mental disorders, were still scarcely of the normal standard of social efficiency for persons of their station in life and opportunities. They were, in many instances, considered by their friends to be fully recovered, but strict regard for scientific standards did not permit of including them as such in a statistical presentation. The total number in the two groups is 94, which is equivalent to 42 per cent of the admissions, and is 43 per cent of the total number discharged. The average duration of hospital residence of those who were discharged recovered was about 6 months. Of these one was in the Hospital over 2 years and five over 1 year. Nearly all were retained on the books and kept under observation for varying periods after they had left the Hospital. The average duration of hospital residence of those who were discharged as much improved was 11.6 months. Of these one was in the Hospital over 5 years, one over 4 years, four over 3 years, one over 2 years, and eight over 1 year. Many of the 49 patients discharged as improved had also been restored sufficiently to permit of their remaining at home and of being of some use and comfort to their friends. To those who died and to those who were discharged unimproved, substantial service was also rendered by providing for them the special type of care and treatment which is so difficult to obtain away from a specially organized hospital.

The supervision and further treatment of patients who have left the Hospital has been continued as in previous years, and this field of work is extending. Patients call at the New York office or they return to the Hospital to see the physicians, or to remain for a few days. The establishment of healthy social contacts, and readjustment to the interests and activities of life outside the Hospital, determine the measure of success of the whole course of treatment. As more attention is given to this period, the need of organization and facilities for extending the service becomes more pressing. A department in the city would contribute much to the development of what is needed. An industrial colony for convalescents and for partially handicapped mental patients of the more capable type, where they could be placed on a partially or completely self-supporting footing would also be a wonderfully useful addition to the present resources.

Forty per cent of the women discharged as recovered and much improved had, previous to their admission, supported themselves by the following occupations: Teachers, physicians, nurses, stenographers, librarians, governesses, musicians, social workers, secretaries, matron, genealogist, clerks, milliner, dressmakers, saleswomen, and actresses.

The number of patients who died was 23, of which 14 were men and 9 were women. This was 9.4 per cent of the total number discharged and 4 per cent of the whole number treated. Most of the deaths were due to terminal conditions in persons who were suffering from long continued organic disease. Eighteen, or 78 per cent of those who died, were over 50 years of age, 11 of them over 60, five over 70, and one over 80. One had been at the Hospital for nearly 40 years, and three others for slightly over 20 years. Ten had been at the Hospital for periods varying from 10 months to 2 days. Ten died of general paresis.

VOLUNTARY PATIENTS.

Of the 222 patients admitted, 149 were not certified as insane, nor detained by authority of the courts. They signed their own applications and were received as voluntary patients. It is not many years ago that this would not have been permitted at any recognized hospital for mental disorders, as the main issue to be met by the methods then employed in providing for mental cases was considered to be the danger of improper detention. Even with reference to this, however, the methods were, in most instances, of little value, and the delay, humiliation, neglect, and expense which they occasioned more than offset any safeguard they might offer against what was, after all, a remote danger. They have now been replaced by methods which are more regardful of the patients' medical and social interests, and state control and supervision of the hospitals, and the fixing of more definite responsibility upon the physicians in charge of them, are more relied upon to furnish whatever protection against improper detention may be needed. Appeal to the courts for authority to detain a patient who refuses to co-operate is, of course, still necessary in many instances, but the number is steadily decreasing as shown by the experience here. In 1912, the proportion of voluntary patients to the total admissions was 35 per cent; in 1917 it was 67 per cent; 60 per cent of the men and 74 per cent of the women. In the total number treated in 1912, there was 22 per cent of voluntary patients; in 1917 there was 46 per cent. The proportion of voluntary patients in the Hospital at the close of the year 1912 was 16 per cent; in 1917 it was 38 per cent. Appeal to the courts for authority to detain patients who had, when admitted, signed their own application was necessary, during the year, in seven instances only. A very large proportion of persons with mental disorder realize that all is not right with them, even though they do not always understand the real nature of their disorder. They make no objection to hospital treatment, and often seek it. The necessity of legal formalities simply delays access to it. It is regarded as a humiliation by the friends, and by the patient, when he has recovered, if not at the time. To avoid it, resort is frequently had to institutions which are conducted illegally, and are thus free from supervision by the state. Thus a method which was originally devised for the purpose of protecting the patient becomes the means of diverting him from the very places where he would be best protected and treated.

MEDICAL SERVICE.

The total number of patients treated in the Hospital during the year was 573. Although this was less than the number treated in the previous year, the proportion of cases which required the maximum of attention was greater, and the medical activity of the Hospital was increased rather than diminished. An additional physician was appointed to the Medical Staff, during the year, but as two members of the staff have been absent on military duty since July, the average number at the Hospital has not been increased.

The evening conferences which have been held at the Hospital each winter since 1912, were continued, and the number of physicians to whom invitations were sent was increased. The conferences are well attended, and it is gratifying to note the growing interest in information concerning nervous and mental disorders which is thus shown by the physicians of Westchester County.

The following papers were presented:

The Relation of Mental Disorders to Anti-Social Behavior—By Dr. Bernard Glueck, Psychiatrist to Sing Sing Prison.

Modern Conceptions of Inebriety—By Dr. Menas S. Gregory, Chief Psychiatrist, Bellevue Hospital.

Cases illustrating Mental Disorders occurring in Inebriates—By Dr. G. S. Amsden, Bloomingdale Hospital.

Pathological Changes in the Central Nervous System due to Alcohol—By Dr. Chas. I. Lambert, Bloomingdale Hospital.

Huntington's Chorea.—By Dr. Chas. I. Lambert, Bloomingdale Hospital.

The Corpus Striatum in Huntington's Chorea—By Dr. Charles B. Dunlap, Chief Associate in Neuropathology, State Psychiatric Institute, N. Y. City.

Psychoses in the Senile Period with Favorable Outcome—By Dr. G. S. Amsden, Bloomingdale Hospital.

The Psychobiology of the Slacker—By Dr. Chas. I. Lambert, Bloomingdale Hospital.

Early Manifestations of War Shock observed at the Front—By Capt. M. A. Harrington, R. A. M. C.

The Symptoms, Causes and Treatment of War Shock—By Dr. Thaddeus H. Ames, New York.

A considerable amount of major and minor surgery was required by both patients and employees during the year, and the need of better facilities for this work was again emphasized. Three patients were removed to the White Plains Hospital for major operations. Eleven major operations had, however, to be performed at Bloomingdale Hospital, as well as a number of minor operations of considerable importance. Among the operations were seven trephinings for intraventricular injections, two laparotomies, a prostatectomy, a hemorrhoidectomy, repair of a severed nerve, amputation of toe, removal of needle, incision of a number of abscesses, suturing of wounds, applying of splints and casts in fractures. The more important surgical work has, as in previous years, been attended to by Dr. J. Fielding Black of White Plains. The eye, ear, and throat work which required expert service has, as heretofore, been attended to by Dr. Frank N. Irwin. In difficult medical cases Dr. L. B. Chapman and Dr. W. W. Mott of White Plains have, on several occasions, been helpful as consultants. Several of the patients and employees have, during the year, been sent to the New York Hospital for examination and treatment, and we should be glad, if it were possible, to avail ourselves more frequently of the resources available there. The New York Hospital Laboratory has, as in previous years, been extremely helpful with expert advice and examinations.

The treatment of general paresis by intraspinal injections, a method which has been employed at the Hospital since 1912, has been continued during the year. The number of treatments given during the year was 106. One case was also given intraventricular injections, and another in which the symptoms were mainly tabetic was treated exclusively by this method. The following tabulation and brief summary present the results in thirty-five patients who have been treated by Dr. Amsden since the method was adopted in 1912:

Clinical Results Estimated in Terms of Remission.	Number of Cases.	Per Cent.	Type of Paresis.		Final Outcome.
			Cerebral.	Tabetic.
Remission 2½ years or more	3	8.6	0	3	1 died, 1 relapsed.
Remission 2 years to 2½ years	1	2.9	1	0	1 died.
Remission 1½ years to 2 years	2	5.7	2	0
Remission 1 year to 1½ years	4	11.4	4	0	1 died, 2 relapsed.
Remission 6 months to 1 year	4	11.4	2	2	1 died.
Remission 5 months	2	5.7	0	2	1 died.
Remission 3 months	1	2.9	1	0
No Remission	18	51.4	12	6	8 died.

The 35 patients have been treated long enough to permit of placing an estimate on the results. The treatment in each case has been combined intra-venous injections of salvarsan or arsenobenzol and intra-spinal injections of salvarsanized serum. The cases were in all stages of the disease, and the results are estimated in remissions without an attempt at analysis. By remission is meant a condition in which the patient has insight and is capable of returning and going to work if necessary. It is doubtful if a remission of less than six months is significant. Of the eighteen cases in which no remission occurred, six had prolonged periods of arrest of the progress of the disease. Of the 35 cases, 14 have died, with an average duration of the recognized course of the disease of 2 years and 4 months. The deaths were 40 per cent of the total cases treated during a period of five years. Remissions of 6 months to 2½ years or more have occurred in 40 per cent. There has been arrest for long periods in 17 per cent. While these results are not altogether encouraging, they justify persistence in the use of a form of treatment which has thus far been the only ray of hope for the sufferers from an invariably fatal disease.

The medical service for the White Plains Mental Clinic has been furnished, as in previous years, by the Medical Staff of the Hospital. The work has been done by Dr. Lambert and Dr. Bowman, and has been interrupted by Dr. Bowman's call to the colors, and by the pressure of other duties on Dr. Lambert. Some of the work was also taken over by a county psychiatrist appointed by the Commissioner of Charities.

The work of the Hospital laboratory has been continued along the lines indicated by the following table:

The dental work was, as in previous years, attended to by Dr. D. Austin Sniffen of White Plains. The number of patients who received his attention was 454, and the number of attentions 753. The treatments and operations numbered 1446. The dentist was furnished with a more suitable office during the year.

PHYSICAL AND OCCUPATIONAL TREATMENT.

Physical exercises and games are employed in the treatment of nervous and mental disorders not merely to obtain the beneficial physical effects of muscular exercise, but because of their value in relieving emotional tension, and promoting mental and physical spontaneity. The healthy rivalry and social contacts of group sports and play are also a means of overcoming self absorption and difficulties in social adaptation, and in developing objective interests. In the work of the departments of physical education, therefore, while formal calisthenics and gymnasium exercises are employed, games and sports make up the larger part of the activities engaged in. The value of the golf links was again demonstrated during the past year. The number of individual games played was 2803; by the men 1379 and by the women 1424. Croquet was played much by the women and by the less active men. The number of games played during the year was 1311; by the men 395 and by the women 916. The tennis courts were in constant use during the summer and fall, and 1161 games were played, 596 by the men and 565 by the women. The men also played 15 games of indoor tennis. Two tennis tournaments were held, with 18 entries for singles and 20 for doubles. There are now six tennis courts on the grouuds, two of which are used exclusively by the nurses, and need is felt for still another. Volley ball, indoors and outdoors, was played 254 times, 133 times by the men and 121 times by the women. Ninety-one games of basketball were played, 56 by the men and 35 by the women. Bowling on the green was engaged in by the men 298 times. A more carefully constructed green for this game is desired. Forty-five games of baseball were played, 12 by the men and 33 by the women. Other games engaged in were hockey 16 games, quoits 51 games, handball 12 games, and innumerable games of billiards and pool by both the men and the women. During the season of ice and snow, skating, ski-ing, and coasting have been enjoyed by many of the patients. Forty-nine patients have tried the skis. The number of long country walks recorded is 494. Corrective exercises were given to patients and nurses, 100 classes being held for women patients and 12 for nurses. Instruction in physical exercises and games was given to members of the nursing force, and 36 lessons in social dancing were given to both patients and nurses. Exclusive attention was given to special needs in individual cases in 1530 instances. The women's department furnished and managed 5 plays, 2 costume dances, card parties, and special features at the general social dances, and assisted in providing the entertainments given regularly in the Assembly Hall.

The work of the departments of physical education has assumed such proportions and is of such great value that the need of improved facilities, especially a new gymnasium and recreation building for the men and a bowling alley for the women, makes a strong appeal.

The men's department has been, to some extent, handicapped during a part of the year, by a vacancy in the position of Director. The work has, however, been carried on by Mr. Hewitt, an assistant in the department of occupations, who gives half time to it. In the women's department an additional assistant was appointed in September, and another, who gives half time, was appointed in November. The total force at present is three besides the Director. During the summer, a former patient, who is a school teacher, spent part of her vacation assisting in the department, without salary. Four patients in the Hospital were also quite competent assistants.

In the departments of hydrotherapy and massage, three women and one man are regularly employed, and nurses who are receiving instruction assist. The number of prolonged baths given was 1932. An additional tub was installed in the Men's receiving hall. Packs were employed 1195 times. In the hydriatic rooms 6277 treatments were given, for the men 2819, and for the women 3458. Massage was employed in the treatment of 150 patients. The number of treatments given was 4350.

In the occupational treatment of the women, a special effort was made, during the year, to develop the outdoor work. An assistant with special qualifications in gardening was added to the department. Under her direction an early start was made in the spring in slipping and potting plants in the greenhouse and in raising seedlings. Later, a "salad garden" was planted, in which vegetables were raised which could be taken by the patients directly to their dining rooms. A formal garden was laid out, with a bird bath made by the Men's Department in the center, and was planted with old fashioned flowers. Flowers were planted about the Occupational Building, and beds laid out in such a way that a variety of individual interests could be developed. Late in the Spring, a half acre of ground in the women's recreation grounds was ploughed and planted with beans and other vegetables as a "War Garden." Besides the beans, 100 tomato, 50 pepper, and 200 celery plants were set out, and several varieties of lettuce, radishes, cress and cucumbers were planted; also a patch of sweet corn. The patients cared for the garden all summer and harvested the crops, which yielded 388 pounds of dried beans, 500 ears of corn, and good quantities of the other vegetables. The enjoyment, satisfaction, and distinct benefit derived by the patients were unmistakable. The number who took part in the work was 78.

The total number of patients who were engaged in all the activities of the occupational departments was 358, of which 132 were men and 245 were women. There was a striking increase in the number of articles made by the women from 13,137 in 1916, to 18,632 in 1917. The number of articles mended by them was 5,085. The forms of occupation engaged in by the men do not permit of such rapid production as those of the women, and fewer men are employed. The output of their department during the year was 1,246 articles made and 400 mended. In the printing shop 493,392 pieces were put through the press, and 901 pads were mounted. The men bound 149 books and 1000 pamphlets, and the women bound 179 books. Much interest was shown in work for the soldiers, and the women knit 165 articles from wool which was furnished by the Navy League and Red Cross. Eight attractive scrap books were made and sent to the New York Hospital Unit in France. The patient who did most of the work in these books had not before developed much interest in work, and made considerable progress toward recovery while engaged on the books. Fourteen men were employed at outdoor work. A special "War Garden" was planted in addition to the gardens which have been cultivated by them for several years.

Instruction in patients' occupations was given to 28 pupil nurses, 5 nurses from affiliated schools, 4 post-graduate nurses, and 2 instructors from other institutions.

The output of the occupational departments and the number of patients employed indicate very imperfectly the real value of directed occupations as a means of treatment. The object is much more than relief from ennui, or diversion, or even occupation as such. In the forms of disorder from which the patients suffer, mental and physical energy is reduced, repressed, or poorly regulated and diverted into unproductive or positively destructive activities. The capacity for intellectual application may be diminished, and the patient denied the enjoyment that is derived from work accomplished. In many cases the personality has begun to disintegrate and the satisfaction which should be obtained from intelligent, effective grappling with the real problems of life is sought in phantasy, and profitless activity. In the treatment of these conditions, the task is to restore the energies of the patient and to direct them into lines of interest and activity, however simple, which will require their healthy use, and be attended with the satisfaction that comes from seeing something of value accomplished. It is a task which requires the best knowledge and skill of the physician and all the resources of a highly organized hospital. Among these resources one of the most valuable is a department of occupation, in which each patient capable of employment may, with some precision, be taught by skilled and sympathetic instructors to make something which gives him the satisfaction and encouragement that come from seeing an object of use and beauty fashioned by his own hands. By means of this, and other agencies which are employed at the same time, the patient may begin to experience the enjoyment of healthy activity and go on to greater tasks and increasing capability until finally he is restored to his former health and pursuits.

The personnel of the occupational departments now consists of a director and four assistants for the women and a director and five assistants for the men. Most of the products are taken by the patients who make them and are charged for the material. Some are sold, and the departments are credited with the value of those supplied to the Hospital. The net cost for supplies and labor of the women's department for the year was $571.36, and of the men's $1,474.28. When one considers the value of the departments as a treatment resource, the cost is remarkably low. The new building for the men has continued to give great satisfaction. Many additions to the equipment have been made by the patients and the staff during the year, some of the pieces being invented as well as produced in the department. The Dexter Memorial Cottage is already inadequate for the needs of the Women's Department. As many as 66 patients have been present on some days, and it has become necessary to divide the morning class into two groups which adds to the work of the instructors. Lack of room has also prevented the introduction of new forms of occupation which are desired.

THE NURSING SERVICE.

The report of the Directress of Nurses is appended. The nursing service of the men's department has suffered somewhat because of many changes which have occurred during the year. Eleven of the men in the service entered the army, most of them in the medical service. The women's service has been more stable, and the School of Nursing has been steadily progressive. A well equipped demonstration room and a diet kitchen were added to the resources of the School during the year. The great need of the nursing service appears to be for a Nurse's Home.

The graduation exercises of the School of Nursing were held on May 24th. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Townsend, President of the Board of Governors, to seven graduates, two of them being the first to graduate from the three year course. The address to the graduates was delivered by Prof. Stephen G. Duggan, Professor of Education at the College of the City of New York.

ROCKLEY COTTAGE.

The Cottage was open from June 12 to September 24th. Sixty-nine day parties, consisting in all of 686 patients, visited the Cottage. The number of patients who remained for more than one day was 18. The number of days board given was 516, and the average number in residence daily was five patients. The twelve passenger automobile which was purchased for the use of the beach parties has proved most satisfactory and has been a source of benefit and pleasure to the many patients who have used it. The amount received for the board of patients at the Cottage was $1,351.25 which was, of course, much less than the expenditures.

IMPROVEMENTS IN EQUIPMENT AND PLANT.

The completion of the improvements in the pantries of the patients' dining-rooms probably added more to the welfare of the patients than any other piece of construction work accomplished during the year. Each pantry in the main building is now thoroughly tiled and equipped with a well furnished steam table on which the food can be kept hot pending serving. In the receiving halls provision is also made for light cooking. The remaining coal ranges in the main kitchen were, during the year, replaced with gas ranges, so that coal is no longer used in the kitchen. The new diet kitchen was placed in commission. One of the nurses is employed there regularly in preparing the sick diets. The clerks' dining-room was improved by the addition of a well equipped pantry. An additional tub for continuous baths was added on Hall 4 Men. A room on this hall was equipped as a temporary operating room. A small auto truck was purchased to take the place of the horse drawn express wagon. The general library was transferred to the new room on Hall 1 Women, which was refitted and furnished under the direction of Mr. Grosvenor Atterbury, and is now one of the most attractive and useful resources of the Hospital. Some new equipment was added in the laboratory, and in the laundry and kitchen. The grates under the boilers were replaced with a natural draft type of grates which dispensed with the necessity for blowers. To provide for the larger crop of corn raised during the year, an additional silo was placed at the cow barn. Many other less noteworthy improvements were also made.

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL.

In looking over previous Annual Reports of the Hospital, it is gratifying to note the frequency with which what has been mentioned as a need appears in a following Report as an improvement. Experience seems to have demonstrated that all the improvements made have been needed, and that they have added to the value of the Hospital as an agency for healing. As, however, the most pressing needs are brought to the attention of the Bloomingdale Committee as they arise and are provided for as funds become available, it seems unnecessary to do more, in this Report, than mention again two of such an expensive character that it seems unlikely that they can be provided for except through gifts. The need of a Recreation Building and Gymnasium for the men is greatly felt, especially during the present winter, when the cold and snow have restricted outdoor life so greatly. A suitable building with the connections and equipment needed would probably cost not less than $75,000. Another improvement which seems to us to be essential in the further development of the nursing service is a Nurses' Home. The purpose of a Nurses' Home is not only to furnish additional and more comfortable quarters for the nurses, but to provide a social and educational centre which will react to the advantage of the spirit and work of the Hospital. A satisfactory building for 100 nurses with the necessary recreation rooms, class rooms, addition to the present dining-room, and the needed connections, furnishings, and equipment would probably cost not less than $200,000.

It seems especially important just now that particular attention should be directed to the question of further development of the resources of the Hospital for the treatment and prevention of the less severe forms and stages of nervous and mental disorders. The interest in these disorders which has been created by reason of their prevalence among the soldiers in the armies of all the countries at war is likely to extend to their prevalence in civil life, and to the remarkably meagre provision which has been made for their treatment and prevention. This may bring opportunity and support for development of the work of the Hospital in directions which have been outlined in previous reports, for which the following would be needed:

(1) Better provision in the City for receiving patients and for short periods of treatment,

(2) Better provision for separation of the different types of cases on the property at White Plains,

(3) Better provision for convalescence and a period of after-care.

That nervous and mental disorders will receive much more widespread and efficient attention as a result of the interest and knowledge spread abroad by conditions created by the war, seems to be the confident expectation of the best informed observers.

FINANCIAL.

The average weekly per capita cost for maintenance during the year was $25.57. This includes the cost of maintaining the properties at White Plains, and Oakland Beach, salaries and wages, supplies, ordinary repairs and renewals, and all ordinary running expenses. It does not include capital charges and amounts spent for extraordinary renewals and improvements, for which special appropriations were made.

The remarkable advance in prices and wages and the difficulty experienced in obtaining supplies and help account for the increase in the weekly per capita cost which was $4.80 greater than in 1916. In spite of this, however, no patient was refused admission for financial reasons only, and the number treated free, as well as the number who paid less than the average cost of maintenance was greater than in previous years. The total number of patients treated during the year was 573. Of these, 74 were treated free, and 320 paid rates that were less than the average cost of maintenance, 74 paid less than half the cost. These patients made up 69 per cent of the total number treated. The cost to the Society for their treatment was $113,885.98, which is equivalent to the support of 84 free beds.

The income of the John C. Green Memorial Fund, amounting to $8,399.93, was, in accordance with the terms of the Memorial, applied to the partial support of 27 selected patients.

GENERAL.

Dr. Sanger Brown II, and Dr. Karl M. Bowman of the medical staff accepted commissions in the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army and were called to active duty in July. Dr. George W. Henry was appointed medical interne July 1st. Dr. Howard W. Potter was advanced to the grade of Assistant Physician July 20, and Dr. Donald L. Ross was appointed Assistant Physician on October 15th.

Rev. R. M. Sherman, because of ill health, resigned as Chaplain on May 1st, after serving very acceptably for just a year. He was succeeded by Rev. Wilfrid L. Greenwood of White Plains who was appointed November 4th. The Rev. W. H. Lylburn of Mamaroneck very kindly attended to the duties of the office during the interval.

Mr. J. J. Levison was appointed Consulting Landscape Forester and Florist during the year, and under his supervision the employees of the Hospital have been enabled to give much more skillful attention to the trees, shrubs, and lawns than has heretofore been possible.

Mrs. Bessie C. Coghlan was appointed Resident Dietitian May 1st. Previous to this a non-resident dietitian was employed who gave part time only. Since Mrs. Coghlan's appointment the methods of dietary control and service have been completely reorganized. Distinct improvement has resulted and the special attention and skill brought to bear on the dietary are particularly useful in making the changes and economies necessitated by war conditions.

The number of volumes added to the libraries was 695; to the General Library 586, to the Medical Library 29, to the School of Nursing Library 32, and to the Nurses' Club Library 48. Three hundred and twenty-nine of the books were donated, of which 209 were presented by Mr. Augustine J. Smith of the Board of Governors. The distribution from the General Library was 4,513 books.

A gift of $380 was made to the Hospital by Baroness De Muro and friends for the use of the Men's Occupation Department. It was decided to apply it to the purchase of equipment and articles of fine craft work to serve as examples of workmanship. A Victoria was presented by Mrs. Howard Townsend. The Life of Thomas Eddy and a printed copy of a letter relating to the contemplated establishment of Bloomingdale Asylum which had been written in 1813 to Mr. Eddy by Samuel Tuke, founder of the York Retreat, England, was presented to the Hospital by Mr. Sturgis, Chairman of the Bloomingdale Committee. Mr. Sturgis, also presented the Hospital with a portrait of himself. A number of books were presented to the School of Nursing Library by Miss Fanny R. Howe who also gave $10 for the purchase of wool for the patients' war knitting. Gifts of cash were made for the General Library by Mrs. M. J. Lewi and Dr. W. G. Schauffler. Mrs. Lewi also presented the Hospital with a collection of curios. A book was presented by Mrs. Dora L. Goldsmith, and two water colors by Miss Irene and Miss Mary Weir. Mrs. and Miss Weir also loaned to the Hospital an oil painting by Prof. Weir. The Hospital received for the use of the Nurses' Club cash gifts amounting to $180.

The Hospital paid to the City of White Plains an assessment of $2,323.75 for the construction of a sewer in Mamaroneck Avenue.

The Annual inspection of the Hospital by the Governors was made on May 24th.

The faithful and efficient personal service rendered by the officers and employees, and the skill and devotion of the physicians, nurses, and instructors in their personal work with the patients can only be mentioned with appreciation that it is to these that the success of the Hospital is principally due.

I am glad to have again an opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the constant support which I have always received from the Bloomingdale Committee and your Honorable Board, without which my task would be hopeless.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. RUSSELL,

Medical Superintendent.

Number of graduates 1917: Men, 2; women, 5. Total, 7

During the year 13 entered as probationers, 9 were accepted into the school, 3 were declined, and 1 resigned.

The health of the pupils has been good at this hospital, and there has been little illness among the pupils sent to the hospitals in the City.

A teaching scholarship has been instituted during the year, whereby a student from the Department of Nursing and Health in Teacher's College lives at the hospital and receives transportation remuneration for five hours weekly class room instruction.

A number of groups of student nurses have visited the hospital, perhaps 75 persons in all. As a result of this, a number of applications have come to us for special post-graduate work.

With the graduating of the first class from the registered school, an alumnae has been formed, which has as one of its responsibilities the securing of pupils for the school.

A gift of thirty professional books was made to the Nurses' Library by Miss Fanny Howe, a post-graduate student.

The sum of one hundred and thirty-five dollars was given by some of the nurses' friends, for their Christmas.

The uniform of the registered school has been changed from the plain blue to a small black and white check. This furnishes a distinction between the various classes in the nursing service. A specially designed white uniform for graduates of the registered school has also been adopted.

The graduation exercises were held May 24th. Seven graduates were presented with diplomas by the President of the Board of Governors, and an interesting address was made by Prof. Stephen G. Duggan, Professor of Education in the College of the City of New York.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, CAMPBELL CONVALESCENT COTTAGES, WHITE PLAINS, NEW YORK.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The Convalescent Cottages received a full number of patients during the year 1917.

The Cottages for older girls cared for 331 patients, of whom 51 were cardiac cases, while 30 girls were convalescing from chorea, goitre and nervous trouble. Girls included in this last group show satisfactory results, and daily fresh air, nourishing food and pleasant occupation bear an important part in the recovery of these extremely nervous young patients.

Six weeks in the Cottages usually brings a surprising physical response from both cardiac and chorea cases, but some of our girls who were convalescing from serious surgical operations became close rivals of their medical associates in the struggle for health.

Notable among our medical cases were such cases as the following:

A thirteen year old girl, convalescing from pneumonia, with the handicap of having had tubercular parents, made a surprising gain of 13 pounds in one month.

A little ten year old girl, who had been very ill with cerebro-spinal meningitis, gained 12 pounds in 7 weeks.

A girl of fourteen, who had an abscess of the lungs, accompanied by an incessant, harrowing cough, gained 14 pounds in 8 weeks, and her cough had almost entirely disappeared.

A fourth, and very gratifying instance, is that of a girl eight years of age, who was so afflicted with chorea that she was confined to bed, was unable to feed herself, and could hardly speak. One month after admission the child began to improve, and by the end of the second month she walked, talked, and took almost complete care of herself.

Many of our surgical cases are not less interesting. Consider, for instance, the case of a boy eight years of age, admitted to the Cottages following an operation for abscess of the kidney. The boy was a bed-patient for a week after admission, and then slowly began to move about. At the end of three weeks, his wound was entirely healed.

Also there was (among many) the case of a sickly, miserable girl, who had had several operations during the past two years, but who, after one month here, gained ten pounds, and is now in our employ in the out-of-door work.

The domestic and financial situation in the families of the poor are reflected in the condition of these children, and with present prices which are asked for food and clothing, the parents find it increasingly difficult to give their children care and nourishment. Consequently, we are, at present, caring for children who are unusually sickly and needy.

The Cottages, like all institutions, feel the burden of the increased expenditures for necessary supplies and repairs.

A certain amount of necessary painting and repairing was done, and the Cottages are in good condition.

The older girls—all under sixteen—have been enrolled in the Junior Auxiliary of the Red Cross. They knit and make supplies, and during the last year have contributed the making of 1800 articles, and are now knitting a warm bed cover for our Base Hospital.

The younger children, also, have done well, and our total average for both Cottages has been 76 patients per day. Many were very young and required a great deal of individual care.

The moving picture apparatus has been enclosed in the Winter porch, which accommodates the entire household at an entertainment. Instructive and entertaining pictures for last, and also for the coming year, have been assured by a fund arranged for by a friend.

Students from Teachers College, and Public Health Nurses have visited us several times during the year, as they find the detail of our work highly instructive.

The generous contribution of a friend has enabled us to do a great deal for our children. Owing to the poverty of the majority of the children, the donor has given permission for the use of a portion of his fund to provide little gifts of clothing for the more needy girls and boys when they leave. One girl was made supremely happy by the gift of a pair of glossy new rubbers.

We had our usual visitations of contagion, which is our greatest handicap.

This Christmas season seemed to mean more than almost any previous one—perhaps because the children were unusually needy, and proportionately grateful. For this reason, also, we have been deeply appreciative of the many donations which have aided us in giving additional comfort and pleasure to the children.

My appreciation of the continued advice and interest of the Bloomingdale Committee encourage me in still further aims and efforts.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE C. ELLISON,

Assistant Superintendent.

LEGACIES TO THE HOSPITAL.

The Hospital has been greatly aided by this form of generosity. No precise words are necessary to a valid legacy to the corporation. The following clause, however, may be suggested:

"I give to THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL the sum of..... .....dollars."

If land or any specific personal property such as bonds, stocks, &c., is given, a brief description of the property should be inserted instead of the words "the sum of.....dollars."

TO THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

The Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital respectfully present their Annual Report of the state of the institutions under their charge for the year 1918.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

GOVERNORS OF THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR 1918

In conformity with the provisions of its Charter, granted by Royal authority June 13, 1771, in the reign of King George III., the Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital present their Annual Report and a statement showing the receipts and expenditures for the year 1918 of the several institutions under their control and management, as follows:

The Hospital at Fifteenth Street, the House of Relief at Hudson Street, the Department for the treatment of mental diseases, known as Bloomingdale Hospital, and the Convalescent Cottages at White Plains, Westchester County.

The year 1918 will be long remembered by those in charge of the activities of the Society of the New York Hospital. From all the institutions maintained by it workers had departed to enter the service of the Government and were either in France or in the camps at home. The demand for labor in Government employments was so great that it was impossible to maintain the number of employees necessary for the proper administration of the various institutions. Their officers are entitled to our deep thanks for their splendid struggle against every form of discouragement.

Our chief war activity, the Base Hospital Unit No. 9, presents its report which shows a record with which we have a right to be more than satisfied. Lieutenant Colonels Pool, Elser and Lee were early detached from it and saw active service at the famous hospital at La Panne and subsequently in English Casualty Clearing Stations and afterward in our own hospitals. Lieutenant Colonel Pool became Consultant to the 5th Division and later to the 5th Corps, Lieutenant Colonel Lee became Consultant to the 2nd Division, while Lieutenant Colonel Elser was on the Staff of the Division of Laboratories stationed at the Central Department Laboratories in Dijon.

In addition to the services of those connected with the Base Hospital Unit, Major Bancroft rendered important service as head of an operating team in Field Hospital No. 1 and Evacuation Hospitals Nos. 3, 5, 7, 11 and 12, and Colonel Conner, Major Turnure, Major Barringer and Major Erdman rendered valuable service in the United States.

Several of the members of our Medical Board unselfishly deprived themselves of the opportunities of active service and experience because they knew the Hospital had need of their services. Dr. Williams, Dr. Hitzrot, Dr. Roper and Dr. Vietor deserve our sincere thanks and Dr. Erdman should be remembered as having postponed for a year his entry into the Army so that the Hospital's interests should not suffer. We extend our thanks to all these gentlemen, and also to Miss Ellison, Superintendent of the Campbell Convalescent Cottages, who resisted flattering offers to remain here to help us.

In March, 1918, through a communication from Captain Lung, Surgeon in charge of the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, the attention of the Governors was called to the great need for hospital accommodations for sailors of the United States Navy. After due consideration, it was decided to close the House of Relief as a civilian hospital and to offer it to the Navy of the United States for the care of sailors. This offer was accepted and during the rest of the year over one hundred beds were at the disposal of Captain Lung and his representatives, and used by them. Our Society maintained and operated the Hospital and the Navy paid for its patients a sum approximately equalling the per diem cost of their patients, 614 in number.

Turning from our war activities, we record a gift from one of our Governors, Mr. Payne Whitney, of $50,000 toward the maintenance of the Hospital during the year to meet the all too apparent deficit. The Society's grateful acknowledgment is made to Mr. Whitney for his generous gift.

We are still carrying at a very heavy expense the block of land on the North River at Fifty-fourth Street, bought by the Society some years ago as a site for a new hospital. The condition of affairs remains the same as when we made our last report and the future is just as uncertain.

The subjects discussed by the Superintendent in his report will be of interest to you. There is presented to you an important statistical table showing the receipts and expenditures of the Hospital for the past ten years.

During the last four months of the year, 560 patients ill with influenza were admitted to the Hospital. In order to make room for these patients, two surgical wards were emptied of their cases and during three weeks were filled with patients suffering from influenza. There were 152 deaths from this disease, among them that of Miss Gabrielle Chevrier, a pupil nurse, who died on October 18th.

The Hospital in 1918 trained thirty-six young Polish women to assist in the care of Polish patients in France. It gave practical instruction in nursing to thirty women recommended by the Red Cross for periods of 240 hours each. Twelve enlisted men of the U. S. Medical Corps were trained as orderlies for a period of six weeks, four Assistant Surgeons of the Navy were given training in the wards and laboratories, and over one hundred men of the Medical Reserve Corps received instruction in the operation of the X-ray machine and the interpretation of X-ray plates.

The Havens Relief Fund Society gave during the year to the Red Cross the sum of $1,875 to be applied to this Hospital's expenses in connection with the war. This gift is gratefully acknowledged.

The sum of $86,000 was paid to us during 1918 by the Executors of James B. Brady, who made this Society a residuary legatee in his will. The size of his estate is not yet known.

The report of the Medical Superintendent of Bloomingdale Hospital deserves your careful consideration. Forty-four of the cases admitted to that Institution were Army officers who were received under orders of the War Department; 155 of the 216 civilians received were voluntary patients. The Hospital each year becomes more and more conservative in regard to the admission of incurable cases.

A gift of $10,000 to the Hospital during the year by Mr. Edward H. Floyd-Jones is gratefully acknowledged. It will be used for educational purposes connected with the Training School of Bloomingdale Hospital. In this connection we again urge the need of a nurses' home at Bloomingdale. No greater good could be accomplished than by such a gift. The other needs of Bloomingdale Hospital are most clearly set forth by the Medical Superintendent. Your attention is invited to them.

The report of Miss Ellison, Superintendent of the Campbell Convalescent Cottages, shows that the good work of this Institution still continues. No better work is done by our Society than in this branch.

Your attention is called to the report of the Chairman of the Auxiliary Committee of the Social Service Department.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their appreciation of the valued services of the Superintendent of the Hospital and of the Medical Superintendent of Bloomingdale in this strenuous year.

WAR ACTIVITIES OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

Summary of the Report of the Activities of U. S. A. Base Hospital No. 9 (New York Hospital Unit) with the American Expeditionary Force, France

Red Cross Base Hospital Unit No. 9 was organized early in 1916 at the New York Hospital. Preparations were so made and developed that when this country entered the war the personnel was rapidly completed and the enlisted men enrolled. Twenty-three medical officers and sixty nurses were selected from the personnel and graduates of the New York Hospital and the Chaplain, five civilian employees and 150 enlisted men obtained from outside. When mobilized on July 21, 1917, a Commanding Officer, a Quartermaster and a Master Hospital Sergeant were assigned to the Unit by the War Department. An equipment was furnished by the New York Hospital and its friends and on August 7th the Unit sailed for France on the S. S. Finland.

On the day of arrival the convoy passed through an exciting submarine attack lasting an hour and a half, but landed safely at St. Nazaire, where the fleet was met by cheering crowds. The next day the Unit proceeded to Savenay, about 18 miles away, with Base Hospital No. 8 which had traveled across the ocean on the same ship. At Savenay No. 9 was the guest of No. 8 in the buildings of a school for about two weeks, during which time there were held classes of instruction and the definite organization was perfected.

Early in September the Unit moved to its permanent location in Bitray, a very small village 1¼ miles from Chateauroux in the Department of the Indre. It took over there a French Hospital which had been built as a hospital for the insane and completed in 1914. The hospital was constructed on the pavilion system and consisted of 32 one- and two-story buildings of stone and stucco. It was provided with electric light, heating, water and sewage disposal systems and had a capacity of 700 beds. It was situated in the open country, a short distance from the river Indre. It was indescribably dirty and the first business was to clean it up.

At the beginning it was contemplated that the Base Hospital would care for 500 patients and before mobilization this number was increased to 1000. When it was necessary to plan the enlargement of the Bitray Hospital, the Unit was directed to provide for 1500 beds and for easy expansion to 2000. The plans perfected by the Officers of the Unit were approved by Headquarters and from the 1st of October, 1917, to early in April, 1918, a detachment of Engineers were busy carrying them out. The expansion consisted in the erection of 28 barracks, a complete overhauling of the heating plant, installation of the X-ray apparatus, the great enlargement of the sewage disposal, water and lighting systems as well as innumerable minor changes and repairs. In addition the Officers erected a rest barracks for themselves and the Red Cross built a recreation hut for the men and patients and a rest barracks for the nurses. In August it was necessary to have four more barracks erected for use as wards and two tents were used for convalescent patients, so that the hospital eventually occupied sixty-nine structures. In October, 1918, the Unit opened the Normal School in Chateauroux as an Annex and at one time had there 150 patients who were so far convalescent as to need but little medical care.

The first patient, one of the Hospital's own personnel, was admitted to a ward on September 15th and from that time the patient census increased steadily. On January 1, 1918, the census was 226, on July 1st, 1050 and the high mark was reached on August 2nd, when there were over 2100 patients in the hospital. The first hospital train, a small one, brought 94 patients from St. Nazaire on January 14, 1918. Later trains were much larger, especially the fine American trains which carried usually about 400. The total number of patients cared for up to January 1, 1919, was approximately 15,000 of whom about 140 died. They were about equally divided between medical and surgical cases. Of the surgical cases the majority were orthopedic.

As the various divisions of the Medical Department of the American E. F. became organized, Base Hospital No. 9 was designated an "Orthopedic Center." This designation limited somewhat the number of patients treated, for many of the orthopedic cases were of injuries to the bone of such a nature as to require prolonged hospital treatment. As a result also of this designation, a large number of orthopedic surgeons, especially those recently arrived in France, were sent to the hospital for instruction in orthopedic war surgery. As many as thirty such officers were present on the post at one time and the period of instruction varied from two to three weeks. The Director of Orthopedic Surgery made frequent visits and kept in close touch with the situation. It was intended at one time to set up a splint and appliance shop on the post but the armistice was signed before the arrangements were completed.

The enlisted personnel was increased by 25 in November, 1917, and by 55 in June, 1918, and by smaller additions subsequently until it reached about 300 men. The nursing force was increased temporarily in March, 1918, by the assignment of a small force from other Base Hospitals. Later, nurses were permanently assigned to duty at Base Hospital No. 9 in sufficient numbers to take care of the work. In August, 1918, a number of Reconstruction Aids were detailed to service to take charge of the vocational training, and the special exercises devised to improve injured joints and muscles.

A number of the Senior Officers were detached early in 1918. Dr. Gibson was recalled to the United States for resumption of his work at Cornell. Dr. Pool and Dr. Lee were called to Divisional positions and later became Corps Consultants and Dr. Elser was placed on the Staff of the Division of Laboratories, where he had charge of pathology and wound bacteriology for the A. E. F. This threw a heavy burden of responsibility upon the younger men. In addition there were nearly always two or more officers absent on detached service with other Armies or organizations, but it was not until the summer that new officers arrived to share the work.

After the beginning of the instruction the officer personnel varied from 35 to 65, of whom many were but temporarily assigned. Two members of the organization died. Miss Florence W. Campbell, one of the nurses, died in November, 1918, and Robert Lane, an enlisted man, in July, 1918.

A large area of the hospital grounds was cultivated as a garden for vegetables and some fields not far away were sown with wheat, while a number of pigs were also raised. In the fall of 1918 the man in charge of the garden was decorated by the French Government and the Hospital received a diploma for the excellent agricultural work.

One section of the Chateauroux cemetery was set aside for the use of the Americans and under the care of the Chaplain soon became a very beautiful place. The Chaplain also had charge of the entertainments for much of the time and acted as postmaster and representative of the Red Cross, censor and musician, in addition to conducting his Services. The room built as a chapel and used as such by the French soon became too small and the Sunday Services were transferred to the men's Recreation Hut. The work of the Chaplain was the chief factor in the promotion of the spirit of the Unit.

Social relations were maintained with the French both by joint clinics, held with the Medical Officers stationed at the hospitals in Chateauroux, both at Bitray and the French hospitals, and also by occasional receptions at the hospital or in the town. General Pasard, the French General commanding the Department, attended several of the affairs at Base Hospital No. 9, and many friendships were formed between the people in town and the members of the Unit. Entertainments and dances were occasions also for meetings with other organizations of the American Army stationed at Montierchaume, Issoudun and Romorantin, nearby towns. During the summer, before the work became too urgent, baseball games were played with some of the nearest organizations.

Frequent entertainments were held in the Red Cross Hut for the patients and enlisted men. These were most usually moving picture shows but there were often musical programmes and military bands from some of the American Regiments gave a number of concerts at the hospital. The Red Cross had a representative on the post after early in 1918 and many of these entertainments were arranged through him. The Y. M. C. A. had a representative there for a very short time when it was agreed that the Red Cross should have sole charge of the activities at Base Hospitals.

The character of the cases treated varied. During the winter 1917-18 they were almost entirely medical, the majority of them being cases of the ordinary contagious diseases with a number of complicating pneumonias. After the wounded began to arrive the operating room was kept very busy with operations for "secondary suture" of the wounds in which the infection had been cured and the operation done in order to close the wound. Comparatively few of the wounded reached the Base Hospital soon enough after their injury to permit of the primary operation being performed there. The large percentage of orthopedic cases received demanded the use of more or less complicated apparatus in their treatment and a number of forms of special apparatus were devised at the hospital to meet special conditions. One ward was equipped with a special type of bed devised at this hospital which was particularly adapted to be used with accessory apparatus.

On January 1, 1919, the work of the New York Hospital Unit was practically completed. The number of patients was gradually and steadily decreasing and word had been received that another Unit was on the way to relieve it. The war was over and Base Hospital No. 9 was soon to be on its way back to the United States.

NEW YORK HOSPITAL—West Fifteenth Street
Completed 1877

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL AND HOUSE OF RELIEF.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The cost of maintaining the New York Hospital in 1918 was $404,519.35 which includes $21,261.68 for extraordinary replacements and improvements in the heat, light and power plant. In 1917 the expenditures totalled $366,032.01, not including any extraordinary repairs. While the total expenses for 1918 were $38,487.34 greater than for 1917, the receipts during 1918 were $44,709.51 greater than in 1917, making a net decrease in cost for the year of $6,222.17.

The cost of maintaining the House of Relief was $79,369.00 against $75,025.41 in 1917. As the receipts were $15,852.64 greater in 1918 than in 1917, the net decrease in cost was $11,509.05.

Reference to the statistical reports shows that two departments, the steward's and the engineer's, were mainly responsible for the increase in gross expenditures at the New York Hospital. The steward's department spent $7,595.35 more than in 1917. In view of the greatly increased cost of practically all food supplies, this would appear to be a very reasonable increase. The actual increase in food cost was a little less than 7%. The engineering department spent $10,781.89 more for coal, $4,281.50 more for electric light, and $1,572.06 more for labor in 1918 than in 1917. The price of coal has increased from $4.15 a long ton in 1916 to $7.25 a short ton in 1918, and is of a much inferior quality. It is to be hoped that this department will make a better showing, now that its improvements have been completed.

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS.

The hoist used in elevating ashes from the boiler room to the courtyard, having become worn out, a direct connected electric sidewalk hoist was installed at a cost of about $2,100.

The Social Service Department which had for several years occupied space in the Admitting Room was removed to the two rooms at the west end of the basement floor, occupied for years as an accident room. The accident cases are now treated in the Admitting Room, one of the salaried admitting officers always being present to take care of this work.

The seven old boilers which were no longer insurable were replaced by three new ones of 180 horse power each. Many difficulties were encountered in making this installation and the work dragged along for many months. The cost of the new boilers was $18,000.

A refrigerating plant of compression type was installed. The old refrigerating plant is still retained for use in case of emergency.

Two new house pumps and a Berryman heater were also installed in the boiler room.

The total cost of the improvements made in the boiler room was $23,361.68.

New dish washing machines were installed in the Private Patients' Serving Room and the Nurses' Pantry.

A fourth steam pressing machine was added to the laundry equipment.

HYDRIATIC DEPARTMENT.

In this Department treatment is furnished to ward, private room, and out-patients. Men and women are treated on alternate afternoons. Expert operators are in constant attendance. The average daily number of treatments in 1918 was 5 plus. The total number of treatments in 1918 was 2,110—a decrease of 13 treatments as compared with 1917.

THE TEN-YEAR RECORD.

The statistical table presented herewith shows receipts and expenditures of the Fifteenth-Sixteenth Streets Hospital for the past ten years, during which time ordinary expenditures have increased from $262,523.61 to $383,257.67, or about 46 per cent, and receipts from $82,162.29 to $219,630.62, or about 167 per cent. In 1908 the receipts were 28 per cent of the expenditures; in 1917, 48 per cent, and in 1918, 60 per cent. Expenditures were very large in 1918, owing to war conditions. Receipts were large because of general employment at very high wages. There is every reason to suppose that both receipts and expenditures will be smaller in 1919.

AMBULANCE DEPARTMENT.

With the exception of a few weeks during the influenza epidemic, the ambulance work was comparatively light, averaging about eighteen calls per day compared with a normal average of about twenty-two calls. The expense of maintaining the system was heavy, owing to the inability to obtain competent chauffeurs and mechanics to drive and repair cars. At one time it was apparently impossible to obtain men chauffeurs. We were assisted over this crisis by the Motor Division of the National League for Women's Service. In response to an appeal from the Hospital, this Organization took over the service for about two weeks, furnishing ambulances as well as chauffeurs.

Had it not been for the timely assistance rendered by these ladies, our service would have been temporarily suspended.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.

During the last four months of the year, five hundred and sixty patients ill with influenza were admitted to the Hospital. At one time over one hundred and sixty influenza patients were under treatment. In order to make room for these patients, Wards M and K were emptied of surgical cases. About forty nurses and several doctors were sick with the disease, all recovering excepting Miss Gabrille Chevrier, a pupil nurse, who died October 18th. Of the five hundred and sixty cases, four hundred had complications.

The number of deaths was large—one hundred and fifty-two. Seventy-two of the patients were under sixteen years of age, one hundred and eighty-eight were between seventeen and twenty-seven years, two hundred and three between twenty-eight and thirty-eight years, fifty were between thirty-nine and forty-nine years, and twenty-three were between fifty and seventy-four years. Three hundred and twenty-two were males, and two hundred and thirty-eight females.

LABOR SHORTAGE.

Gradually increasing difficulty was experienced in obtaining a sufficient number of employees to carry on the work of the hospital. Wages were increased and various concessions made in order to attract new employees and to hold the old ones, but the attractions we held out were not nearly as alluring as those offered by other employers, who were not operating under limited budgets and who were able to pass their excessive production costs on to the ultimate consumers. We managed to get through the year by eliminating everything excepting the absolutely essential. As a result of the labor shortage, the hospital has suffered severely physically.

Were it not for the fact that we have a considerable number of faithful, old employees, conditions would have been much worse and the elimination of a number of departments would have been found necessary before this.

I wish at this time to express my feeling of gratitude to those employees who have remained steadfast in their loyalty to the Institution. By so doing, they have done their share, in an unostentatious way, in helping their Country in its hour of need.

WAR WORK.

Whenever the opportunity presented itself, the resources of the Society were freely utilized in furthering the cause of the War.

Thirty-six young Polish women were trained to assist in the care of Polish Troops in France.

Women who were recommended by the Red Cross were given practical instruction in nursing for periods of 240 hours each.

Twelve enlisted men of the Medical Corps were trained as orderlies for a period of about six weeks.

Instruction was given throughout the year in the operation of X-Ray machinery and in the interpretation of X-Ray plates. Over one hundred Medical Reserve Corps men took this course.

Four assistant surgeons of the Navy were given training in the wards and laboratories for several weeks.

Drafted men and volunteers, suffering from minor physical disabilities, which, if untreated, were sufficient to disqualify them for Army Service, were given the necessary treatment to enable them to pass the physical examinations.

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL.

The plumbing in the hospital building has been in use for many years. Much of it is in bad shape and should be replaced.

The housing conditions for nurses are unsatisfactory and inadequate, and if the hospital is to remain in its present location, a new home should be built.

Arrangements should be made to increase the accommodations for private patients. The demand for rooms is large and constantly increasing. The receipts from the Private Patients' Building have nearly doubled in the past five years.

HEART CLINIC.

During the year three hundred and ninety-six cases were seen at this Clinic, which is supported through the generosity of a patient of Dr. Theodore B. Barringer.

HOUSE OF RELIEF.

In response to an urgent appeal from the United States Navy, the Board of Governors voted in March to place all of the wards of the House of Relief at the disposal of the Navy. Since March, no civilian bed patients have been admitted. Six hundred and fourteen sailors have been cared for.

In May it was voted to discontinue the Out Patient Department of the House of Relief and convert the rooms used in this work into an additional ward for United States Sailors. The capacity of the Institution was thereby increased to one hundred beds. The cost of alterations and necessary equipment was over $2,000.

The Ambulance Service was given up in March.

As it was found impracticable to give our pupil nurses adequate training at the House of Relief, it was decided to employ three graduate nurses for supervisory and teaching purposes and to train as many volunteer workers as Nurses' Aids as could be properly done. The number of aids trained was twenty-eight.

As it was found difficult to obtain internes under the changed conditions, it was decided to employ three salaried resident physicians.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Haven Relief Fund Society made its customary annual contribution of $400. This money was disbursed by the Social Service Department in conformity with the aim of the donor, which is "especially the affording of temporary relief to unobtrusive suffering endured by industrious or worthy persons." A detailed report of the disbursements was rendered to Mr. Charles M. Bleecker, Secretary of the Society.

Mrs. Waldron Post Brown gave $20 and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman $10 for Christmas festivities.

Numerous donations of flowers, toys, books and magazines were received and duly acknowledged.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL BOARD OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1918.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—Although profoundly affected by the disturbed condition of the world, the Hospital has had a busy year.

The actual number of patients treated was a little smaller than in the preceding year, in all departments of the Hospital, excepting the Private Patients Pavilion where there was an increase both in the number of patients and in the number of "hospital days."

Our Hospital shared with other institutions the burden of the epidemic of "Influenza" that prevailed during the closing months of the year. Five hundred and sixty cases of this disease were treated in the Hospital and discharged from the middle of September to December 31st. During the height of the epidemic the surgical divisions curtailed their work to a great extent and no operations were attempted unless critical conditions seemed to demand prompt surgical interference. During the latter half of October, one of the male surgical wards was placed at the disposal of the medical divisions. For a number of weeks practically all of the medical patients were suffering from "Influenza." A large percentage of these had pneumonia, and many sought admission to the Hospital only when in a very serious condition. The mortality among the patients with influenzal pneumonia was high, and it is to this that the mortality rate of the entire hospital was about nine per cent., whereas it was only six per cent. in 1917.

The attending staff suffered the loss of eight men during the year who entered the military service. Notwithstanding this depletion, the work has been carried on very efficiently with the help of men who accepted temporary appointments.

The Pathological Department lost all of its former staff with one exception. The Acting Radiologist was called to active service, and many of the staff of consulting specialists also were ordered to the camps.

The interne staff, which had been reorganized on the basis of a service lasting one year, was with great difficulty kept up to a proper standard of efficiency. It was not always possible to find men for the vacancies nor to keep the men for the full period of one year. After the signing of the armistice the prospect of finding internes improved quite promptly and permission was obtained from the Board of Governors to restore the length of the service to its former duration of two years. During 1919 this transformation will be accomplished.

The House of Relief was given to the Navy for use as a hospital for sailors and marines. The attending staff continued to care for these patients. It was found necessary to employ resident physicians and surgeons in the absence of volunteers for the positions of internes.

Another innovation has been the employment of women in the Private Patient Pavilion as Resident House Officers.

Great difficulty has been found in getting physicians and surgeons for the Dispensary at the Hospital. The Dispensary of the House of Relief was closed when the wards of this institution were closed to civilian patients.

This is a long list of handicaps, but in spite of it, the medical and surgical care of the patients in the Hospital has been maintained at a high level of efficiency by the ardor and enthusiasm that have been shown by those on duty.

In connection with the conscription of troops, a Medical Advisory Board was organized at the Hospital. For several months this Board met every week-day and examined and classified a large number of patients each day.

In conclusion, the Medical Board wishes to express its appreciation of the cordial co-operation of the Governors of the Hospital in meeting the new problems that confronted it in all the departments of the work.

WM. R. WILLIAMS,

Vice-President of the Medical Board.

REPORT OF THE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES FOR THE YEAR 1918.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—It is my privilege to present to you the forty-second annual report of the School of Nursing.

The closing year registers the following Staff on duty in the Hospital:

Affiliated Pupils (Bloomingdale Hospital)	7

For the purpose of conserving our teaching force and promoting greater efficiency in the nursing work of the Hospital, we have replaced the Ward Charge Nurses by Supervising Nurses of the different divisions of the Hospital Services. This arrangement will give the third year or senior nurses of the school an opportunity of developing any executive ability they may possess, as the most deserving will carry the responsibility of the ward and the work of the nurses under her, under the direction of the Supervisor of that service.

We are hoping for splendid results when this plan is further developed.

Very few of our pupils were on duty at the House of Relief this year, as all the beds of that department were given over to the Navy, and the service subsided to one of very little activity.

The work, however, was carried on very satisfactorily by three or four pupils with the assistance of Volunteer Nurses' Aids, under the supervision of Graduate Nurses.

The Influenza Epidemic has retarded somewhat the progress of our affiliated courses, as all Institutions were wholly given over to the relief of the unfortunate victims of this plague.

The illness of so many of the Students crippled the nursing staff to such an extent, that all classes and special services were of necessity cancelled. However, we now have our first group at Bloomingdale Hospital receiving instruction in the care of mental and nervous diseases, and they are most enthusiastic over the work.

The above mentioned epidemic made very serious inroads on our student body, causing the absence from active duty of fifty-five nurses, and the loss of one of the Junior Class who was greatly beloved by all, and who left a memory of a gentle and efficient service. On the whole and in comparison with other institutions we were very fortunate, as many of our pupils made very good and complete recoveries, some have not yet regained their normal health and a few were obliged to withdraw from the school.

We regret to report the deaths of seven of our Graduates, Miss Anna V. Gluck, Class 1908, and Miss Bertha E. Jandes, Class 1914, actively engaged in the epidemic work; Miss Monica S. Brock, Class 1910, and Miss Florence W. Campbell, Class 1916, on active service in France; Miss Helen B. Wilsey, Class 1899; Mrs. F. La Rochell, née Elizabeth Henstridge, Class 1913, and Mrs. S. A. Lindhart, née Laura C. Lynch, Class 1894.

It is gratifying to know that at the very hour of the country's greatest need, March sixth, nineteen hundred and eighteen, we graduated our largest class on record, when Mr. Howard Townsend, President of the Governing Board, presented the badges and diplomas to fifty-one students.

The Exercises were held in the Administration Room, where an interesting address by Major Charles Gibson was delivered to the Graduating Class. Everyone listened with pleasure to his description of the splendid work of our Unit at Chateauroux and the Class was filled with a hope that they too might have an opportunity of assisting in the care of those brave men who were willing to give up their lives for the cause of right. After the Exercises a Reception was given in the Nurses' Residence for the members of the Graduating Class and their friends.

The first division of the senior class greatly appreciated the action of the Executive Committee in granting their release from Hospital duty, after the minimum amount of service necessary to complete their course, at which time the New York State Education Department offered special examinations for Registration, they had hoped to be able to render a service to the country at the close of the year. This division will return to the Hospital in March, 1919, to receive their diplomas and graduate formally with the other members of the class. Miss Esther Love of this class made such an excellent record in her Hospital and Regents examinations, that she was eligible for and obtained a scholarship from Teachers' College, Columbia University, to cover a course of instruction, with maintenance, to prepare her for the position of Instructor in an Army School, at the end of which service she may return to Columbia and complete her course for Master's Degree.

Our hearts are filled with pride when we see the Service Flag of our Alumnæ Association floating its one hundred and ninety-six Stars, showing the splendid service our nurses have given to the country.

This Flag has another significance—it pictures the loss that was sustained here by the absence of all those active women, it shows the willing and untiring efforts of the Graduates on Hospital duty to cover the work of our over-crowded Institution without the proper assistance, maids and orderlies being impossible to obtain; and tells the story of the cheerful undaunted spirit, the courageous and splendid work of our pupil nurses.

We heartily thank our Graduate Nurses and friends who offered their services during the Influenza siege, when so many of our students were ill. The unselfishness of these women, numbers of whom came to us when their regular duties were at an end, to help in the ward work and care of the pupils, gave us courage to bear up under the terrible burden of this winter's epidemic.

We greatly appreciate the wonderful unity of spirit and the hearty co-operation of all departments and are looking forward with courage and hope to a year of normal living.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE AUXILIARY COMMITTEE TO THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT.

January 5th, 1919.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

Dear Sirs:—In accordance with the request of the gentlemen of the Executive Committee that I prepare a brief summary of the recent work done by the Social Service Department, I am submitting the following and hope that the Governors will not find it too long and still that it will contain those facts which the Committee felt would be of interest to the Board.

Our staff at present consists of our head worker or supervisor, the nurse of the children's clinics, the nurse of the Tuberculosis Clinic, the nurse of the Syphilology Clinic, the nurse who makes daily rounds in the wards and attends to the adult convalescent work, the Surgical Follow-up nurse and the nurse of the Heart Clinic, seven in all.

The first four of these are paid by the Hospital, the fifth and sixth are paid by the Women's Auxiliary to the Social Service Department, while the nurse of the Heart Clinic is paid by a private donation. The Auxiliary also pays for the nurse who attends the Tuberculosis and Syphilology night clinics and the temporary salary of the nurse in the Sunday follow-up clinic for patients who had influenza during the recent epidemic.

For over a month the staff of the Social Service Workers was terribly crippled on account of the influenza, still by doing the most important work only many patients were cared for in their homes and some help was given by the nurses of our department in the wards during their time off duty. During the epidemic the Social Service Workers were much helped by two members of the Auxiliary who gave the use of their motors for making visits, thus saving a great deal of time.

Over 150 quarts of broth, homemade custards, eggs and dozens of oranges and lemons were distributed to patients convalescing at home.

The average amount of money spent by the Department a month is as follows: $175 in salaries, $200 in milk, about $20 in paying women for sewing, $30 in general relief of various kinds and $10 in clothing, amounting altogether to about $435 per month. At a fair given by Mrs. Payne Whitney, Chairman of the Committee to collect money for a special milk fund, sufficient money was raised to enable the Department to give on an average of 1,225 quarts of milk a month.

During the period of readjustment at Burke Foundation, when they were unable to take as many convalescents as usual there, many patients were sent by private subscriptions of members of the Auxiliary to places where the pay was moderate. Altogether during the year convalescent care was given to 444 adults and 821 children, and fresh air relief given to 250 children. We are very grateful to Burke Foundation and other Convalescent Homes, who have made convalescent care possible for our adult patients, to the fine co-operation of Campbell Cottages where most of our children convalesced, and to the "New York Tribune," the "Christian Herald," Globe Camp, St. Barnabas, all who gave fresh air outings to tenement children known to us.

During the year 3,600 articles were made by poor women for use in the hospital, the housekeeper furnishing the materials and the Auxiliary paying for the sewing. There were also 1,487 articles made for the operating rooms and shoe bags made for the sailors at the House of Relief, as well as comfort bags for our Unit abroad.

Several sub-committees of the Auxiliary have been formed with most satisfactory results. A Purchasing Committee, with Mrs. Kent as Chairman, whose business is to buy at wholesale prices everything paid for by the Auxiliary or by private subscription; a Food Conservation Committee, of which Mrs. Frederick Allien is Chairman, have organized classes among the poor women whom we know through the wards and clinics to teach the proper preparation of foods heretofore not understood by them. A demonstrator was paid to teach them the uses of various substitutes in cooking with excellent results. A Sewing and Knitting Class Committee, with Mrs. Vietor as Chairman, meets once a week and is enthusiastically attended. The children who come have a careful watch kept over their physical condition.

The House of Relief Committee, of which Mrs. Hitzrot is acting Chairman, still keeps up an interest in the poor families of that district and provided for them at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Mrs. Hetzler, the Chairman of the Playground Committee, fitted up the Fifteenth Street garden most attractively, and during the summer it was a great blessing to the children of our district. It was used by many adults who were convalescing in the wards and were able to walk across and sit in the shade in that portion of the playground which runs through to Fourteenth Street, the Fifteenth Street part being kept for the children.

The day before Thanksgiving 109 baskets containing dinners were packed and distributed. These contained a fowl, a variety of mixed vegetables, a package of coffee, cranberries, condensed milk, sugar, bread, and some apples, oranges and nuts. They were very attractive and varied in size and contents according to the numbers of the family for whom they were designated. They were very gratefully received.

Heretofore, we have always had the Christmas Tree for the children of the Social Service families in the dispensary on New Year's Eve, but this year, on account of the shortage of labor and because it was growing more and more difficult to accommodate and entertain the numbers of children who always attend all on one afternoon, it was decided to have the tree in the Social Service office and to open it on five successive days to the children to whom we gave tickets. These came of course in installments and the arrangements worked perfectly. The tree was quite beautiful and altogether about 375 children received presents of candy, toys and clothing, had ice cream, and led by the nurses of the Training School sang carols around the tree. We think that on the whole they had more time and more opportunity to enjoy themselves than they did when the Christmas Tree party was given for them all at one time.

On Christmas Eve, 120 dinners were packed and 145 dinners distributed, 25 of these being given by Mr. Astor; the rest were paid for by special subscriptions of members of the Auxiliary. Every family of over seven persons received two chickens; those of under seven, one chicken, a quantity of vegetables and the same groceries which we gave out at Thanksgiving. We calculated that aside from a large number of vegetables, fruit, jellies, etc., which were given, the dinners cost about $2.30 apiece. Altogether we feel that the Christmas festivities were very successful and the real appreciation of those whom we were able to help was extremely gratifying.

The Women's Auxiliary are very grateful for the interest which has been shown by the Governors in the work of the Social Service Department, and I take this opportunity in their behalf of thanking the Board for their kind attention and encouragement and for the privilege of submitting this report.

ELEANOR ISELIN,

Chairman Women's Auxiliary to the Social Service Dept. of the New York Hospital.

ADMISSIONS.

The total number admitted was 260, of which 146 were men and 114 were women. Nine persons were admitted more than once during the year, one of them three times. Nine were admitted by transfer from other institutions. Seventy-four others, constituting about 28 per cent of the total admissions, had at some time previously received hospital treatment for mental disorder, 16 of them at this Hospital. One hundred and fifty-six cases were in their first attack, and 53, or about 20.3 per cent, had been recognized to be mentally disordered for more than a year before admission.

BLOOMINGDALE HOSPITAL—White Plains, N. Y.

Forty-four of the cases admitted were army officers who were received under military orders. Of the 216 civilian cases received, 155, of which 73 were men and 82 were women, were voluntary patients. These constituted 71 per cent of the civilians admitted; 72 per cent of the men and 70 per cent of the women. Including the army officers, 199 cases, or 76.5 per cent of the total admissions, 80 per cent of the men and 71 per cent of the women, were placed under treatment without resort to formal proceedings. It was necessary in five instances during the year to apply to the courts for authority to detain patients who had, when received, signed their own application.

The ages of the patients admitted ranged from 13 to 72. Thirteen were under 20, and five were under 18. Seventy-seven were between 20 and 30. Seventy-four, or about 28 per cent of the cases, were between 30 and 40, and forty-nine, or about 19 per cent, were between 40 and 50. Twenty-eight were between 50 and 60. Eighteen were over 60, two of whom were over 70. Eighty-two per cent of the patients admitted were under 50 years of age.

One hundred and eighty-three of the admissions were from New York State, 42 from Westchester County. Forty-two per cent of the women had previous to their admission supported themselves in gainful occupations.

The forms of mental disorder of the patients admitted, grouped in accordance with the classification adopted by the American Medico-Psychological Association, were as follows:

	Men	Women	Total
Traumatic Psychoses	2	...	2
Senile Psychoses	..	1	1
Psychoses with cerebral arteriosclerosis	7	5	12

Total	146	114	260

The number of cases of general paralysis admitted is much below that of recent previous years. This is due to the increasing conservatism of the Hospital in regard to the admission of incurable cases, and to the prevalence of a less optimistic view of the results of treatment than was presented in the newspapers a few years ago.

The large number of cases of manic-depressive psychoses, constituting 43 per cent of the admissions, is noteworthy. These cases, as a rule, recover from the attack, and require the maximum of attention and expenditures in their treatment. The large proportion cared for explains in some measure the increasing cost of maintenance of the Hospital.

DISCHARGES.

The total number discharged was 277, of which 131 were men and 146 were women. There were also, at the close of the year, 20 patients on visit, who were still carried on the books and receiving some attention. The number of patients who were classed as recovered at the time of their discharge was 69, as much improved 70, as improved 54, as unimproved 31, and 6 were inebriates without a psychoses. Nineteen died, and 22 were transferred to other institutions.

The average duration of hospital residence of those who were classed as recovered was 5.9 months, and of those who were classed as much improved 7.8 months. Fourteen of the latter group had been in the Hospital for more than a year. These two groups, consisting of 139 patients, represent the most favorable results obtained in the treatment of the patients during the year, and constitute 50 per cent of the total number discharged, or if the cases transferred to other institutions be excluded in making the computation, 54.5 per cent.

The number of patients who died was 19, of which 13 were men and 6 were women. This is 6.8 per cent of the total number discharged, and 3.2 per cent of the whole number treated. Eleven or 57.8 per cent of those who died were over 50 years of age, seven were over 60, six were over 70, three were over 80, and one was over 90. The average duration of hospital residence was 7.4 years. One had been at the Hospital for 54 years, and another for 37 years.

MEDICAL SERVICE.

The total number of patients treated at the Hospital during the year was 590. During the latter part of the year, the work of the Hospital physicians was much augmented by the prevalence of influenza and pneumonia among the patients and employees.

Between September 28, 1918, and the close of the year there were 69 cases, of which 52 were among the employees. Owing to unusual demands upon the physicians of the Hospital and of the profession generally, occasioned by war conditions, it was found impracticable to hold as many open medical conferences as in previous years, though the regular staff conferences were held twice a week as usual. The following subjects were presented at two open conferences which were well attended:

The Returned Disabled Soldiers of Canada.—Dr. William L. Russell, Medical Superintendent, Bloomingdale Hospital.
Significance and Detection of Inferior Adaptability.—Dr. George S. Amsden, Bloomingdale Hospital.
Traumatic Neuroses in Civil Life.—Dr. George W. Henry, Bloomingdale Hospital.
Some Cases of Social Mal-adjustment.—Dr. Esther S. B. Woodward, Psychiatrist, Department of Child Welfare, Westchester County.
Significance of Eneuresis.—Dr. George W. Henry, Bloomingdale Hospital.

On November 19th, a regular meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Westchester was held at the Hospital.

A considerable amount of major and minor surgery was required by the patients and employees during the year, and the need of better facilities for this work was again emphasized. One hundred and fifty intravenous, and 50 intraspinous arsenobenzol treatments were given during the year. These and the large number of surgical dressings in addition to the operative work required, could have been more conveniently attended to in a suitable surgical room. Dr. J. Fielding Black of White Plains has continued to furnish the expert surgical service, and Dr. Frank N. Irwin the expert attention required for disorders of the eye, ear, and throat. Several patients and employees have, during the year, been sent to the New York Hospital for examination and treatment.

The quarters of the Hospital laboratory were extended during the year by the addition of another room, and a Duboscq-Leitz Colorimeter, a Van Slyke CO_2 determinator, an apparatus for determining the coagulation time of the blood, and some less noteworthy articles have been added to the equipment. The work attended to during the year is indicated by the following tabulated statement:

The dental work was, as in previous years, attended to by Dr. D. Austin Sniffen of White Plains. The number of patients who received dental attention was 426 and the number of treatments and operations was 1907. More attention than in previous years was given to the use of radiographs in the examination of the teeth.

THE NURSING SERVICE.

The report of the Directress of Nurses is appended. On no department of the Hospital have the difficulties occasioned by war conditions fallen more heavily than on the nursing service. To aid in maintaining an adequate proportion of nurses to patients, the average daily number of patients in the Hospital has been kept somewhat lower than usual, and, in a few instances, it was found advisable to decline to receive patients who required exceptional nursing attention. That the standards were not seriously lowered was, however, due principally to the efforts of the nurses themselves, and to the hearty co-operation of the physical education and occupational departments with the nursing service. The number received into the School of Nursing during the year was larger than in the previous year, and the three years' course which is carried on in affiliation with the New York Hospital and the Manhattan Maternity is developing satisfactorily. The application to educational purposes connected with the School, of the income from the gift made to the Hospital during the year by Mr. Edward Floyd-Jones will, we believe, help in the advanced training of some of the graduates who are needed for service in superior positions in the Hospital and elsewhere. Each year that passes brings into clearer relief the great benefit the nursing standards of the Hospital would derive from a Nurses' Home, the need of which has been mentioned in previous reports.

The graduation exercises of the School of Nursing were held on June 6th. Diplomas were presented by the President of the Board of Governors to thirteen graduates. The address was made by Dr. Walter B. James, President of the New York Academy of Medicine.

PHYSICAL AND OCCUPATIONAL DEPARTMENTS.

For part of the year, the Director of Physical Education of the Women's Department was absent in war service, and the work was carried on and maintained at a good level by the assistants. In the men's department, there were times during the year when no specially qualified person was available for the work and it was necessary to rely upon attendants without special training. The activities were, however, kept up better than was anticipated to be possible, and before the close of the year a Director was appointed. The work done in the departments is indicated by the following tabulated statement:

	Men	Women	Total
Enrollment	108	214	322
Average daily attendance	52	64	116
Gymnasium Classes	313	85	398

Coasting	9	50	59
Skiing	35	80	115
Total games and sports	2,623	4,654	7,277

In addition to the activities tabulated, skiing, coasting, and skating were engaged in during the winter, and picnics, swimming, and automobile drives during the other seasons. No record was kept of the games of billiards, pool, and cards played by the men, as they engaged in them freely without attention from the physical education department. They also played croquet, quoits, lawn bowling and other minor games of which no record was kept. Four plays, of which two were given on the lawn, and several fancy dances, were presented by the women's department, the participants being patients and assistants of the department. Instruction in games and exercises was given by the departments to nurses in training and to occupational therapy aides who were preparing for war service. The women's department also assisted in looking after the regular weekly entertainments, and was especially helpful in getting outdoors patients who, because of the depletion of the nursing force, would otherwise have been out much less.

The work of the Departments of Occupational Therapy is indicated by the following tabulated statement:

Both the men and women patients also engaged in garden work and raised considerable quantities of flowers, and vegetables. The use of occupational therapy in the treatment of the men was, during the year, extended so as to give more attention to patients who were still confined to their beds or the halls, and too ill to go to the shops. A woman assistant was engaged for this work which has been carried on with considerable success. It was started in July and thus far 100 patients who would otherwise have received little or no occupational attention have been employed, the average daily number being fifteen. The number of articles made was 132, the work engaged in being basketry, raffia work, caning, netting, simple book binding, block printing, and the manufacture of slippers from old blankets. Besides the work with the patients the occupational departments gave instruction in occupational therapy to 47 persons; 23 pupil nurses of the Hospital School of Nursing, 5 pupil nurses from an affiliated school, 1 army nurse, 3 special students, and 15 reconstruction aides for army service. Soon after the course for reconstruction aides was started, two of the principal assistants of the women's department received army appointments, and much credit is due the Directors and the assistants who remained, for carrying the course to a successful conclusion under such difficult conditions. In December, by invitation of the National Society of Craftsmen, an exhibit of the products of the occupation departments was shown at the National Arts Club, New York. The net cost for supplies and labor of the men's department during the year was $1,993.75 and of the women's $2,724.46. The need of a new or an additional building for the women's department was, during the past year, felt more keenly than ever before.

In the departments of hydrotherapy and massage, the number of patients who received massage was 165, of which 63 were men and 102 were women. The number of treatments given was 4,631. In the hydriatic rooms, 5,821 treatments were given, 2,948 to men and 2,873 to women. Packs were employed 1,132 times, and prolonged baths 2,313 times.

ROCKLEY COTTAGE.

Owing to the scarcity of nurses, it was considered inadvisable to man the Cottage for the care of patients in residence. A caretaker was employed, however, and the Cottage was kept open for the use of day parties from June 25th to September 15th. The number of parties sent to the Cottage was 42, and the number of patients who enjoyed the benefit of these trips was 300. The Cottage was also used to a limited extent by the physicians of the Hospital and their families, and by members of the nursing force, who were permitted to remain overnight or over Sunday.

IMPROVEMENTS IN EQUIPMENT AND PLANT.

Owing to war conditions, little was done, during the year, for the improvement of the plant and equipment. The opportunity to be of service to the military forces led, however, to the fitting up of the North Street Cottage as a residence for a group of reconstruction aides who were received for training in occupational therapy. Some structural alterations were made in the interior of the Cottage, electric light wires and fixtures, additional plumbing fixtures, and a hot water heater were installed, the house was repainted inside and out, and the rooms to be occupied were completely furnished. To provide additional facilities for getting feeble patients outdoors a broad terrace of stone and concrete was built on the south side of the Solarium building. With a view to reducing labor cost a power sprayer for the trees, and a milking machine for the dairy were purchased, and to aid in saving fuel and water a circulating pump for the hot water system was installed. The work of deepening the pond was completed by the contractor during the year, and the conditions in the part of the property in which the pond is located were much improved. The beautification of this part of the grounds is an advantage to the people of White Plains by whom it is used as a park, and in winter the pond becomes a skating rink for both the Hospital and town people.

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL.

Notwithstanding the many improvements which have been made at the Hospital during the past few years, the processes of deterioration which are constantly going on, and the steady advance and elaboration of the methods and requirements considered necessary for the study and treatment of disease, are continually bringing new needs into view. These are, as they arise, receiving constant consideration from the Bloomingdale Committee, and, from time to time, recommendations for providing for them are made to your Board. It seems advisable, however, even at the risk of seeming to be insistent, to bring forward again two important needs which have been presented in previous reports, and which are of such an expensive character that it seems unlikely that they can be provided for except through gifts. The present gymnasium for men is quite dilapidated and entirely inadequate for the present requirements in employing physical exercises, games, and other recreational measures in the treatment of the patients. Its replacement with a suitable new building would, at one stroke, advance to a higher level the standards of the Hospital in these measures which do so much to maintain about the patients an atmosphere of happiness, of healthful activity, and of cure.

The need of a Nurses' Home has been referred to in previous reports and becomes more plainly felt each year. The increasing number of actively sick cases which are admitted, and the added necessity of reducing the working hours of the nurses who are given the difficult task of caring for them, render it advisable to make provision for a larger force, and the present quarters are inadequate. The development of the School of Nursing, the arrangement of receiving pupils from the New York Hospital School, the prospect of using the Occupational Departments as a means of training occupational aides for other institutions and for private work, for which there is a growing demand, are additional reasons why more adequate accommodations for the nursing force should be provided. The advantages of a Nurses' Home where the nurses when off duty may be quite away from the patients, and where a social, recreational, and educational centre may be furnished for them, are generally recognized. In no class of nursing can the need for these be greater than in that which brings the nurses in constant contact with unhealthy minds. Good progress has been made in building up the courses of instruction and training. Their further advance and the extent to which they may be enabled to contribute to raising the standard of nursing in the Hospital, and in the wider field of nursing in which there has been so great neglect of mental cases, will depend upon our ability to attract candidates of the superior intelligence and character required, and to provide conditions of work, of living, and of training which will be satisfactory to them.

The experiences of the war have brought into view more clearly than ever before the extent to which nervous and mental disorders prevail. Much interest and intelligence in the subject have also been awakened by the attention which was given by the Government to dealing adequately with these disorders in the army. It seems likely that this example, and the knowledge which has been spread abroad, will have great influence in shaping the developments in civil practice. The directions in which the work of the Hospital might be advantageously extended so as to provide more fully for well recognized needs in the field of nervous and mental disease in New York, have been outlined in previous reports, but it seems proper to mention again some of the developments which would be needed, namely:

(1) Better provision in the City for receiving patients, and for short periods of treatment.
(2) Better provision for separation of the different types of cases on the property at White Plains.
(3) Better provision for convalescence and a period of after-care.

FINANCIAL.

The total number of patients treated at the Hospital during the year was 590, of which 230 paid rates which were less than the average cost of maintenance, and 58 were treated free. In 40 per cent of the patients treated, therefore, the expense was borne wholly or in part by the Society at a cost of $114,188.37, which is equivalent to the support of 75 free beds.

The number of weeks board and treatment furnished was 15,657$\frac{3}{7}$, and the average weekly per capita cost for maintenance was $29.09. This includes the cost of maintaining the property at White Plains and Oakland Beach, salaries and wages, supplies, ordinary repairs and renewals, and all ordinary running expenses. It does not include capital charges and amounts spent for extraordinary renewals and improvements for which special appropriations were made. The administration of the Hospital has, during the past year, been remarkably expensive. The reasons for this are, however, well understood, and it is gratifying to note that, at the same time, the activity and usefulness of the Hospital were never greater.

The income of the John C. Green Memorial Fund, amounting to $8,865.64 was, in accordance with the terms of the Memorial, applied to the support of fourteen selected patients.

THE HOSPITAL AND THE WAR.

It seems fitting to place upon the records a brief account of the service to the military forces which was rendered by the Hospital in the World War which came to a close during the past year.

Fifty-three of the men and women in the employment of the Hospital left to join the military service of either the United States or the Allies. Three of these were Belgians who went home in 1914 to help defend their country, three joined the Canadians, the others served under the Stars and Stripes. Five were physicians who were given commissions in the army medical corps, one in 1915 in the Canadian army. The Directress of Nurses and fifteen other graduate members of the Hospital nursing service, of whom three were supervisors and four were male nurses, joined the U. S. Army Nurse Corps. Three members of the Hospital nursing force who were not graduates also entered the army medical service, one as an occupational aide and two as attendants for soldiers suffering from mental disorders. Ten men attendants from the nursing department and nineteen employees from other departments of the Hospital entered the combatant and other non-medical branches of military service.

Complete information concerning the service rendered by these members of the Hospital force is not yet available. We know, however, that two of them, Michael Lundy and Bernard J. McElroy, gave up their lives, the one killed in action, the other dying of wounds. Both were faithful, efficient, and well liked employees. One of the physicians, Dr. Sanger Brown, Major, M. C., has been in charge of the neuro-psychiatric service at the base hospital at Saveney, where the disabled men are assembled for the return voyage to this country. The Directress of Nurses, Miss Poston, before leaving the Hospital, assembled for the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, the nursing force of the first neuro-psychiatric unit which was sent overseas, and accompanied it as Chief Nurse of U. S. A. Base Hospital No. 117 at La Fouche.

In the Fall of 1917, in order to anticipate any opportunity which might later be presented for using the resources of the Hospital in helping with the National emergency, I was instructed by the Bloomingdale Committee to make a visit to Canada and obtain information concerning the nervous and mental disorders presented by the returned disabled soldiers there, and the provision and methods which were employed in their treatment. After receiving my report, the Committee decided that it might be of advantage to the Surgeon General of the Army to be able to send to the Hospital for treatment cases of nervous and mental disorder among the officers, and an offer of fifty beds for this purpose was made to the Surgeon General by your Board. This offer was accepted and the first case was admitted on May 2, 1918. By the close of the year forty-four cases had been received and twenty-three discharged. Nine were discharged recovered, five much improved, six improved and three unimproved. Seven of the cases discharged were transferred to the Government Hospital for Mental Diseases at Washington, or to one of the army hospitals. The average duration of stay at the Hospital was 43 days. Twenty-seven of the officers received had been overseas. The best resources of the Hospital were applied to the treatment of the cases, many of whom were extremely ill. They were classified and placed in accordance with their medical, nursing and social needs, and mingled freely with the civilian patients. For official purposes the Hospital was considered as a department of U. S. Army General Hospital No. 1, in New York City, and the patients were received under military orders. They were visited daily by an officer from General Hospital No. 1, and, as their condition and needs required, were transferred to and fro with little formality. The forms of disorder from which they suffered were as follows:

Paresis		1
Delirium		3
Manic Depressive Psychoses:
Excited Phase	6
Depressed Phase	14	20
Involution Melancholia		1
Dementia Præcox		3
Paranoid Condition		3

The demand for training in occupational therapy in the preparation of reconstruction aides for the army hospitals, and the interest displayed in the occupation departments of the Hospital by Federal authorities, teachers, students, and others concerned with preparations for reconstruction work, suggested the project of conducting at the Hospital a course for candidates for positions as occupational aides in the neuro-psychiatric division of the army medical service. A course was mapped out, consisting of medical lectures, bedside instruction by the physicians, instruction in the crafts and in their application, and practice in the occupation of the patients under the supervision of the directors of the departments. Some instruction and practice in the use of games and play in the treatment of the patients was also included. The course was approved by the Surgeon General, and twelve candidates were admitted. Only those who were already proficient in crafts suitable in the occupation of the sick were accepted. The length of the course was three months. Quarters for those taking the course were provided in the North Street Cottage which, by means of an appropriation made by your Board, was thoroughly renovated and furnished for the purpose. No charge was made for tuition, and a reimbursing rate for board and lodging was required only of those who were in a position to pay it. Two of those who entered the course were given army appointments before its completion. Of the ten who finished, five were sent overseas, some of whom went to Base Hospital No. 117, four were sent to army hospitals in this country, and one became a teacher of occupational therapy in a western college. Previous to the establishment of this course, a nurse from one of the Army hospitals was received for instruction and practice in occupational therapy at the request of the Surgeon General. During the year the occupation departments of the Hospital were visited by representatives of the Surgeon General's office, of the Federal Bureau of Vocational Education, and of the Canadian Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment; by the National Society for the Promotion of Occupational Therapy, by teachers and students from classes for reconstruction aides in New York City and elsewhere, and by many others who had developed an interest in occupational therapy in connection with reconstruction plans for disabled soldiers and sailors. In the Men's Occupation Department, the patients took part in devising and constructing various devices for supplying the occupational needs of patients who were confined to bed or to the wards in the military hospitals. Some of these devices are described with photographic illustrations and drawings, in an article which was published in the October and November numbers of the Illustrated Arts Magazine. In the Women's Department, the patients furnished to the army and navy 674 knit sweaters and socks, and 50 attractive scrap books, which were sent to the army hospitals, principally overseas.

In an advisory capacity and as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, the Medical Superintendent was enabled to render some assistance to the army in the organization of the service for dealing with nervous and mental disorders among the soldiers. Three of the physicians of the Hospital served on the Medical Advisory Board of the Exemption Board of Westchester County and members of their families and many of the employees of the Hospital engaged in Red Cross work. A Red Cross Auxiliary was organized at the Hospital. The number of persons who participated in the work was 184, of whom 51 were patients. Over 40,000 articles were made. Over 200 persons connected with the Hospital became members of the Red Cross, and liberal contributions were made to the Red Cross, the United War Fund, and to the Liberty Loans. The laboratory work for the Medical Advisory Board was attended to by the Hospital. The Hospital physicians assisted in organizing and conducting courses for reconstruction aides which were given at Columbia University and at private War Service Classes in New York City.

The withdrawal for war service of so many nurses and other employees increased greatly the labor and difficulties of carrying on the work and maintaining the standards. It was necessary, on occasion, to defer, curtail, and even omit pass time and vacations. Fuel and food economies, restrictions in the purchase and transportation of supplies, and the advance in prices have sometimes occasioned deprivations and some degree of hardship. Seldom, perhaps never, before have the goodwill and capability of those employed at the Hospital been subjected to such a severe test. It is, therefore, gratifying to be able to record that, with few exceptions, extra burdens have been cheerfully accepted, and active interest and effort have been directed to maintaining the standards of the Hospital which, in spite of difficulties, have not been allowed to become seriously impaired by war conditions.

It seems hardly proper to close this account of the Hospital in the war without some reference to former patients who have served with the military forces. Some of these have corresponded with us, and have evidently served well and without developing serious nervous symptoms. One has been a canteen worker near the front and displayed such courage and resourcefulness attending to the soldiers and civil population under bombardment as to receive great praise in the report of Marshal Petain, and to be awarded the Croix de Guerre.

GENERAL.

Dr. Donald L. Ross resigned from the Medical Staff on October 15th, to accept a commission as Major in the U. S. Army Medical Corps. Dr. George W. Henry was advanced to the position of Assistant Physician, January 1, 1918.

Rev. Wilfrid L. Greenwood resigned as Chaplain December 31st.

A trained librarian was engaged during the year to take charge of the libraries with a view to giving them a more specific place in the active agencies for promoting the welfare of the Hospital population. Miss Helen Letson, of the Minneapolis Public Library, was appointed to the position and entered upon her duties on August 6th. The number of volumes added to the libraries during the year was 177; to the Central Library 161, to the Medical Library 13, and to the School of Nursing Library 3. Sixty-three of the books were donated, among them a set of the International Encyclopedia which was presented by Mrs. Frank M. Colby. The distribution from the Central Library was 6,893 volumes against 4,513 in 1917. Of these 5,885 were issued to patients and 1,008 to employees.

An assessment on the Hospital property on account of the construction of the Bronx Valley Sewer, amounting to $9,101.30 was paid, during the year, to the City of White Plains.

We are indebted to a number of kind friends who furnished entertainments at the Hospital during the year.

Among the gifts to the Hospital during the year were an ancient blood-letting knife and a pair of balances which were presented by Mrs. R. H. M. Dawbarn. They were placed in the collection of old instruments at the New York Hospital.

A gift of $10,000 was received from Mr. Edward Floyd-Jones. The income of this fund will be applied to procuring advanced educational advantages for members of the nursing service.

This generous gift suggests how gifts for special purposes, not necessarily large amounts, would be of great assistance in improving the Hospital and extending its usefulness. Scientific research, the introduction and extension of special forms of treatment, the use of the resources of the Hospital for teaching, could, by means of special funds, be advanced in a way that would greatly add to the value of the Hospital as an agency for the relief of nervous and mental disorders. Gifts or loans of fine paintings, and special funds for the purchase of books, pictures, musical instruments, and for providing entertainments would also be most acceptable.

The Annual Inspection of the Hospital by the Board of Governors was made on June 6th.

I feel a special satisfaction this year in placing in the record an appreciation of the loyalty and untiring efforts of the physicians, executives, nurses, heads of departments, and other employees which made it possible to carry on the work of the Hospital so actively, and to maintain the standards during the trying period of the war.

For the constant support and guidance of the Bloomingdale Committee and your Honorable Board I am glad to have again an opportunity to express my appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. RUSSELL,

Medical Superintendent.

During the year 18 entered as probationers, 11 were accepted into the school, and 7 resigned.

During the epidemic of influenza, the nursing service at this Hospital was badly crippled. One graduate nurse was obliged to leave the service and undergo treatment at Saranac Lake. One Post-Graduate Nurse left before the completion of her course on account of ill health.

The teaching scholarship which was instituted last year has been maintained throughout this year.

The graduation exercises were held June 6, 1918. Thirteen graduates were presented with diplomas by the President of the Board of Governors, and an interesting address was made by Dr. Walter B. James, President of the New York Academy of Medicine. Several of the graduates have remained in the service.

Miss Adele Poston, Directress of Nurses, is on leave of absence as Chief Nurse, Neuro-Psychiatric Base Hospital No. 117, France.

Of the eleven nurses, who joined the Army Nurse Corps, seven entered the Foreign Service.

An assistant from the Women's Occupation Department entered the Army Foreign Service as a Reconstruction Aide. Twelve women, who took the three months' course for Reconstruction Aides, given this summer at the Hospital entered the Army Service, and five were sent overseas.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, CAMPBELL CONVALESCENT COTTAGES, WHITE PLAINS, NEW YORK.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The number of admissions, and also of hospital days was slightly less than that of 1918, owing to the fact that we were in quarantine for a considerable period, during our outbreak of influenza.

A large number of the children admitted were convalescent cases of influenza, and, during the early part of the year, of poliomyelitis. They all showed improvement in varying degrees.

Many of our needy children were those whose fathers were overseas, and who came to us from our own hospital, or recommended by the Red Cross.

Many of the children made recoveries that were as unexpected as they were gratifying, and a few seem particularly worthy of special mention.

Two girls, who had been operated upon for tuberculous peritonitis, and whose future was doubtful, improved so greatly that one gained ten pounds in one month, and the other eighteen pounds in two months.

Several of the cardiac cases, also, made surprising gains in weight and in strength.

A little girl, twelve years of age, had been a patient in the hospital for five months, following an operation for appendicitis. The result was an open wound which refused to heal. Finally, the child was sent to the Cottages, and in two months had gained seven pounds, and was able to return to the hospital for her further surgical treatment.

But perhaps one of the recoveries of which we are most proud is that of a girl of fifteen, who suffered from tuberculous peritonitis, but was in such poor condition that an operation was impossible. She had a constant high temperature, and was so weak that it was necessary to carry her from room to room.

After one month in the Cottages, the girl's improvement was almost incredible. Her fever had vanished, she had gained eight pounds, and could walk with perfect ease.

Three of our staff are overseas, and one is with an army camp in the South.

We admitted quite a large number of cardiac cases during the year, and with rare exceptions they showed such satisfactory improvement that the majority were able to return to school.

The increased cost of food and supplies has hardly been a more serious problem than the shortage of help, and the very inferior grade of what limited help could be obtained. The extra burdens thereby laid upon the shoulders of a few have been borne by them in a spirit which cannot be called by a less dignified term than "patriotism." Nevertheless, the depleted staff have seen a very strenuous year—particularly since the advent of influenza.

The usual amount of repairing and painting was done, and the Cottages are in good condition.

The automobile was completely overhauled and repaired, at considerable cost, but is now in perfect condition again, after seven years' service.

Through the repeated generosity of a friend of the children, our fund for the purchase of motion picture films has been renewed, which means another year of the delights of the screen for the children.

The children's Christmas was as happy as usual, for which they are indebted to many friends. We are also very grateful for many expressions of kindness to the children, from time to time, at other seasons of the year.

It is with a deep sense of appreciation that I offer to the Bloomingdale Committee my grateful acknowledgment of their continued support and encouragement.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE C. ELLISON,

Assistant Superintendent.

PROPERTY OF THE NEW YORK SOCIETY LIBRARY

LEGACIES TO THE HOSPITAL.

The Hospital has been greatly aided by this form of generosity. No precise words are necessary to a valid legacy to the corporation. The following clause, however, may be suggested:

"I give to THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL the sum of.....dollars."

If land or any specific personal property such as bonds, stocks, &c., is given, a brief description of the property should be inserted instead of the words "the sum of.....dollars."

TO THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

The Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital respectfully present their Annual Report of the state of the institutions under their charge for the year 1919.

NEW YORK HOSPITAL—West Fifteenth Street
Completed 1877

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

GOVERNORS OF THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR 1919

In conformity with the provisions of its Charter, granted by Royal authority June 13, 1771, in the reign of King George III., the Governors of the Society of the New York Hospital present their annual report and a statement showing the receipts and expenditures for the year 1919 of the several institutions under their control and management, as follows:

The Hospital at Fifteenth Street, the House of Relief at Hudson Street, the Department for the treatment of mental diseases, known as Bloomingdale Hospital, and the Convalescent Cottages at White Plains, Westchester County.

During the year the readjustment of our various institutions after the war activities has been steadily progressing. This has naturally been accompanied by many administrative and economic problems, but these have been solved as they arose. This process of readjustment has increased the labors of the staffs of the different departments, and the additional burden laid upon the Superintendent of the Hospital and the Medical Superintendent of Bloomingdale Hospital has been especially severe. Their skilful handling of the affairs of their respective departments has already received appreciative recognition by the Governors.

One of the most significant events of the year has been the sale to the Government of the United States, for $225,000, of our property at Hudson and Jay Streets, which has been operated since 1894 as an emergency hospital under the title of the House of Relief. This was built to replace the institution which the Society maintained from 1875 to 1894 at No. 160 Chambers Street, and which was widely known as the Chambers Street Hospital. For many years this was the only hospital in that part of the city. But by the establishment of the Volunteer Hospital, at the corner of Beekman and Water Streets, and still more recently of the Broad Street Hospital, at the corner of Broad and South Streets, the hospital facilities below Chambers Street have increased. In March, 1918, the House of Relief was, at the request of the Navy Department, closed as a civilian hospital and maintained by the Society solely for the care of sick and wounded sailors in active service. This work was satisfactorily completed in May, 1919. The Government then expressed a wish to buy the property for use as a permanent institution in the public health service. After careful consideration, and in view, not only of the Government's need and of the existing provision in other institutions for civilian needs, but also of the growing difficulty of maintaining in that part of the city and under such conditions the quality of professional care and hospital service which the standards of the Society require, the Governors concluded to accept the Government's offer. This marked the conclusion of more than forty years of active emergency hospital work in the lower part of the city.

The result of the operations of the Society for the year has been a slight surplus of receipts over current expenses. For this result the Society is to be heartily congratulated. It has been made possible by the generous response to the appeal which the Society issued last spring. The budget adopted for the year 1920 involves an estimated deficit of more than $50,000, but it is hoped that gifts to a substantial amount may again be received.

Shortly before his death on April 25, 1919, Mr. Augustus D. Juilliard generously offered to give $10,000 for the construction of an extension to the school-room and play-room of the Campbell Convalescent Cottages, at White Plains. This work has now been satisfactorily completed. Its construction has permitted the inclusion of two well equipped suites of small and airy rooms for the isolation and treatment of children having infectious diseases. The extension is a substantial aid to the admirable work done by these Convalescent Cottages.

Among the other gifts of the year was one of $5,000 from Webb's Academy and Home for Shipbuilders, to endow a bed at the New York Hospital in perpetuity. This graceful tribute to the Society was keenly appreciated by the Governors. Ever since the foundation of the Academy in 1889 there has been an interesting link between the two institutions, in that the President of the Society is, by virtue of the charter of the Academy, a member of its Board of Trustees.

During the year the Society has received $198,900 more from the executors of the will of the late James B. Brady, making a total from that source to date of $293,000. Owing to the necessary delay in the liquidation of the estate it is not possible yet to say what the residuary estate, which goes to the Society, will actually produce, but it is hoped that the total available for the Urological Department, designed by Mr. Brady, will not be less than $450,000.

New legacies that have become effective since the last report include the following:

Mr. Juilliard, by his will, which was proved in September, 1919, gave the Society $100,000.

By the will of Charles G. Thompson, who died December 8, 1919, the Society will, on the death of his sister, Miss Mary G. Thompson, receive a one-sixth share of his residuary estate. This share is estimated to be of a value at the present time of several hundred thousand dollars.

By the will of Jean Baptiste Bourdis, who died December 23, 1917, a legacy of $5,000, of which $3,750 has already been paid.

A legacy of $1,000 under the will of John R. Peters, who died April 24, 1858, has also been paid.

By the will of Frederick Lawrence Upjohn, who died December 1, 1917, the Society will receive a legacy of $10,000 on the termination of two lives mentioned in the will.

Under the will of Charles E. Rhinelander the Society expects to receive, by designation of the residuary legatees, one-twentieth of that estate. This share is estimated at about $20,000.

The executors of the will of Mrs. Brockholst Cutting, in exercise of a similar discretionary power, are about to deliver to the Society property valued at $30,000.

The work of the Medical Board of the New York Hospital has proceeded with customary faithfulness and ability. Among their especial services may be mentioned the re-establishment, after the war, of the term of the interne staff at two years instead of one year, and the enlargement of the staff, and material increase in the efficiency, of the Pathological Department. It was with deep regret that the Governors felt obliged to accept on account of ill-health the resignation of Dr. Hughes Dayton, who had served so ably and devotedly for several years as Attending Physician to the House of Relief, and as an Associate Attending Physician in the Second Division of the New York Hospital. Later in the year the resignation of Dr. Eugene F. DuBois, who had been an Associate Attending Physician in the First Division since 1917, was also accepted with regret. As against these losses we are fortunate in welcoming back to the Board as an Associate Attending Physician in the First Division, Dr. Nellis B. Foster, who left that position in 1915, to become a professor of medicine in the University of Michigan.

The report of the Medical Superintendent of Bloomingdale Hospital presents again for consideration the steady expansion in importance and usefulness of the work of that institution. The discharge in October of the last officers of the Army who had been treated at Bloomingdale for mental disorders, marked the termination of an interesting page in the Society's history. This was a war service undertaken at the request of the Surgeon-General of the Army. In all ninety-one officers were treated between May 5, 1918, and October 14, 1919, and of these 62 per cent, an unusually high percentage, left the Hospital either entirely recovered or greatly improved. The construction of a new dining hall for male attendants at an estimated cost of $40,000 has begun, and contracts for the installation of new boilers in the lighting, heating and power plant of the establishment at a cost of about $35,000, are soon to be let. The special need for the immediate future of a nurses' home at an estimated cost of about $300,000, of a new gymnasium at an estimated cost of about $150,000, and of four separate cottages for occupation by members of the medical staff and their respective families, at an estimated cost of about $25,000 each, has been presented to the Board before, but each year of delay emphasizes the value of these additions to our equipment.

Early in the year Mr. Frank K. Sturgis, the Chairman for many years of the Bloomingdale Committee, gave further practical proof of his great interest in that branch of our work by the munificent gift of $50,000 for the construction of a woman's occupation building on the Bloomingdale property. This will meet a need that has been keenly felt for a long while, and will constitute a noble memorial of the generous donor's untiring and valuable services.

The Society has lost during the year two of its oldest Governors, Mr. Edmund D. Randolph and Mr. Augustus D. Juilliard. Appropriate memorial minutes have been adopted by the Governors in recognition of the great loss which the institution has suffered by the removal of those two valued friends and advisers.

After four years of service as President of the Society, which had been preceded by eight years as its Vice-President, Mr. Howard Townsend, in December last, declined a re-election. The Vice-President, Mr. Sheldon, was chosen in his place, and Mr. Payne Whitney became Vice President. The Governors adopted a special minute in recognition of Mr. Townsend's devoted service to the institution during all these years.

The accompanying reports show the varied scope of our activities during the year.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The cost of maintaining the New York Hospital in 1919 was $437,111.40 as compared with $383,257.67 in 1918, an increase of over 13 per cent.

The total expenses for 1919 were $53,853.73 greater than for 1918. The receipts during 1919 were $51,199.15 greater than in 1918, making a net increase in cost of maintenance of $2,654.58.

Reference to the statistical reports shows that all departments shared in the increased expenses. The household expenses were greater than ever before, being about $8,000 greater than in 1917. Medical, surgical and ambulance expenses were nearly $3,000 greater than in 1918, but over $5,000 less than in 1917. The greatest increase was in salaries and wages, which have increased nearly $26,000 since 1917. This is an increase of over 19 per cent. The pathological department expended $12,413.19 in 1919. The 1920 budget of this department calls for over $20,000. Other departments have asked for substantial increases.

With the exception of the private patient service, all departments showed less activity than for several years past. The admissions to the private pavilion were 50 per cent greater than in 1917, whereas the admissions to the wards were over 12 per cent less than in 1917, and the number of applicants in the out-patient department were fewer by 15 per cent. In the emergency department the number of applicants for relief was 16 per cent less than in 1917, but 3 per cent greater than in 1918. The ambulance work was less active than it has been at any time for many years. The decrease in the various activities of the hospital may be ascribed to several influences. In the first place there was general employment at high wages and many persons who would ordinarily apply at the hospital were in financial position to employ private physicians. Large industrial and commercial organizations are gradually coming to employ physicians to care for their employees. A large number of patients coming under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation law are now treated by private physicians or by physicians employed by corporations. Formerly the majority of these were treated in hospitals. Prohibition is also a factor in curtailing the work of the hospital, particularly the ambulance service.

It was hoped that with the ending of the war the help problem would solve itself. Instead it became more acute, particularly in the case of women workers. Much difficulty has been experienced throughout the year in securing waitresses, ward maids and scrubbers. We have been compelled to employ many women by the day at large wages, thus increasing the payroll very materially.

HOUSE OF RELIEF

As was stated in the last annual report, the House of Relief was placed at the disposal of the Navy in March 1918 for the treatment of sick and injured sailors. In May 1919 they discontinued sending their patients to this institution as their own facilities had become ample to meet their needs. Altogether eight hundred and twenty-four sailors were admitted and treated. Of this number two hundred and seven were admitted during the first four months of the current year. The total number of hospital days furnished in 1919 was 12,025. During the fourteen months the institution was occupied by navy patients the expenditures were about $6,000 in excess of receipts.

In June the Governors voted to accept an offer made by the United States Public Health Service for the House of Relief property and it passed out of the possession of the Society of the New York Hospital.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

A considerable amount of steam and water piping which had become rusty and defective was replaced with new piping.

The repair and replacing work which was begun on the heat, light and power plant in 1918 was finished the early part of the year.

An unusually large amount of painting was done.

A considerable amount of new plumbing was installed in the lavatories of the wards.

A dressing sterilizer 16 by 36 inches was installed in the private building operating room.

As the control board of the passenger elevator in the private patients' building was of obsolete type and badly worn, a board of modern construction was installed in its place at a cost of about eight hundred dollars.

A new steam tank was installed in the hydriatic room.

HYDRIATIC DEPARTMENT

In this Department treatment is furnished to ward, private room, and out-patients. Men and women are treated on alternate afternoons. Expert operators are in constant attendance. The average daily number of treatments in 1919 was 5 plus. The total number of treatments in 1919 was 1,942—a decrease of 168 treatments as compared with 1918.

THE TEN-YEAR RECORD

The statistical table presented herewith shows receipts and expenditures of the New York Hospital for the past ten years. During this period ordinary expenditures have increased from $256,089.20 to $437,111.40, or over 70 per cent. Receipts have increased from $83,038.05 in 1910 to $270,829.77 in 1919, or 225 per cent. In 1910 the receipts were about 33 per cent of the expenditures; in 1917, 48 per cent; in 1918, 60 per cent, and in 1919, 62 per cent. Receipts were large because of general employment at very high wages. There are indications that receipts will be smaller in 1920

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL

The nurses' home is much too small to accommodate the nurses and is defective in many essential respects. At present about seventy nurses are housed in rented dwellings on the north side of 16th Street with unsatisfactory results. A new building, capable of accommodating at least two hundred nurses, is greatly needed. Probably part of the old building could be advantageously used for housing maids.

The butcher shop is small and badly located. A new shop in a new location is needed.

The steam and refrigerating pipes throughout the buildings should be reinsulated. With proper insulation of these pipes, we should be able to economize in the use of coal.

We are handicapped in our work by having the main floors of the old and new buildings on different levels. A ramp with an easy grade should be constructed.

The electric light wiring in the ward building should be renewed and the wood moulding replaced with approved conduit pipe.

The cold water pipes in both wings of the ward building, and the hot and cold branches in the private patients' building are badly corroded and many of them almost completely obstructed and should be replaced at an early date.

NATIVITY OF PATIENTS

A study of the nativity of patients treated in the hospital wards shows that the percentages of foreign born and native born of foreign parents are increasing, while the percentage of native born of native born parents is decreasing.

Seven years ago the percentage of patients of foreign birth was forty-eight, now it is fifty. Then, twenty-one per cent were native born of foreign born parents; now thirty-four per cent fall within this classification. Then, thirty per cent were native born of native born parents, whereas now only fifteen per cent can be thus classified.

Of the patients admitted to the Hospital during the year about twenty-five per cent were sent in by Attending, Associate Attending and Assistant Attending Physicians and Surgeons, twenty-four per cent were self-referred, twenty-one per cent were referred by physicians having no connection with the Hospital, nine per cent were from the out-door department, six per cent were brought in in our ambulances, four per cent were referred by physicians on the out-door staff, ten per cent were sent in by physicians having the privileges of the private patient service and about one per cent occupied endowed beds.

AVERAGE PRICES OF COMMODITIES

The appended table shows average prices paid by the Hospital for certain staple commodities each year for the past six years. By comparing average prices paid in 1914 with those paid in 1919, it is not difficult to understand why the expenditures of the hospital have increased fifty-three per cent during this period.

OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

The work of this department appears to be gradually decreasing. Probably this is due in part to the generally prosperous industrial conditions. It is also due in part to the operation of the Workmen's Compensation law. Under this law many employers found it advantageous to employ physicians to care for their employees. Several of the insurance companies that carry a large amount of Compensation insurance have established clinics to care for the injured employees of their assured. Practically all of these patients were treated free in dispensaries prior to the enactment of the Compensation law. The appended table shows the operations of this department for the past 10 years:

	Total Patients Treated	New Patients	Prescriptions

RETURN OF BASE HOSPITAL NO. 9

On March 25th, forty-six of the nurses belonging to Base Hospital No. 9 arrived in New York. A considerable number of the doctors and civilians attached to the Unit had preceded them. The enlisted men and the remaining doctors arrived home April 27th.

On April 1st the Governors of the Society gave a reception in the Nurses' Home for the members of the Unit who had returned. They were appropriately addressed by Mr. Townsend and Drs. Pool and Gibson.

CHANGES ON OFFICIAL STAFF

After having served as assistant superintendent of the Hospital and House of Relief for five years, Dr. G. Walter Zulauf resigned in July to become Assistant Superintendent of the Buffalo General Hospital.

Miss Katherine MacDiarmid, after serving efficiently as housekeeper for nineteen years, resigned May 1st and Miss Estelle Barker, dietitian, was promoted to the position of housekeeper.

Miss Barker has introduced the plan of giving instruction in hospital methods to graduates of approved schools of domestic science. There are two of these pupils in training in the hospital at all times.

Miss Elizabeth Burroughs, who had served as assistant housekeeper, resigned May 1st and is now the assistant at Campbell Convalescent Cottages.

Miss Reeva I. Hinyan, a dietitian, was appointed assistant housekeeper and Miss Marion E. Becker was appointed as dietitian.

PRIVATE PATIENT SERVICE

As the demand for private rooms was greatly in excess of the hospital's facilities, it was decided in January to utilize all the rooms in the private pavilion in an attempt to meet this demand. The internes and housekeepers who had up until this time occupied quarters in this building, were transferred to the house, No. 14 West 16th Street. This house, which is owned by the hospital, had been used for housing maids. These were removed to the fourth floor of the Help's Dormitory Building. The cost of remodeling No. 14 West 16th Street, and of fitting up the private rooms in the private pavilion was approximately six thousand dollars. We now have accommodations for sixty-six private patients, but more rooms are needed.

CHANGE IN RATES

In view of the constantly increasing expenses of the Hospital, the Board of Governors decided to increase the rate charged ward patients from $2.25 to $3.00 a day. Patients acutely ill, those suffering from injuries and others entitled to special consideration are admitted to the hospital as in the past without question as to their ability to pay. Also patients not able to pay the full rate are admitted when there is reason to believe that they need hospital care.

At the same time, the out-patient charge was advanced from ten to twenty-five cents. In view of the general employment at high wages which has prevailed in recent years, and the rapidly mounting expenses of the hospital, it was felt that these increases were reasonable. The out-patient department has shown an annual operating deficit of considerably over twenty thousand dollars.

NURSING DEPARTMENT

Miss Kathleen Cloran, a pupil nurse, died March 28, 1919, after an illness of several months' duration. She entered the school in July, 1918.

The pupil nurses are now supplementing their training by courses of three months each at the Willard Parker Hospital for Contagious Diseases and at the Bloomingdale Hospital for Mental Diseases. Both of these courses appear to be popular and undoubtedly will prove of great value to the nurses.

HOSPITAL BUREAU

This hospital has found it advantageous to retain its membership in the Hospital Bureau of Standards and Supplies. The annual dues have gradually decreased until now they show a decrease of 50 per cent as compared with the rates in force the first year of the Bureau's existence. This decrease in dues has been brought about by the increase in membership. The Bureau is now in a strong financial condition and the benefits to be derived from membership are greater than ever before.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Haven Relief Fund Society made its customary annual contribution of $400. This money was disbursed by the Social Service Department in conformity with the aim of the donor, which is "especially the affording of temporary relief to unobtrusive suffering endured by industrious or worthy persons." A detailed report of the disbursements was rendered to Mr. Charles M. Bleecker, Secretary of the Society.

Mrs. Waldron Post Brown gave $20 for Christmas festivities.

Numerous donations of flowers, toys, books and magazines were received and duly acknowledged.

The Business Women's Council of the Billy Sunday Campaign have sung for patients every Sunday afternoon.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL BOARD OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1919

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The outstanding feature of the professional life of the Hospital during 1919 has been the return of the many members of the Medical, Surgical, Laboratory and Nursing Staff, who have been absent on military service, and the gradual restoration of the various activities of the Hospital to their normal pre-war level.

As may be seen by reference to the statistical tables published in another part of the Report, the medical activities of the Hospital have in most respects corresponded very closely to those for the year 1918. A slight decrease is to be noted, however, in the number of patients treated in the Out-Patient Department and in the number of ambulance calls.

The Medical Board has lost two of its very useful members by the resignation of Dr. Hughes Dayton, who after a service of eleven years as Associate Attending Physician resigned because of ill health, and Dr. Eugene F. DuBois, who has accepted the appointment of Director of the Second (Cornell) Medical Service at Bellevue Hospital. The Medical Staff has been added to by the appointment of Dr. Nellis B. Foster to the position of Associate Attending Physician and of Drs. Arthur L. Holland, Benjamin Michailovsky and Harold E. B. Pardee as Assistant Attending Physicians.

The very considerable addition to the capacity of the Private Patients' Building has so increased the duties of the House Staff of this building that it has become necessary to enlarge this staff by the addition of a third member, and arrangements have been made that this change shall go into effect on January 1st, 1920. In the Hospital proper the period of service of the members of the House Staff, which during the war had of necessity been shortened to one year, has now been reestablished upon a two year basis. This change is most desirable, both from the standpoint of the Hospital and from that of the internes themselves.

The activities of the Pathological Department have been increased by the establishment, on November 1st, of a sub-department of immunology, under the charge of Dr. Arthur F. Coca. This step has been made possible by an annual grant to the Cornell Medical

Completed 1894
Closed May 1, 1919. Property sold to the U. S. Government for Hospital purposes

College of about $7,000 for this special purpose. The function of this sub-department is to carry on investigations in the field of human hypersensitiveness and to meet the highly specialized laboratory needs of a clinic to be established in the Out-Patient Department, under the direction of Dr. Robert A. Cooke, for the treatment of hay fever, asthma and allied conditions. This field of medical investigation has within the past few years grown to such importance, and the results of treatment based upon these investigations have been so brilliant, that the establishment of this work, in both its laboratory and its clinical aspects, marks an important advance in the beneficient activities of the Hospital.

In the Out-Patient Department the class devoted to the diagnosis and treatment of syphilis has grown steadily in numbers and in importance. The value of this work in both its curative and its preventive aspects can hardly be overestimated. The special afternoon and night classes for the treatment of diseases of the heart have been reestablished under the charge respectively of Drs. Barringer and Pardee.

The growing importance of the use of the X-rays in the treatment of certain diseases has emphasized the deficiencies of our X-ray Department in that field and efforts are now being made to provide proper facilities for the carrying on of such therapeutic work.

A word of acknowledgment should be added of the great value of the Social Service Department to the medical work of the Hospital in its various branches. In addition to its usual duties, this department now provides social workers not only for the purpose of following surgical ward patients after their discharge, but for similar duties in connection with the Out-Patient classes for tuberculosis, children's diseases, syphilis and heart disease, and the usefulness of these classes is very greatly enhanced by this liaison between the hospital and the patients in their homes.

Affiliated Pupils:
Bloomingdale School of Nursing	5
Army School of Nursing	8	13
Total Number of Students		119

We report with regret the death of three most active members of the Alumnæ Association: Mrs. William C. Gilley, née Margaret Gray Jenkins, Class 1894, who held office in the Alumnæ Association for years; Jennie M. Whitelaw, Class 1896, who, for many years, acted with untiring interest as Secretary-Treasurer of the Fund for Sick Nurses; and Annie T. Madden, Class 1897, long the efficient Assistant Superintendent of the New York Hospital Nurses Club.

The year 1919 has developed a number of changes in the service of our Training School. From the viewpoint of the older graduates, the closing of the House of Relief would seem a great loss to the pupils, however, the character of the work of that Department had so changed of late years that the time is much more profitably spent in our own Hospital with its active ambulance service.

The affiliation with the Willard Parker Hospital for instruction in the care of contagious diseases is now well under way and the nurses are receiving a valuable service.

We have also opened an affiliation with the Manhattan Maternity Hospital, whereby the students on entering this course have the opportunity of experiencing a month of district nursing in the Maternity Centre.

The affiliation of our School with the Army School of Nursing has helped greatly in replacing our nurses, twenty-two of whom are at the present time in affiliating hospitals, eight of these students, who are in their intermediate year, have enrolled with us for six months' service in the women's surgical and children's wards. These nurses are doing good work and seem happy in their new relationship.

As reported last year, our nurses are enthusiastic in the life at Bloomingdale Hospital, much has been done for their personal comfort in addition to the interest shown in carrying out the well-mapped course of instruction. The groups have replaced each other and many have returned expressing interest in this branch of work, and in many instances a better understanding of themselves.

The students from the Bloomingdale School continue their good work with us and have displayed a most cheerful interest. We feel that this interchange of students has brought about a very happy and much closer relationship between the two institutions.

Our Senior nurses who have had the opportunity of carrying responsibility in the wards under the Supervising Nurses have shown, in many instances, marked executive ability and have profited greatly by this experience.

We have adopted in our hospital wards an eight hour day and night duty for the pupils. This will especially benefit the night nurses, as their hours of duty have been long. The system has only been in operation a short time but seems to be working out very satisfactorily. We trust the longer hours for recreation and study will be of great benefit to all.

Owing to the shortage of women employees, the service in the nurses' dining-room has been a great problem. Finally, it was found necessary to establish a self-service, and with the happy co-operation of all concerned, we have a quiet, orderly and dignified system, although our dining-room has been robbed, for the time being, of its comfortable home atmosphere.

The year 1919 graduated one of the smallest classes on record. For this there were two reasons: in the first place, the readjustment of the school from the two to the three year course; secondly, a division of this class was advanced to the 1918 class as a war measure.

The graduating exercises of Class 1919 were held in the Administration Room on March 12th, when an interesting address by Dr. Eugene H. Pool was delivered to the Class. Mr. Howard Townsend, President of the Board of Governors, presented the diplomas and badges. The exercises were followed by a reception in the Nurses' Home for the Graduating Class and their friends.

The post-war unrest and the impossibility to obtain adequate help in all departments has made this year a most trying and difficult one. This reactionary spirit has also entered the nursing world, although we, as an Institution, have not suffered, the general census shows a considerable falling off in applicants, especially in the smaller hospitals.

However, we enter upon the new year with courage, and look forward with hope to a return of normal conditions.

Respectfully submitted,

M. H. JORDAN,

Directress of Nurses.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE AUXILIARY COMMITTEE TO THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

January 28th, 1920.

To the Board of Governors of the New York Hospital:

Dear Sirs:—Although the number of workers and distribution of work in the Social Service Department have remained about the same as in 1918, the end of the war, which brought about the return of the doctors and nurses from the other side, has helped to put a new impetus and life into the work and workers. The year 1920 has opened with great promise of wider opportunity and service.

The Food Conservation Committee with Mrs. Frederick Allien as chairman has changed gradually to what may be known as the Home Economic Committee. Mrs. Allien has given several most valuable talks to the young girls of her class on the dignity and importance of home duties and household service. They are also taught cooking and practical demonstrations are given them weekly by one of the members of the Social Service Staff.

Mothers of the Clinic Children are also holding monthly meetings on which occasions some of the doctors have very kindly given them simple and practical talks on the proper care of their children. We are trying as much as possible to give instruction to these people how to live and to keep well, believing this to be a constructive work and an important part of Hospital Social Service.

Mrs. Kent, in the early part of the year, took charge of the sewing and knitting class and held the meetings at her house. The girls thoroughly enjoyed these meetings and were much improved by them.

Mrs. Hetzler continued as chairman of the Playground Committee and personally watched over the playground all summer. She had many trees and shrubs planted and succeeded in making the garden more attractive than it had ever been before. The attendance last summer was even larger than usual, averaging about sixty in the mornings and one hundred and thirty in the afternoons. As formerly, a worker was furnished by the Parks and Playgrounds Association to supervise the children. Ice cream was given them once a week throughout the hot weather.

Last May some of the children of the members of the Social Service Auxiliary gave a pantomime which they played themselves, thereby raising a fund of $1,600 for the express relief of the children of our Social Service. This fund has enabled us to give much needed help and has also been a means of economizing our general expenditures, as it has been used in many cases where the welfare of children was directly involved.

Mrs. Whitney, chairman of the Milk Committee, raised a fund by means of a bazaar given at her home at Manhasset in June, which has enabled us to give more milk than ever before. 16,659 quarts of milk have been dispensed during the year from this fund.

Mrs. Vietor, who, after the resignation of Mrs. Hoguet, became chairman of the Nursery Committee, which proposes to establish and support a Night and Day Nursery for babies whose mothers are patients in the hospital, worked untiringly to procure a suitable building for this purpose. The Salvation Army hut on Union Square was presented to the Social Service through her efforts and when it was believed that all necessary arrangements for moving it to the Van Buren property on 15th Street had been made, permission granted by the Van Buren heirs to place it there, and all other necessary permissions had been secured from the city for moving the building, it was found impossible to do so as the President of the Borough of Manhattan was unable to allow it on account of the fire regulations which forbid the housing of children in an unfireproof building. Mrs. Vietor had been led to believe that the permission would be granted as the second story of the building need not have been used for the babies, the ground floor being quite large enough for the purpose, and therefore it was a great disappointment to everyone when the scheme fell through. The Committee is still endeavoring to find a suitable building and hopes to do so before the spring.

One hundred baskets were packed and distributed the day before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Sturgis was in charge of purchasing the clothing which was given out just before Christmas to our needy families. Underwear, stockings, sweaters, caps and mittens were supplied to them, and on Christmas Eve 145 baskets with dinners were packed and distributed to those whom we knew to be in want. One hundred and twenty of the baskets were given by the Social Service Auxiliary, the remaining twenty-five by Mr. and Mrs. Astor. The entertaining of the children in separate groups at the Christmas tree proved so successful last year that again this Christmas we gave them five separate parties in the offices of the Social Service. Three-hundred and seventy-five children were entertained and given candy and presents and at three of the parties Miss Stewart and Mrs. Chisolm gave a charming marionette show, A Christmas Story, for their amusement. At one of these gatherings the Organist and Girls Junior Choir of Saint George's Church gave a beautiful carol service. The children seemed to enjoy the Christmas tree parties immensely. In addition to these children, those attending the Orthopedic Clinic and those recovering from poliomyelitis received gifts.

A night Heart Clinic was started in the Out Patient Department on October 22nd. One of our nurses attends this clinic weekly.

Early in the fall it was arranged that Miss Josephi should talk to the Cornell students and those of the College of Physicians and Surgeons twice a month on Hospital Social Service. The internes are also invited to these talks and attend when their duties permit them to. As young doctors entering a hospital usually know nothing of Medical Social Service nor how the department may give them valuable aid in the present and after care of their patients, these talks are undoubtedly a step in the right direction. Miss Josephi has enjoyed the opportunity of giving these little lectures, they have been admirable and listened to with the greatest interest and enthusiasm.

We hope very much that in the near future the nurses from the Training School may, a few at a time, come into the Department and learn something of Hospital Social Service.

The Auxiliary Committee has grown considerably during the past year and the members seem much interested and our meetings are well attended. At our annual meeting for the election of officers it may interest you to know that the following were elected: Mrs. Iselin, Chairman; Mrs. Haven, Vice Chairman; Mrs. Jennings, 2nd Vice Chairman; Mrs. E. L. Smith, Secretary; Mrs. Bliss, Treasurer; Mrs. A. J. Smith, Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Whitney, permanent members of the Executive Committee.

Our figures for convalescent and fresh air work are even higher than usual, amounting for the year to 1,744 persons.

In reviewing the work of the past year we hope that you will feel that the Department has proved helpful to the Hospital.

We owe our most grateful thanks to the Burke Foundation and other Convalescent and Fresh Air Homes, to the Clubs of the Margaret Louisa Home, who dressed over a hundred dolls for our children this Christmas, to the Van Buren Estate for the continued loan of the 15th Street property for our garden, and to the Parks and Playgrounds Association. Also to the Red Cross Motor Corps, the Motor Corps of America and the National League for Woman's Service, who have given us great assistance in the transportation of crippled children to our clinics and in transferring sick patients to Homes and other Hospitals too far away to be reached by the Hospital Ambulances.

I wish to thank the Governors most heartily for their interest and co-operation in our efforts and particularly for allowing our Auxiliary to send a representative to the Executive Committee meetings once each month when the necessity arises. This has helped us to solve many difficult problems and brought us into closer touch with the Hospital.

ELEANOR ISELIN,
Chairman of the Auxiliary Committee to the Social Service Department of the New York Hospital.

THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT BLOOMINGDALE HOSPITAL, WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The following report of the operations of Bloomingdale Hospital for the year ending December 31, 1919, is respectfully submitted:

For several years past the activity of the Hospital has been steadily increasing, and the above statistics indicate a continuation of this tendency during the past year. There were 49 more admissions in 1919 than in 1918, the total number treated exceeded that of 1918 by thirty, and 25 more patients were discharged recovered or greatly improved.

ADMISSIONS

The total number admitted was 309, of which 168 were men and 141 were women. Four persons were admitted more than once during the year. Six cases were received by transfer from other institutions where they had been under commitment. Twenty-eight had been previously patients at the Hospital. Two hundred and twenty-five were in their first attack. The duration of illness before admission varied from one day to twelve years. Forty-nine had been ill for less than a month, and sixty others for less than two months. The number of cases which had been recognized to be mentally disordered for more than a year before admission was 70, or about 22.6 per cent of the total admissions. Great reluctance to seeking hospital treatment for persons suffering from mental disorder is still quite generally prevalent, more especially perhaps in regard to a large prominent institution like Bloomingdale Hospital. This is diminishing, however, and hospital treatment is accepted at an earlier period than formerly. In a period of five years previous to 1917 the duration before admission was more than one year in 32 per cent of the cases admitted.

It is gratifying to note also that the number of patients who sign their own applications continues to increase. Of the 309 cases admitted, only 68 were under formal legal commitment, and 241, constituting about 78 per cent of the total admissions, were received without resort to the courts. In nine instances it was necessary during the year to apply for authority to detain patients who, when received, had signed their own applications. Forty-seven of the cases admitted without legal commitment were army officers who were under military orders.

The ages of the patients admitted ranged from 15 to 86. Five were under 18, and twelve were under 20. One hundred and eight were between 20 and 30, eighty-five were between 30 and 40, and 73 were between 40 and 50. Twenty-seven were between 50 and 60. Fifteen were over 60, seven of whom were over 70. Eighty-four per cent of the cases admitted were under 50 years of age, 66 per cent were under 40, and 40 per cent were under 30.

The grade of social service which the Hospital renders is indicated by the occupations of the patients admitted during the year. Fifty of the men belonged to the professions. This was the largest group and constituted about 30 per cent of the male admissions. Forty had engaged in mercantile business, 12 in manufacturing or mechanical industries, 19 in clerical occupations, 4 in transportation, 3 in agriculture, 10 in the public service, 14 were students, and 16 could not be classified. Of the women, 49, constituting 34.7 per cent of the female admissions, had, before their illness, supported themselves in the following occupations: teachers, stenographers, nurses, clerks, social workers, religious sisters, artists, dressmakers, musicians, librarians, journalists, book agents. Only seven of the women admitted were supported by funds derived from independent investments. The remainder of the women were dependent upon husbands or other relatives.

The forms of mental disorders from which the patients admitted were suffering are shown in the following table in which they are grouped in accordance with the classification adopted by the American Medico-Psychological Association:

	Men	Women	Total
Senile Psychoses	3	2	5
Psychoses with cerebral arteriosclerosis	0	4	4
General paralysis	12	0	12
Psychoses with cerebral syphilis	3	1	4

Total	168	141	309

The preponderance of manic-depressive psychoses among the forms of disorder presented, constituting 43 per cent of the total number of cases, is, as in previous years, quite striking. The number of cases of general paralysis was slightly greater than in 1918. It is noteworthy that except these, few of the cases admitted were suffering from gross organic disease of the nervous system. The work of the Hospital is, then, mainly in the field of disturbances of the more delicate mechanisms of the organism which affect the whole personality and require in their diagnosis and treatment a wide range of resources.

Two hundred and twelve of the cases admitted were residents of New York State, of whom 41 resided in Westchester County.

DISCHARGES

The total number discharged was 316, of which 178 were men and 138 were women. Of this number 165, or 52 per cent had fully recovered or had so greatly improved as to be able to return to their former homes and to productive employment. Sixty-three others were discharged to the care of their friends in an improved condition; 42 were discharged without improvement, 7 were inebriates without a psychosis, 15 died, and 15 were transferred to other institutions. The average period of hospital residence of the patients who were discharged as recovered and much improved was about seven months, and eleven of the latter group had been in the Hospital for more than a year. Altogether, the experience of the Hospital justifies considerable optimism in regard to the outlook in the treatment of mental disorders. The results are as favorable as in most other forms of serious illness. The study and results with the cases also encourages the belief that earlier attention and preventive measures, of a character which can be fairly well defined, would greatly reduce the prevalence of the graver forms of mental disorders and the need of permanent institutional care.

At the close of the year, 14 patients who were absent on visit were still carried on the books and, in some instances, were continuing to receive attention. The number of patients who are given attention in this way, and for varying periods after they are discharged from the Hospital is noticeably increasing. They call at the New York office or at the Hospital to consult the physicians. In some instances it seems advisable for them to remain at the Hospital overnight or for a few days for observation and possibly treatment. The advantages of continuing advice and treatment during the period of readjustment to the requirements of social contacts and productive work are very great, and in the further development of the work of the Hospital it may become necessary to organize and regulate more definite means of providing for it.

The number of patients who died was 15, of which seven were men and eight were women. This is 4.7 per cent of the total number discharged, and 2.4 per cent of the whole number treated. All except four of the cases were patients who were suffering from serious organic diseases.

Among the patients discharged were 68 officers of the United States Army. The last of these officers left the Hospital on October 14th, and the work which had been undertaken as a war service then came to an end. The first officer to be received was admitted on May 5th, 1918. The total number treated since then was 91, of which one was admitted twice. Sixty-five, or nearly three-fourths, of the men came from the A. E. F. Thirty-one of the cases admitted belonged to combatant branches of the service, 30 were physicians or dentists, six were engineers, and eight belonged to the quartermaster's department. Sixty-eight held the rank of lieutenant, 14 were captains, four were majors, and two were lieutenant-colonels. The forms of disorders were classified as follows:

Manic Depressive Depression	38
Manic Depressive Excitement	9
Exhaustion Delirium with Psychoses	5
Psychoneuroses	2
Constitutional Inferiority	7
Traumatic Psychoses	2
Alcoholic Psychoses	2
Dementia Præcox:
Paranoid	5
Catatonic	1
Paranoid Paranoid	9
Paresis	3
Luetic Meningitis	2
Drug Delirium (bromide)	1
Not Insane (alcoholism)	1
Unclassified	3

The large proportion of manic depressive cases, 52 per cent of the total admissions, is noteworthy. The majority of these cases were of the depressive type. The average duration of illness previous to admission in the total number admitted was 2.78 months, and the average period of treatment in the Hospital was 3.09 months. Fifty-six of the cases, constituting 62 per cent, were discharged either entirely recovered or greatly improved. Twenty-two had improved and twelve had not improved when they were removed from the Hospital. There were no deaths. In carrying on this work the officers of the United States Army General Hospital No. 1, of which this Hospital was officially a department, and the Surgeon-General's office co-operated most intelligently and effectively. The patients and their friends seemed to be satisfied with the care given the patients, and the results of treatment were more than ordinarily favorable. There is reason to be gratified that, in the national emergency, the Hospital was in a position thus to apply its resources, and to render a service to the Government at a cost which simply covered the expense to the Hospital.

MEDICAL SERVICE

Special attention was, during the year, given to developing in the laboratory the methods and equipment required in making investigations into disturbances of the ductless glands. In making this development, Dr. Norman Keith, now of the University of Toronto Medical School, was employed for the summer and gave valuable assistance. Dr. M. Louise Tower, who, for five years had been in charge of the laboratory, resigned on October 16th, and was succeeded by Dr. Karl M. Bowman, who had previously been employed in the clinical service and had recently returned to the Hospital from the Army. The laboratory is now well equipped for ordinary clinical work, and for some forms of research. Its importance in the study and treatment of the cases can hardly be exaggerated, and it is looked upon as a distinct department requiring definite means for its maintenance and development. A special fund for research work would be extremely valuable.

BLOOMINGDALE HOSPITAL.—Brown Villa for Women
(One of the Cottages having private suites)

The major surgical attention required by patients and employees during the year was, as heretofore, furnished by Dr. J. Fielding Black, of White Plains. Sixteen operations of noteworthy importance were performed on patients during the year, and a considerable amount of minor surgery received attention. The amount of surgical work required at the hospital is comparatively small. Nevertheless a population of nearly 700 patients and employees furnishes enough to justify special provision for attending to it. Cases may, indeed, be sent to the New York Hospital or to the White Plains Hospital, and this course is not infrequently followed. The mental state of the patients may, however, render this inadvisable or even impracticable. Small operating rooms have therefore been fitted up in each department. These furnish facilities for dealing with all surgical emergencies, but could, with advantages in convenience, economy, and efficiency, be replaced by a larger operating room, centrally located, so as to be accessible to both departments. The expert attention required for disorders of the eye, ear, and throat has, as in previous years, been furnished by Dr. Frank N. Irwin, of White Plains.

Dr. D. Austin Sniffen, of White Plains, has continued to attend to the dental work of the Hospital. With the increased number of admissions and the importance now attached to mouth and dental infections, the work of this department has been greatly increased. The number of individual patients who received dental attention during the year was 420. These patients were seen 657 times and received 1689 treatments or operations. The radiography for the Hospital has been done by Dr. W. D. Duckworth, of White Plains, and by the New York Hospital. The amount of this work which is now required would justify the purchase of a complete equipment and the establishment of a department.

A number of patients and employees have, during the year, been given medical or surgical attention at the New York Hospital. Radiographs have been made by the X-ray department of the Hospital in several cases, a considerable number of laboratory tests have been made, and instruction in laboratory proceedings has been given to members of our staff.

Three open medical conferences were held at the Hospital during the year, at which the following subjects were presented:

"Neuropsychiatric Work in the A. E. F."
Dr. Thomas W. Davis, New York.

"The Mechanism of Fatigue and Exhaustion"
Dr. Charles I. Lambert, Bloomingdale Hospital.

"The War Neuroses"—Dr. R. Foster Kennedy, New York.

"Sex Education"—Prof. James E. Peabody, New York.

"Mismanagement of the Sex Instinct"—Dr. Rose Pringle and Dr. Charles I. Lambert, Bloomingdale Hospital.

The following articles prepared by members of the Medical Staff were presented at various medical societies or published during the year:

Dr. Russell:
"The Organization and Work of Bloomingdale Hospital"
(State Hospital Quarterly—August, 1919)

Dr. Lambert:
"The Family Drama"
(International Congress of Women Physicians—October, 1919)

Dr. Amsden:
"An Outline Description of Personality"
(International Congress of Women Physicians—October, 1919)
"The General Practitioner and the Mental Patient"
(Tompkins County Medical Society—Ithaca, N. Y., October, 1919)
"Military Patients at Bloomingdale Hospital"
(Westchester County Medical Society—January, 1919)

Dr. Bowman:
"Epidemic Cerebrospinal Meningitis at General Hospital No. 6, Fort McPherson, Georgia"
(Joint article with Lieutenant Colonel C. N. B. Camac, M. C., published in Archives of Internal Medicine—January, 1919)

On June 3rd, the State Hospital Quarterly Conference of the Superintendents and representatives of the Boards of Managers of the State Hospitals with the State Hospital Commission was held at the Hospital. Fifty persons attended. Mr. Howard Townsend, President of the Board of Governors, extended a welcome to the conference in behalf of the Board, and the Medical Superintendent described the work and organization of the Hospital. The Hospital was inspected by the members of the Conference and luncheon was served in the Nurses' dining-room.

Ordinarily, the clinical work of a hospital is determined by the number of patients admitted, as much as by the number in residence. Judged by this standard it is evident that the work of the medical staff of the Hospital must, during the past few years, have been greatly increased. The number of admissions during the five-year period just closed was 1,238, an average of 248 for each year, while during the five years just preceding this period the number of admissions was 772, an average of 154 for each year. This shows an increase of sixty per cent. The elaboration of the training given to nurses and occupational and physical treatment at the Hospital has also added to the work of the physicians. It has been found necessary to increase the number of the staff and a further increase would be desirable. In accomplishing this, the educational resources which the Hospital possesses might perhaps be better organized and utilized as a means of securing and training physicians for the field of psychiatry. It would be advisable, also, to extend the quarters provided for physicians by building houses for the married men. The staff should contain at least four experienced well settled physicians besides the Medical Superintendent. There is no disadvantage if the other members of the staff are more recent graduates whose service is comparatively short. The conditions of service are such that the physicians cannot without detriment to the Hospital engage in outside practice or other remunerative activities. For those who remain in the service permanently, therefore, it is important not only that the work be made as interesting and satisfying as possible, but that the remuneration be adequate, and that living conditions which will be satisfactory to men with families be provided. In extending the provision for physicians' quarters I would recommend, therefore, the erection of four houses.

BLOOMINGDALE HOSPITAL

THE NURSING SERVICE

The report of the Directress of Nurses is appended. After serving as Chief Nurse of U. S. A. Base Hospital No. 117, at La Fouche, France, for nine months, Miss Poston resumed her duties at the Hospital on March 4th, 1919. During her absence, the nursing service and the School were in charge of Miss Hearn, who, notwithstanding the difficulties occasioned by war conditions, managed them with great success. The unusually large number of men who entered the School during the past year is noteworthy. The affiliation with the New York Hospital, by which nurses are received at this Hospital for a three months' course, has worked out quite satisfactorily to us.

Although, with the return of more normal conditions following the war, the standard of the nursing service and of the classes in the School has been restored almost if not entirely to its former level, further development of the School would be of great advantage. The number of candidates for training is still too small. Traditional views concerning mental disorders and hospitals for their treatment are an obstacle to securing candidates which hospitals for general medical and surgical disorders do not meet with. Few realize how extremely interesting and satisfactory the work is or the value of the knowledge and ability gained concerning not only physical illness but concerning personality and the problems of human behavior. It is especially necessary, therefore, to offer, not only a course of unexceptional excellence and value, but also as many other favorable conditions as possible. An effort is being made to reduce the working hours of the pupil nurses, and as much as possible is done for their comfort and welfare. What is most needed is a separate Nurses' Home. The present quarters are, indeed, comfortable and not unattractive. A Nurses' Home would, however, furnish a social, educational, and recreational centre for the nurses, which would add greatly to the influence of the School organization and methods. It would also provide a more detached home-like environment which would do much to keep the nurses contented, healthy, and fit for their delicate and difficult task.

The graduation exercises of the School of Nursing were held on May 21st. Diplomas were presented to ten graduates by the President of the Board of Governors. The address was made by Dr. Thomas W. Salmon, Medical Director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

PHYSICAL AND OCCUPATIONAL DEPARTMENTS

In the treatment of the forms of disorder which are met with in the patients received at the Hospital, certain forms of physical treatments, exercises, games, directed occupations, and recreational measures generally are peculiarly useful. The whole personality of the patient is involved, and both physical and mental rehabilitation, and readjustment to wholesome interests and activities and capacity for social contacts must be aimed at. The special character and value of the departments by means of which these special forms of treatment are obtained is sufficient reason for repeating in each Annual Report the statistics of their activities. The information given is also of value to other institutions and to persons interested in the methods.

For the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the department both as a treatment and as a teaching agency, one of the supervising nurses, Miss Gudron Johannessen, who was also an accomplished masseuse, was added to the department of hydrotherapy and massage as director. The work in this department both in the men and the women's services was much increased over previous years. The number of individual patients who received massage was 200, of which 85 were men and 115 were women. The men received 1,131 treatments and the women 5,959, making a total of 7,090 treatments. The number in 1918 was 4,631. In the hydriatic rooms, 9,463 baths and treatments were given; 6,203 to men and 3,260 to women. Continuous baths were employed in the treatment of 109 individual patients who received in all 1,829 baths, an average of 17 baths for each patient. As the water runs continuously while the patient is in the tub, the expense for water and steam for this form of treatment is very great. It is, however, of great value in conditions of excitement. Packs were used in the treatment of 65 patients; the number of treatments was 953.

The work of the occupational departments is indicated by the following tabulated statement showing the attendance and output:

The employment of men unable to leave the halls, which was started during the previous year was continued and has proved quite useful. The number of men who thus received occupational attention was 140, ten of whom were confined to bed. Most of these men eventually graduated into the shops and it was believed that there was some advantage in starting them in occupation at an earlier period than would otherwise have been the case. The forms of occupation engaged in were basketry, chair caning, hand lettering, block printing, weaving, bead work, and simple bookbinding. The number of articles made was 340.

Instruction in occupational therapy was given to 12 of the Hospital pupil nurses, 24 affiliated nurses, 5 nurses from other hospitals, and 1 special student. The occupational departments are so well developed and organized that they offer means of teaching which might with advantage be extended to a larger number of persons. Occupational therapy was found so useful in the army hospitals, that its value is now widely recognized, and it seems likely that it will be employed more extensively than formerly in civil practice, and a supply of directors and assistants will be needed.

It is expected that before the end of another year, the Women's Department will expand into more suitable and extensive quarters, made possible by Mr. Sturgis' splendid gift.

The cost of the occupational departments was much higher than in former years. Credit is given for articles made or mended for the Hospital and for cash sales. With the amount thus credited deducted, the net cost of supplies and labor for the Women's Department was $2,034.12 and for the Men's Department $2,442.84.

The activities of the Physical Education Department are indicated by the following tabulated statement:

An assistant was added in the Men's Department during the year, and quite recently a second assistant has been detailed from the nursing service. The Women's Department, during the summer months, had the advantage of the services of two students from the Teachers' College at Columbia University, and of a former patient who was especially helpful with the patients who went swimming at Rye Beach.

In the Women's Department instruction was given to four nurses from the Hospital School, and to twenty-four affiliated nurses. The director of the department suggests that relations with schools of physical education be established for the purpose of offering a course in recreational treatment for the mentally ill.

The resources of the Hospital for such a course and for courses in occupational therapy are so unusual that a plan for using them to advantage might very properly be adopted. It would be necessary to select the students carefully and to limit the number. These courses would be of advantage to the Hospital, as the students would be of assistance and some, at the completion of the course or later, would accept positions in the departments which now, owing to a generally prevalent lack of knowledge and interest concerning the field which the course would supply, are extremely difficult to keep filled.

ROCKLEY COTTAGE

The Cottage at Oakland Beach was used almost entirely by parties of patients who went over for the day. There were 60 such parties, consisting in all of 386 patients. The Cottage was open from June 16th to October 1st. As the service of the Hospital has grown more active, the number of patients who are suitable to reside at Rockley Cottage has diminished. Patients who are well enough to be safely trusted usually prefer the golf links, the tennis courts, and the social life of the Hospital, and wish to visit the Cottage only for a day at a time to enjoy a dip in the salt water. The number of patients in residence was, therefore, only four. The physicians, nurses, and occupational and physical aides were encouraged to use the Cottage and bathhouse, and to remain over week ends. There were 29 individual week end visits and 19 for a single night. The amount received for board at the Cottage was $915.50, which was much less than the expense.

IMPROVEMENTS IN EQUIPMENT AND PLANT

Only one major improvement was undertaken during the year; the new dining room for the nursing force of the men's department. Work was started on this shortly before the year closed. The surgery for the women's department already referred to in the report is also a noteworthy improvement. The employees' quarters over Hall 8, men, were thoroughly renovated and improved during the year. The brick wall at the stable was extended, and a pair of substantial gates, which were made in the occupational department for men patients, were hung. A motor truck was substituted for horse drawn vehicles in the carting of coal to the Hospital. Some improvements were made at the greenhouse, and quite a number of trees in various parts of the grounds were cut down or transplanted to relieve congestion.

NEEDS OF THE HOSPITAL

Most of the needs of the Hospital which are occasioned by the unceasing wear and tear and deterioration of the plant and equipment come within the range of ordinary maintenance expenditures and are attended to promptly as they are recognized. Those which require special funds are, as occasion arises, brought to the attention of your Board by the Bloomingdale Committee. It seems unnecessary, therefore, to discuss in the Annual Report any except needs of unusual magnitude and importance, and especially those which offer to any who may become interested, opportunities for the application of gifts in a way that would distinctly advance the work of the Hospital as an agency for the study and treatment of nervous and mental disorders.

The quality of the work of the Hospital is so largely determined by the character and qualifications of those who engage in it that our best attention and efforts are given to maintaining the standards of personal service. Much has been accomplished in this direction by the development of the School of Nursing, and the value to the work of means of advancing the interests of the School and of the nursing service can scarcely be exaggerated. The public is so poorly informed concerning hospitals for mental disorders that candidates for nurse training do not look to them, as readily as to hospitals of other types. It is well known, also, that at the present time, even long established high grade general hospitals and nurse schools are finding it necessary to advance the standards of their courses and the conditions of work and living in order to maintain their nursing services and the number and quality of candidates for training. What seems to be most needed at this Hospital is a Nurses' Home which would furnish more extensive and adequate quarters and a social, educational, and recreational center for the nursing and other departments which furnish personal service in the treatment of the patients. This subject has been discussed in previous reports, and the advantages that a Nurses' Home would provide are, I am sure, well understood. The need is clearly recognized and becomes more plainly felt as the activity of the service of the Hospital and the elaboration of the departments advance. It was formerly estimated that the cost of a suitable Nurses' Home would be about $200,000. It seems likely, however, that the amount now required would probably be $300,000.

A more adequate gymnasium and recreation building for the men patients has long been desired and it was hoped that this would be provided during the coming year. It was found, however, that the cost of construction had made such an extraordinary advance that the former estimate was scarcely half of what is now required. The present building is used to great advantage, but does not furnish the room or variety of activities which the present use of active games and exercises in the treatment of patients requires. Besides, the building is so rapidly deteriorating that it cannot be used much longer without great expense for repairs and renewals. A suitable new building and equipment would cost not less than $150,000.

In another part of the report it is recommended that cottages be erected for the married physicians. Such cottages would add greatly to the value of the medical positions, and to the resources of the Hospital in maintaining a high grade medical service. They would also permit of the release of the quarters now used by the physicians so that they could become available for other purposes for which they could be used to advantage.

The needs of the community and of humanity to the service of which the Hospital is dedicated are not new nor recently discovered. Never before, however, has the public been so conscious of them, so well informed concerning the disorders which gives rise to them, nor so inclined to seek means of dealing intelligently with them. A growing demand for earlier recognition and treatment of mental disorders and for preventive measures is plainly manifested. It is recognized that the provision of the past is no longer adequate for meeting the requirements as now understood. New developments on advanced lines are contemplated by the State, the City, and private philanthropy. Advancement in the field of psychiatry is clearly the trend of the times and is likely to receive liberal support. By virtue of its long service in the field, its leading position, and its resources, the New York Hospital will be looked to for the broader and fuller service for which the need is felt. In anticipation of this, a development in the City such as has been suggested in previous reports as well as the further elaboration of the work and plant at White Plains would seem to be especially desirable.

FINANCIAL

The cost of maintenance of the Hospital and of the care and treatment of the patients for the year 1919 was $541,163.25. The total number of patients treated was 622, and the number of weeks board and treatment furnished was 15,805. The average weekly per capita cost was $34.46. This expenditure includes the cost of maintaining the property at White Plains and Oakland Beach, the salaries and wages, supplies, ordinary repairs, and renewals, and all ordinary running expenses. It does not include capital charges and amounts spent for extraordinary renewals and improvements for which special appropriations were made.

Notwithstanding the unprecedented advance in the cost of conducting the Hospital, which has been the source of considerable difficulty and anxiety, the standard of service has, we believe, been fully maintained. While it has been found necessary to charge a higher reimbursing rate to those who were able to pay, no case which came within the scope of the work of the Hospital has been refused admission solely on financial grounds. Of the total number treated, 244 paid rates which were less than the average cost of maintenance of which 46 were treated free. In 40 per cent of the patients treated, therefore, the expense was borne wholly or in part by the Society at an estimated cost of $130,450.19, which is equivalent to the support of 73 free beds.

The increasing annual expenditures of the Hospital which during the past five years have advanced nearly 75 per cent, are due, not only to the general advance in prices and wages, but also to a steady development of resources which add to the value of the Hospital as an agency for the study and treatment of patients who may be restored to health and usefulness. Many persons who have been patients at the Hospital are now happily fulfilling their obligations to Society and engaged in useful occupations and several served with credit with the military and naval forces during the war. Judged by economic standards alone, it does not require a great many such restorations to repay the cost of conducting the Hospital, and the contribution to human happiness and relief from misery cannot be stated in precise terms.

In the further development of the work in the direction of broader and greater usefulness, it would be of great advantage if special funds could be provided not only for improvements but as a source of steady income. It is felt that the most appropriate application of the rates received from patients is in promoting the welfare and care of those immediately under treatment. In order to engage in research, for which the Hospital possesses unusual advantages; to utilize the opportunities for teaching and developing much needed trained workers in psychiatry; and to introduce and support new or special methods of treatment for demonstration purposes as well as for the benefit of the patients under treatment, special funds in the form of endowments or otherwise are needed and would permit of a distinct advance in the usefulness of the Hospital.

The income of the John C. Green Memorial Fund, amounting to $8,760.47 was, in accordance with the terms of the Memorial, applied to the support of twelve patients.

GENERAL

The Annual Inspection of the Hospital by the Board of Governors was made on May 21st.

The number of visitors to patients during the year was 10,691.

The Rev. Charles Gilbert was appointed Chaplain to the Hospital on February 1st.

The number of volumes added to the library during the year was 380, of which 100 were presented by Mr. Edward W. Sheldon, and 75 by others. The distribution from the Central Library consisted of 7,800 volumes, of which 6,076 were issued to patients and 1,724 to employees. The total number of volumes in the General Library is now 3,494 and in the Medical Library 1,115.

We are indebted to a number of kind friends for musical and other entertainments during the year, and for gifts to the Nurses' Club and to the Hospital. We are especially indebted to Miss Geanie Gallop Mottet and Miss Irene Weir for the loan of paintings for the patients' halls.

The gift of $50,000.00 which was made to the Hospital during the year by Mr. Frank K. Sturgis will permit of the erection of a new building for the women's ocupational department, the need of which has been greatly felt. This generous gift is most encouraging.

The following changes took place in the medical staff during the year:

Dr. Karl M. Bowman, after an absence on army duty from September 1st, 1917, resumed his duties at the Hospital on June 12th, 1919.

Dr. M. Louise Tower resigned from the Staff on October 16th.

Dr. Joseph P. Eidson was appointed Assistant Physician on November 4th.

Dr. Harry M. Pfeiffer was appointed Medical Interne on October 27th.

It seems fitting to place upon the record of the year the death, on September 25th, of Dr. August Hoch, one of America's leading psychiatrists, who, from July, 1905, to June, 1910, was First Assistant Physician and a much beloved and extremely valuable member of the Hospital Staff.

I have again to acknowledge the extent to which the success of the work is due to the splendid service rendered by the physicians, nurses, executives, heads of departments and the employees generally.

To the Bloomingdale Committee and your Honorable Board I again express my appreciation of continued support and guidance in what would otherwise be an impossible task.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM L. RUSSELL,

Medical Superintendent.

During the year 6 entered as probationers, 4 were accepted into the School and 2 resigned.

The New York Hospital affiliating nurses have been a most acceptable acquisition to the Nursing Staff. As complete a course of instruction is given them on the nature and care of mental diseases as it is possible to put into three months. The first group was received on January 20th.

We have been able to increase the number of graduate nurses in the service and they give valuable assistance in training the pupil nurses and contribute a great deal toward maintaining the proper standard of care of the patients.

The discipline in the school has been good. There has been no occasion to dismiss any member of the nursing service. A co-operation has been fostered which works out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

It has been possible to shorten the hours of duty this year. The pupils have three hours off duty daily and one day out of seven. Classes and lectures are arranged during the day. These average six hours a week so the number of hours on nursing duty is practically 42 for the day nurses. Night nurses have also been placed on a similar schedule.

There has been less sickness this year than usual.

The graduation exercises were held on May 21st. Ten graduates received diplomas. The graduates of the last class have all gone out into various positions except two, Miss C. R. Ross, and M. M. Stevens, who are acting in the capacity of supervising nurses.

A number of gifts have been made to the nursing force during the year by friends of the Hospital. These have been used for the nurses' pleasure.

During the absence of the Directress of Nurses for a year in army service, the School was, with great success, carried through the difficult period of the war by the Assistant Directress, Miss Hearn, with the assistance of the Instructor, Miss Trefry.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT
CAMPBELL CONVALESCENT COTTAGES
WHITE PLAINS NEW YORK

To the Board of Governors:

GENTLEMEN:—The past year was one of activity and success. The Cottages are always fully occupied, excepting during occasional brief periods of quarantine of which we had fewer than ever during 1919.

We were able to care for 942 children whose cases differed in degree and rapidity of improvement—some having been almost phenomenal. It has been our experience that certain classes of cases are especially helped by our natural surroundings and the particular attention and nursing given. Our greatest success has been among children suffering from chorea, cardiac trouble of moderate type, wounds following surgical operations and bone diseases—the last mentioned having responded remarkably well to local exposure to the sun and air.

This statement does not suggest specialization, as we have assisted in many very gratifying recoveries from other illnesses, but certain groups of children have stood out prominently in our records.

The increased cost of living is keenly felt by institutions whose efficiency cannot afford to be impaired, and notwithstanding our effort to economize, the high charge demanded for even the most necessary purchases and supplies—to say nothing of wage scale—does not promise relief. Meanwhile, nothing is being purchased not necessary to the well-being of the children or the general upkeep of the Cottages, although expenditures and wages are of necessity, in advance of former rates. The problem of securing a sufficient and efficient corps of workers has been acute, and hardly more so than that of being able to retain those new recruits who do come; so that, for the past two or three years, an added burden has been laid upon the general staff—particularly during the very trying period of influenza, when energy and health were tested to the utmost, in order that the quality of our service might not be impaired.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

The usual amount of necessary painting and repairing was done, and the Cottages are in good condition.

Our water system has never been adequate to our needs, and the low pressure resulted in many daily inconveniences—always at the busiest hours. A new and larger main has been laid which will relieve the situation and is proving quite satisfactory.

The most important event in this year's experience was the generous gift by the late Mr. A. D. Juilliard, through Mr. Howard Townsend, of $10,000.00, which has enabled us to realize one more of our dreams—a new wing to the Cottages. Only those actually engaged in the care of the younger children can fully realize the broadening of our facilities made possible by this generous gift.

In order that the babies and very young children might receive the required amount of sunshine and fresh air, it was necessary to carry them up and down two flights of stairs, and quite a long distance to and from the pavilion, several times a day. Naturally, this proved too great a strain on the persons who were obliged to carry so many young burdens, and the difficulty and objections steadily increased until the problem was happily solved by this donation which has resulted in a babies' roof, adjoining their dormitory, additional rooms for semi-isolation upstairs (thereby increasing our capacity from 75 to 80 beds) and a most important addition on the main floor.

The younger children's Cottage has never enjoyed the possession of a recreation-room, and the small school-room, which was used for that purpose, was inadequate for even school purposes. Our school work has so admirably developed, and the children have received individual instruction with such marked success, that many children who had been absent from school for quite a period, successfully passed the examinations on their return to their respective schools. Many letters of appreciation have been sent to our teacher at the suggestion of the social workers, who sent the children to us. Teaching facilities in our Cottages have been quite inappropriate, but with the additional wing we have a large school-room, a pleasant recreation-room and an enclosed booth for the motion-picture machine, all of which were greatly needed and are equally appreciated.

GENERAL REMARKS

Dr. Lewis B. Chapman was engaged in active service oversea for twenty months and the medical work of the Cottages was tem porarily assumed by Dr. Edward W. Weber, of White Plains.

Christmas was celebrated in the new recreation-room under the most enjoyable circumstances within our recollection, and much of the day's happiness was due to the kind remembrances of many friends.

We are glad to state that the fund for picture films has been renewed for the coming year—a gift which we gratefully acknowledge.

I appreciate the opportunity of thanking the Board of Governors and the Bloomingdale Committee for their interest and counsel which cannot fail to be a source of encouragement to me and the staff in our very interesting work.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE C. ELLISON,

LEGACIES TO THE HOSPITAL

The Hospital has been greatly aided by this form of generosity. No precise words are necessary to a valid legacy to the corporation. The following clause, however, may be suggested:

"I give to THE SOCIETY OF THE NEW YORK HOSPITAL the sum of.....dollars."

If land or any specific personal property such as bonds, stocks, &c., is given, a brief description of the property should be inserted instead of the words "the sum of.....dollars."
